Vol. XXIV - No. 7

222

NEW YORK, N. Y., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1960

Hit Jim Crow At Lunch Bars

Negro Students Give Free Lesson To Kress and Woolworth Dime Stores

By Alex Harte

FEB. 7 — A lunch-counter anti-discrimination sit-down action by Negro college and high-school students in Greensboro, N.C., yesterday forced the downtown F. W. Woolworth and S. H. Kress stores to close up. A number of white students | American flags and whites wavsupported the protest which was ing Confederate flags. In the directed against refusal of the afternoon, the management said stores to serve Negroes at the a telephone call had been relunch counters.

two stores said they would re- Kress store which then also open tomorrow but that the closed. lunch counters would remain closed temporarily.

it to close almost immediately its segregated stand-up snack and Dudley high school. bar for Negroes. The students sat at the "whites only" counter, chatting quietly, studying and reading newspapers. About 60 students were involved.

A group of white teen-agers and some adults identified as members of the Ku Klux Klan tried to counter the action by also occupying seats and then giving them up to white patrons. Four of the white youths had hunting knives strapped to their

When the protest action opened, a spokesman for the Negro youth declared: "If they can sell us merchandise from other counters, we say they should serve us at the lunch

Store manager S. L. Harris commented: "They can just sit Brooklyn, Jan. 17. It tore a hole there. It's nothing to me."

the Woolworth store were jam- it had fallen back into the ents. med with Negroes carrying room.

ceived that a bomb had been Today it was reported that the planted in the basement. They students have called a two-week | closed down the store. The Nearmistice and spokesmen for the gro demonstrators moved to the

The action was initiated by students from North Carolina The action was begun at the Agricultural and Technical Col-Woolworth store Feb. 2, forcing lege. They were then joined by students from Bennett College

> On the third day it was reported that white students were supporting the sitdown.

Greensboro NAACP president Dr. George A. Simkins said that while his organization had no prior knowledge of the action, it was 100% behind it and would provide the students legal aid if needed.

A similar lunch-counter action in 1958 by Negro youth in Oklahoma City, Okla., succeeded in breaking through the Jim Crow barrier in a number of stores there.

They Don't Go Very Far

The Army conducted a frantic search for a rocket that went off accidentally at Fort Hamilton, in the roof and vanished. The But yesterday the aisles of missile was eventually found -

__ Too Many Babies? __

The Enemy Invades American Politics

By Joseph Hansen -

A prodigious amount of thought has been expended on the problem of how best to outfox our latest enemy; quence of the cruel tortures apnamely, the infant humans moving in on us. The problem | plied in the Victorian prison. In is thorny, as we have seen, for if the present rate of birth keeps up and nothing happens to increase the rate of death, the prisoners are kept half naked babies will eventually devour all our resources - if the or completely naked. They sleep experts are right.

It is debatable whether the quality of thought devoted to this problem is in proportion to the quantitative level. However, before we consider some of the representative contributions, we should perhaps note that although the perplexing riddle was stumbled upon some time ago, it when he left. He heard reports did not acquire great public urgency, at least in the United that Spanish legionnaires, mer-States, until quite recently; in fact, not until 1959 when the cenaries recruited by Trujillo in race for the White House began to warm up.

Then it took a form somewhat novel in American politics. Each presidential candidate in the news was abruptly required to state publicly what he thought about the government fostering public enlightenment on contraceptives and the granting of money from the U.S. Treasury to help the rest of the world use them.

A presidential committee headed by Major General William Draper, which had been set up to study U. S. foreign aid, suggested in July 1959 that the government should assist poor countries in programs to cut down their birth rate. The use of public funds for such purposes was denounced by the Roman Catholic Bishops. Since one of the prominent presidential aspirants of the Democratic party, John F. Kennedy, happens to be a Catholic he was compelled to state his views. He did this with adroit equivocation, as did the other leading candidates.

In this way the problem of what to do about preventing the population from spilling off our planet a thousand years from now became mixed with an issue of quite different character - the fundamental human right of everyone to scientific information about birth control and medical assistance in its practice.

The distinction between the two issues, however, was obscured in the furor that hit the press, and some curious mixtures of reactionary nonsense and sage advice made ican Activities Committee sesheadlines.

For instance, Pope John XXIII condemned the "erroneous doctrines and the pernicious and death-dealing the Un-American Activities committee. "End Brain Washmethods" of birth control. In the same breath he maintain- Committee, the demonstrators ed that the right solution to the problem of hunger hunger for food, not sex — is a "better distribution of earthly goods." This, he said, could be accomplished by putting the wealth that is produced at everyone's disposal.

The Pope's conclusion about hunger follows with admirable precision from his premises. To place society's cause they had committed the wealth at the disposal of everyone would certainly signify "crime" of participating in one a better distribution of goods. Unfortunately God's vicar or another of the World Youth did not indicate by what means other than socialism this Festivals held in the past few highly desirable goal might be achieved on earth. Certainly years. it would seem to take more than failure to practice birth buses in front of the capitol

(Continued on Page 2)

"Down with Dictator Trujillo"

More than 200 men, women and children, exiles from the Dominican Republic, demonstrated in front of the Dominican Consulate in New York Feb. 6. They denounced U.S. support of the murderous dictatorship of Trujillo. After the demonstration they marched to the front of the United Nations where they heard a brief address by Pablo Hugo Espaillat of the Dominican Revolutionary Union. He hailed the demonstration as the first fruit of the united front recently achieved by six of the seven Dominican exile groups here.

If He Smiles, Victims?

In a "friendly, back-slapping mood," Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo told New York Times correspondent Edward C. Burks Feb. 8' that he intends 'later" to reduce the thirty-year sentences he has imposed on his latest victims.

But Trujillo's "mood" in private is somewhat different from the mood he displays for the benefit of foreign correspond-

"Fingernails are yanked out, electric torture machines are applied to different parts of the body until a person either loses consciousness or dies."

That is the report of Pierre Daniel, a French tourist, who has just left the Dominican Republic and who is still shaking from the horrors that he saw or heard of. His account is quoted in the Feb. 8 Revolucion, official

"Many of the political prison ers are already dead as a conse-Victoria, situated on the outskirts of the Dominican capital in cells without beds or blankets and with scarcely any sanitary facilities. Their only food is water or flour and water."

Fighting in the island was still going on, according to Daniel Spain for use against his own countrymen, had rebelled and "fled to the mountains."

According to Burks, the current wave of arrests, involving anywhere between 1,500 and 5,000 victims, followed an "uprising" against the dictator of "middle-class professional and business groups formerly allied with him.

Soviet Population

The population of the Soviet Union increased by 3,660,000 in 1959. A census last year put the population at 208,826,000

200 youth from New York,

ceeded in forcing a hasty ad-

Organized by the newly cre-

line in front of the White House to register their protest against the action of the witch-hunting body in calling

up five youths for grilling be-

As the protesters got off the building they were greeted by sion here today.

journment of a House Un-Amer- rather obvious.

Un-American Probers

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 3 | uniformed police from three

Philadelphia and Baltimore suc- ment police. The presence of conducted a two-hour picket Witch-Hunting - Not Free-

On Tour

Editor:

Who Can Hear The Kind of Politics That Doesn't Pay Off

Los Angeles, Calif.

David J. McDonald of the steel union has been vacationing a few miles south of here at Palm Springs, a swank watering place for the wellto-do. The other day General Eisenhower, also taking his ease in the same town, invited McDonald over to the golf links for a "social break-

What Eisenhower had in mind, apart from an obvious intent to woo union support for the Republicans, was not disclosed; but a clue may be found in a recent public statement by Vice-President Nixon.

The general probably talked with the union leader along the lines of Nixon's assertion that"there could be nothing irresponsible than to place before Congress in an election year the complicated and potentially explosive issue of labor-management relations.'

This double talk urges the bosses not to put their political agents on the spot as open enemies of labor until they have got themselves re-elected; for workers it seeks to create the illusion of a promise there will be no further antilabor legislation.

In addition Eisenhower no doubt appealed to McDonald's labor statesmanship in terms of Nixon's oily request to "explore every possible means of increasing productivity, reducing costs and improving relations between union and management during the period of this [steel] contract.' What a trap such labor statesmanship entails for the union is shown by a corporation directive to foremen circulated in the steel industry

"Union strength now poses an ominous challenge," the foremen are told. "The only logical answer to the pressure

tan, Capitol and Park Depart-

plain-clothes cops was also established and passers-by were greeted with placards demanding the abolition of the House

ing," declared one. "Abolish

As previously planned, the picket line was ended so that the participants could attend the scheduled afternoon hearing of

(See picture page 4.)

in session but two hours.

dom," read another.

The picket line was quickly

buildup is increased management resistance — a stronger labor relations posture."

With the battle cry "No concessions are minor," the corporation prepares for continved struggle against any union effort to better the situation of the steel workers.

Stubborn refusal to make new concessions to the union becomes the point of departure for a persistent attempt to whittle away past union gains. "Any company bent on improving its operations," the directive says, "will, on oc-casion, find its actions at variance with the [union] con-have labor trouble in their ervisors should extend making it clear to them that grievance activity within their work groups is no indication in itself that morale is poor or that the supervisor is failing to perform his job properly."

Grievances, the directive adds, "may indicate that he is directing his people in the positive fashion required for efficient production."

There you have it: ceaseless war against the unions in industry; meanwhile the workers are again to be lured into voting for political agents of the bosses who will use the government to deal some more hard blows against labor.

The Democrats are a part of this conspiracy along with the Republicans. So few Democrats voted against the Kennedy-Landrum-Griffin law that the AFL-CIO heads can't use outright opposition to the law as a test in searching for "friends of labor" in that boss party.

And let it be remembered that it was a Democratic governor who double-crossed the (Continued on Page 4)

It's Just a Hole Duck 200 Youth Pickets In AEC's Head

One of the arguments used by - A demonstration of nearly different forces — the Metropoli- U.S. officials to avoid a nuclear test-ban agreement with the Soviet Union is that underground could not in good conscience explosions cannot be detected. To bolster this claim, the Atomic Energy Commission exploded ing to labor. In other words, we some dynamite in a Louisiana salt mine. No one detected it.

However, testimony before a small 70 kiloton bomb a hole feet below the surface.

the House Committee. But faced with the prospect of 200 hostile require two to four years to dig ed unanimously.' faces in the audience, committee chairman Walter adjourned the day's hearing which had been

'We'll Be Back Again,' Say Algerian Fascists

Macmillan Picketed on African Trip

THE MILITARI

When British Prime Minister Macmillan arrived in Lusaka, in his own party. Northern Rhodesia, during his of women members of the African National Congress met him a fascist regime on France. at the airport with placards incribed "one man, one vote."

Their demand for universal dult suffrage (including the vote for women) was directed their war cry during the rebelagainst white-settler control of lion. the Central African Federation. The federation links Southern Rhodesia, Northern Rhodesia numbers 6,630,000 Africans and Yet of thirty-five members of the legislature only six are Africans, and these are virtually hand picked.

When Macmillan came to Blantyre, Nyasaland, an African demonstration demanded that he immediately release Dr. Hastings K. Banda, an imprisoned nationalist leader.

Blantyre cops handled the demonstrators with particular brutality. They caned, kneed, rabbit-punched and brought their heavy boots down on the Africans' bare feet — while uncheon nearby.

striking of all the impressions strength of African national con- a picnic." ciousness."

He warned the arch-racists through this continent.'

De Gaulle Wields Dictatorial Powers To Discipline Rebellious Followers

By Daniel Roberts

Armed with dictatorial powers, President de Gaulle has taken a number of steps to discipline the fascist elements in Algeria, within the army and among politicians

These forces helped him assume power in May 1958 recently concluded tour of Bri- but threatened to overturn his regime last month. In fact, tain's African holdings, hundreds they have vowed to try again to dislodge him and to impose

> As Lagaillarde and his supporters quit the barricades in Algiers on Feb. 1 crowds of colons shouted "L'Algerie Francaise" — "Algeria is French" —

"The atmosphere [in Algiers] was bitter, one of defiance and anger, as groups of young peoand Nyasaland. Its population ple taunted the parachutists with 'letting us down,'" 220,000 white European settlers. Joan Thiriet in the Feb. 3 Christian Science Monitor. Many observers are convinced that the Jan. 24 rebellion in Algiers will be repeated. Thus Joseph Barry writes in the Feb. 2 New York Post that so long as the Algerian war lasts "it will give fascist plotters fire to play with. Even if, as they must, Lagaillarde and Ortiz are sentenced as criminals, there are others to take their place the next time de Gaulle seems near peace negotiations with the FLN."

B. J. Cutler writing in the Macmillan was attending a civic Feb. 7 New York Herald Tribune says, "A new crisis may de-Addressing the South African velop when, and if, Gen. de Parliament in Capetown on Feb. Gaulle makes public his plan B, Macmillan said: "The most [for Algeria]. The settlers, who mean to preserve today's Algeria have formed since I left Lon- and their dominant position in broken off between the two don a month ago is of the it, could make Jan. 24 look like countries under Batista's govern-

(Continued on Page 4)

Cubans Greet

Visitors from

Soviet Union

Cuban leaders gave Anastas Mikoyan, Soviet vice-premier and director of foreign trade, a warm welcome as he arrived in Havana Feb. 5 to open the Soviet Exhibition of Science, Technology and Culture, the same one that was displayed in New York and Mexico City. Premier Fidel Castro greeted Mikoyan at the airport, and Castro and President Osvaldo Dorticos took part in the opening ceremonies of the exhibit. Revolucion used its entire Monday magazine supplement to tell about Soviet achievements.

As an offering of good will to the Cuban people, the Soviet government timed a cabled order for 345,000 tons of sugar to coincide with Mikoyan's arrival.

Diplomatic relations were ment. The fair, Mikoyan's visit Many journalists and diplo- and the Cuban officials' warm mats in Paris, wrote Philip Gey- welcome are seen as steps who rule South Africa: "The elin in the Feb. 8 Wall Street toward resumption of normal wind of change is blowing Journal, believe that "the riots diplomatic ties between Cuba and the Soviet Union.

Foremen are assured that it is not a knock against them to Meany Alters His Story Albert Lea have labor trouble in their department: "Support of sup- On Landrum Killer Rill Caravan Set VII Laiiui uiii Aiiiti ent AFL-CIO Washington legislative conference, that union obbyists had been instructed to inform "labor friends" in Con- AFL-CIO convention as a "sup gress there would be no reprisals if they voted for the Kennedy-Landrum-Griffin bill.

By Tom Kerry

hat the AFL-CIO Executive vention — too late to be includ-Council had sanctioned the vote for K-L-G came as a result of nothing in the supplemental rethe controversy in top union circles over what test to apply to "labor friends" in Congress.

Some union leaders contended recent legislative conference. hat the only true test was the vote on the final passage of the compromise bill. The Meany-Reuther supporters insisted that the test be on the votes cast in the preliminary stages of maneuvering the bill through Con-

Meany and Reuther argue that by the time the bill emerged from a Senate-House conference committee in the final form of he Kennedy-Landrum-Griffin measure, labor had one of two choices: To accept the compronise "killer" bill, or (2) to reject the conference bill and face the danger of Congressional enactnent of the original Landrum Griffin measure.

"Under these circumstances, says Meany, "our legislative representatives informed the members of Congress that labor urge its friends to vote against the conference report, even though we considered it damaghad to accept the lesser of the

If this is a true account of what occurred, why did Meany Senate subcommittee indicated wait five months to reveal it? that to successfully muffle a Aware of this damaging time lag Meany hastened to add: would be needed 600 feet in "What I have just told you is diameter placed about 3,000 exactly in accord with the report which the AFL-CIO con-It is estimated that it would vention in San Francisco adopt-presents them and that his posi- others.

After months of mealy-mouth- | tion was contained in the report ed twisting, top labor statesman adopted unanimously last Sep-George Meany informed the re- tember by the AFL-CIO convention. Both are false!

The report to which Meany refers was submitted to the plemental" report of the Executive Council. The Kennedy-Landrum-Griffin law had been Meany's startling admission enacted just prior to the coned in the regular report. There is port even remotely resembling the confession of collusion made by Meany in his speech to the

On the contrary: the report indicts the conference bill in the most uncompromising terms The convention resolution, implementing the Executive Council report, goes even farther. It president George Meany calling flays those who voted for the on the nationwide union movebill in terms which admit of no ment to rally behind the strikers

"We think they were cravenly subservient to the employer lobby, and we mince no words in saying so." It then (Continued on Page 4)

FEB. 9 - The Minnesota AFL-

CIO has announced that on Feb. 13 a mass "solidarity caravan" of 3,000 cars will converge from all parts of the state on the town of Albert Lea. The demonstration will be in support to the 1,100 striking members of the United Packinghouse Workers at the Wilson packing plant there. Along with five locals at other Wilson plants, the union has been on strike at Albert Lea since Oct. 30.

The company has been running a claimed 750 scabs into the

The 3,000 cars scheduled to roll into the beleaguered camp will carry canned goods for the strikers and their families. Upon their arrival a giant parade through the town is planned.

The action is in line with the Feb. 1 declaration of AFL-CIO with financial aid and a boycott of Wilson products.

In a letter to all officers of AFL-CIO unions, Meany said, "This is the fight of the entire I trade union movement."

First Amendment Victim In Boston Goes to Prison

FEB. 8 — Paul Rosenkrantz | 43, the fourth First Amendment defendant to be imprisoned in recent months, surrendered this morning to the United States Marshall in Boston to begin serving a three-month sentence for contempt of Congress. He had refused to answer questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee at hearings in Boston, March 20, 1958.

A graduate psychology student and former industrial worker, Rosenkrantz was sentenced to jail Feb. 3 after he had pleaded "nolo contendere" (no contest).

In his appearance before the such a hole. Some 25,000,000 Meany rests his case on two House committee, he had acktons of hard rock would have propositions: (1) That labor had nowledged former membership to be excavated. For compari- no choice but the "lesser of two in the Communist party but re-

His no-contest plea to the conempt charge represented a decision not to pursue the lengthy and expensive course of appeal up to the Supreme Court which n the past year has upheld convictions similar to the one Rosenkrantz faces. Speaking of the other thirty-wo cases of individuals who have been cited or convicted of contempt, Rosenkrantz said yesterday at his home in Springfield: "Even though I did not choose to fight this case further in the courts, I am grateful that other cases will be carried to the Supreme Court in a continuing effort to restore the rights of the First Amendment in such cases.'

The Committee of First Amendment Defendants is carson, it took 21,000 men last year evils," and (2) that everyone was fused to answer any questions rying through a series of such to dig 19,500,000 tons of anthra- aware of the facts as he now that would lead to informing on court tests and is campaigning for public support in the fight.

challenge from the extreme

He has not thereby become one whit more "democratic";

whatever its reservations or

criticisms — remains the regime

of big capital. De Gaulle not and the republic he has saved -

The Strange Silence About Trujillo's Jails

Boycott Voted For

and a well-known leader of ex-

led Dominican trade unionists.

On adoption by the more than 300 delegates, representing 57,- )00,000 workers in some 100

countries, the convention asked

he Secretary General of the federation to consult with member

The Dominican resistance

movement urgently needs international aid to offset the support which the Generalissi-

government a loan of $10,500,000

o help the dictator meet imme-

mo is receiving from abroad.

workers and peasants.

products and services.

earry it out.

... Too Many Babies?

(Continued from Page 1)

emigrated from Europe to America. "Today, however . .

"Even if we find the means to support a population of

So we come to a position lurking in much of the argu-

ten or twenty billions on this planet, do we want such a world? I believe that the best spiritual development of mankind requires open space, access to wild nature, and other back to the Indians and all go back to where we came from.

indicate how deeply the question has stirred public interest.

task to decide who may propagate and who may not propagate? Birth control on a communal scale is anti-Godly. . . .

of human survival, then they should be shouting for salvation

"By what right does this generation take upon itself the

"If these people are sincerely concerned with the problem

"The church's attitude toward the uses of sex in mar-

There are enough problems in marriage without having

Bishop James A. Pike, the Protestant Episcopal Bishop

The challenge, made over a nationwide TV broadcast

"The Population Explosion," was accepted the very next day by a spokesman of the National Institute of Health, a

this one." In his opinion, the requirement in the rhythm method for periodic continence deprives marriage of one of

of California, took a more open-minded, if somewhat prag-

riage is an appalling Procrustean bed which reminds me of Orwell's 1984 with its state-approved 'goodsex' and state-

The Rev. Dr. Zev Zahavy, an Orthodox rabbi, said:

from the effects of atomic radiation and fall-out."

punished 'badsex.'

rhythm method of birth control.

of prime public importance.

plained:

precious things that go with a relatively uncrowded world."

can Republic (which isn't a re- America threatens to wash away public but General Trujillo's his torture-chamber regime. All personal concentration camp), in the more reason then for workthe past few weeks has brought ers throughout the world to mid-January.

According to one source, more than 5,000 persons were arrested. All strata of the population have been affected, including top government officials who had been appointed by the dictator. The total number now in jails and prison camps or undergoing torture cannot be determined as

In the U.S. little news of this has appeared in the big-business dominated press. The Dominican censorship is slim excuse for this silence, for Trujillo's own paper has leaked some information about it; and the State Department, which supports the dictator, has its eyes and ears.

News about the terror, the torture, the concentration camps the mass arrests, the purge are squeezed out of the U.S. press because of the need to shout about "communism" in Cuba namely, the Cuban recovery of property held by absentee American capitalists and landholders The noisy campaign against Castro helps drown the screams of Trujillo's victims.

Perhaps the Caribbean butcher's present fears are well a drop in the prices of sugar, abundance.

years from now?

welcome this hideous solution."

erations might be better off unborn:

Every traveler reaching the founded and the revolutionary coffee and cocoa and heavy exoutside world from the Domini- tide rising throughout Latin penses he has incurred in an armaments program.

Trujillo has boasted in past years of freeing the government from debt. However, a recession accounts of a massive purge in come to the aid of the Dominican last year coincided with an expenditure of $50,000,000 for weapons, which the Generalissimo feels he needs to offset the and in Algiers. influence of the Cuban revolu-A step in this direction was taken last December when the tion on the Dominican people.

Sixth World Convention of the Trujillo stepped up land dis-International Federation of Free ribution and lowered rents. He Trade Unions voted to organize also created a foreign legion which opened a secret recruiting that the army would throw in a boycott against Dominican office in Madrid and which is The resolution was submitted seeking mercenaries from Gerby Nicolas Silfa, president of the many, Austria and Greece. Dominican Revolutionary party Spanish recruits have been shipped to Santo Domingo as agricultural workers."

Added armaments are a heavy burden; but Trujillo has no intention of tapping his private hoard of some $500,000,-000 to put the Dominican treasury in better shape.

organizations on how best to His application for a loan was urned down by the Royal Bank of Canada, the Bank of Nova Scotia and various European banks. But Wall Street decided it would be useful to further build up Trujillo as a counter-Last December the World revolutionary center against Bank, an instrument of Wall 3treet, granted the Dominican

Goods Undelivered

Rafael L. Trujillo Molina, liate financial difficulties due to however is not the most dependable, dictator in Wall Street's stable. Once he got his oan, the anti-Castro campaign he had been waging became less important to him. He made anti-Castro Cuban exile groups understand that he was displeased control, no matter how consistent, to win an economy of with the way they had spent his money without results. Sharp answers to the Roman Catholic position ap-

'In mid-January, coincident with the sweeping purge, the peared with commendable promptness. A typical one was government radio station "La made by John T. Edsall, Professor of Biological Chemistry Voz Dominicana" suspended its at Harvard University. He sought to pin the pious Bishops anti-Castro propaganda, which down to the real issue; that is, what do we do a thousand had included instigation to murder, and began praising Dr. Fidel Castro as a "great leader," and In a letter to the editor of the New York Times he pointing out the merits of Cuba's argued that emigration to less crowded areas is out. This and reform program.

had been suggested by the Vatican's American spokesmen. Trujillo's secretary Otto Vega In 150 years, Edsall pointed out, some sixty million people had a talk with Cuban general Jose Pedraza, a foe of the Castro the population is increasing by some fifty million each regime. Pedraza, whom Trujillo apparently had wished to sucyear. . ." If emigration is impractical and you exclude birth ceed Castro after a victory of the control, how can you keep the population down? "A general counter-revolution in Cuba, was nuclear war might put a quick end to this and other human given Trujillo's "new line." The problems," he observed gloomily, "but no sane man would "Chief" complained that $30,000 he had put at the disposal of The specialist in biological chemistry lamented that anti-Castro Cubans in the U.S. medical programs which lower the death rate "actually serve to increase the sum total of human misery. ." If "respects the principle of nonyou sought to argue to the contrary, Edsall would still intervention"; there will be no resist being persuaded. Despite abundant food, future gen- invasion of Cuban territory; and Pedraza will not head any invasion force. Is this just a momentary ruse? | most powerful was made by Mrs. s Trujillo actually trying to ex- Jewell R. Mazique, who is active in the Elks Civil Liberties plore the possibility of coming to terms with Castro as a means of offsetting the influence of the following is a condensed text of Cuban revolution in the Domini- her remarks: can Republic? Is that why he is mentation over population: It might be best in the long now claiming that the ideas inrun to return the plains to the buffalo, give Manhattan spiring the Cuban revolution are the same as those that have inspired his regime for the past Here are some other typical declarations that serve to thirty years?

Is It Blackmail?

Or is he seeking to blackmail the U.S. into granting the Dominican Republic a larger sugar import quota at the expense of Cuba? It is significant that Dr. L. F. Thomen, Dominican ambassador to the United Nations, William Esty, an avowed atheist and former research demanded in a recent address in director of the Planned Parenthood Association of America, New York that the U.S. raise the Dominican sugar quota. responded to the Roman Catholic position with these words:

In any case this is not Trujillo's first "left" turn; for he has and dependent economic relanever hesitated at attempting tionship to the rest of society. In adroit maneuvers to get out of the last few years there devela tight spot or to cover up a re- oped a system of garnishment by which consumers goods, much of volting crime. But no one will This atheist view appeared to be shared, perhaps not believe that his sudden sym- it worthless, was pushed on the inconsistently, by a leading Protestant, Dean John C. Ben- pathy for the Cuban revolution helpless, unsuspecting Negroes nett of the Union Theological Seminary. He denounced the is any more sincere than his and poor whites from the South "rhythm method" of birth control. This practice was appseudo-liberalism of ten years by dishonest salesmen.

proved by Pope Pius XII since it does not involve the use ago. The Dominican economy is obof mechanical contraceptive devices. Dean Bennett com- viously not in good shape. A boycott could therefore have including the fraudulent interconsiderable effect if it were est charges, through the intertranslated into action and not cession of the courts, their left a mere resolution on paper.

wages were tied up and turned Are any unions in the United over by employers to cheating States putting it into practice? businessmen. Are they giving it adequate pubicity? Isn't it time to do something about the resolution passed matic, attitude to the question. He challenged the federal at the Sixth World Convention? government to initiate a "crash program" to perfect the Isn't it time to give a hand to the Dominican freedom fighters? of colonial days - indentured

How Much is "Huge"?

In the event of war, the averfederal agency. "If a lot of scientists think more research is age person could absorb a huge amount of radiation from a nuneeded into the rhythm method, they may get in touch clear blast without being diswith us." Applications, it was announced, will be referred abled. At least that's the hope to an advisory committee for consideration and recommen- offered by Leo Heogh, director of the federal civil-defense pro-This is enough to show us that whatever we may think gram, in the light of a recent of the "population explosion," some explosive questions Exactly how much is meant certainly seem to be associated with it. The ramifications, in by "huge" is not clear. Victims fact, involve a surprising number of issues, some of them are still dying from the radiation they absorbed at Hiroshima and Nagasaki almost 15 the Chief Judge of the District vears ago.

How the "New Left" Helped De Gaulle

Biding Their Time?

Played in 1958 By Tom Kemp

Repeat the Role

The surrender of the Algiers insurgents who for eight days manned the barricades in defiance of the government of the Fifth Republic brings to an end its sharpest crisis to date. The tension had mounted until it almost matched the near panic of May, 1958, both in France

The significant delay before De Gaulle's television broadcast calling the insurgents to order indicated that behind the scenes his ministers were divided and hesitant. The ominous threat its lot with the ultras and precipitate civil war loomed on the horizon. The fissures in French society seemed to gape wide they have been bridged temporarily by De Gaulle's still immense personal prestige and ap-

Everyone can now see, however, that the stability of the regime hangs on the life of one fired and aging man an uncrowned monarch carried to power by the forces from which he now tries to dissociate himself, and with no legitimate heir. The entire capitalist press contemplates with awe the political vacuum which the events of the past week have disclosed.

While the balance sheet of this episode in the still short these same forces rallied their an eye at the policy of the French liberals and radicals during the crisis.

In short a general rallying occurred of the official tradeunion organizations, including the Communist-inspired CGT, to the support of the Republic the Republic which had issued from a similar rebellion in May, 1958 — which, in the absence of political differentiation, meant support for De Gaulle.

When the Fourth Republic

Fund and fifteen other southern integration organizations. Attended by 1,500 people, the hearing heard testimony from ten

witnesses on how racist authori-

Among the indictments of the

Jim Crow system, one of the League of Washington, D.C. The

In spite of the Supreme Court decision, without the vote in the District of Columbia, we are again segregated and discriminated against — not by the law

exploited by the money chang-

ers, victimized by the alcohol

market, and engulfed in an imposed culture of sex pornogdelinquency. Serious-minded

Negroes of this community are beginning to wonder if we have not won the war and lost the

The most striking example of

When the poor struggling

workers found themselves unable to meet the piled up notes,

Negro loss is in our subservient

peace.

ties bar Negroes from voting.

Fascist-minded French paratroopers as they stood in review for Generals Massu and Salan in Algeria in 1958 when they installed General de Gaulle in power. Massu was removed by De Gaulle, precipitating the affempt of the "ultras" to overthrow him. But like the civilian insurgents, the paratroop leaders are held to be looking to another try.

primarily Negro, were suffering trusting Negroes and helpless out big money, denied free ac- by exploiters of our suffering.

Civil rights,

history of the Fifth Republic is biggest effort. A vast concourse tradition of Popular Frontism being struck, it is worth casting from the Radicals to the CP - in which defense of parliathronged the streets; their slodubbed it.

At this time no policy was presented which could rally the working class into action and swing behind it vacillating sections of the middle class. The great cry amounted to support for the government. defense of a system which had long exhausted its credit.

under sponsorship of the South- rise in juvenile delinquency and and radio, both in the North and

Hungry Children

vere employed Two months

the existence here of 44,000

hungry and neglected Negro

Without the franchise, with-

cess to THEIR PRESS we are helpless, and we need the added

strength for our cause here

which you, our brothers of the

Add to these disadvantages

that there exist in the Congress

have no voting power, those phony Northern liberals who masquerade as civil rights ex-ponents, claiming moral respon-

their teeth when matters as the

garnishment case, so close to

Madison Avenue and Wall

Street, come before their com-

Together, these forces with the local merchants and manufacturers have captured the Negroes' longing for freedom, denying our voices to this nation

Consequently, Negro progress toward full equality in Washington foday is stymied,

and natural leadership is paralyzed by the invasion of vested interests and the calculated,

deliberate blurring of issues

We know now, the Suprem

Court notwithstanding, that

wherever we go, whatever we

Subscribe!

by phony liberals.

in its hour of greatest peril.

mittee for attention.

South, bring us today.

from hunger, yet their families whites.

ern Conference Educational the breakdown of family life.

this time, but by custom. We are of the United States, where we raphy, false values, and general sibility for Negroes, who bare children.

This was a move in the bad understood.

The French radical sector has, under its sway, adopted piecemeal the policy of the lesser evil in every critical turn. It mentary institutions was hoist gans - defense of democracy, ed to the masthead with the tridefense of the Fourth Republic. color, while the red flag and the The funeral procession of the struggle for socialism were cast Fourth, some have unkindly into limbo. A further step along this road was taken in the latest crisis; the bankruptcy of this policy has not yet been widely appears in a crass form in the policy of Guy Mollet. It infects Working Negroes and Whites Civilization "Gone Mad"

South, is controlled by the new world aborning, cannot be

at our expense, nor guaranteed

Civil rights for extending necessary and urgent individual responsibilities must rise

out of those working Negroes

and whites who, in sweat and

tears, laid the foundation for

Yes, we want to vote in the District. We greatly desire a machinery for reflecting democratically the aspirations and needs of the majority for genuine education and against sup-

business class — the money

changers; a machinery which will serve to stabilize our family

ives and secure us from eco-

Liberation of the poor, from

he encroaching power of vested interests operating from the slave ship of yore, is but one reason why we need to make our voices heard. There is the

from a civilization gone mad,

be counted now. Our voices are urgently needed on behalf of peace and brotherhood and

gether, children of salvation.

nomic oppression.

pression by merchants and the

this noble land of ours.

which is abso-

In fact the reply came as Last week we reported the of Columbia noted that garnish- do, all that we say through the minus Bourdet's article! mock civil-rights hearing held ment was directly responsible popular communication media, in Washington, D. C., Jan. 31, for the hunger of children, the through newspaper, television

But that does not give Bourdet a clean bill of health. When the regime stands on the brink of disaster, instead of a message to Yankee dollar - dollars many the working people, this "new of which were originally earned left" sends a personal message That same year Congress was in the slave trade and piled up to the autocrat - and what a informed that 45,000 children, through exploiting defenseless, message!

tinet is more precise. There is he argues, no possibility of put ago, a general study reaffirmed lutely essential for establishing ting an alternative democratic by which De Gaulle himself brotherhood and peace, in the government in place of the De was brought to power." Gaulle regime. "This amounts extended by those who get rich to saying," he adds, with emphasis, "that all our efforts must tend to oppose a counterweight to the action of the army and the ultras and to exercise the naximum pressure on the policy of the government."

There must, he says, be no concessions to the ultras and the principle of "self-determination" | fidence for support from the must be really applied; i.e., by army brass. De Gaulle's government, since no other government is in prospaign of petitions, telegrams, meetings and partial stoppages in the heart of Algiers." They leading up to a national day of knew in advance what the attiprotest, which was not unlike tude of key officers would be. that actually carried out by the official workers' organizations. Thus the policy of the lesser evil was translated into practice. .

journal another contributor wrote "I have no doubt that General De Gaulle is big enough whole wide world to be saved to accept his responsibilities."

and we ought to stand up and det's advice: while the French "left" was hanging in the air putting on the pressure. In true Bonapartist style De Gaulle everlasting life. Stand ye to- balances between the seething social forces in France and Al-

Advertisement

Advertisement

the leadership of the Communist, geria to conserve French capital party and trade unions. It works ism and maintain its essential its ravages among the so-called positions in the colonies. Last 'new lefts" of various brands. week he moved to ward off a

Bourdet's Letter

An especially subtle, not to say brilliant — if equivocal exponent of this line is Claude Bourdet, editor of the influential with the support of the "left," left paper, France Observateur. In its issue of Jan. 28, he published a long open letter to De Gaulle. In places he did not mince matter's. He spoke of shedding the blood of the torturers, and perhaps that of his geria - but he is able to use the own friends, as perhaps necessary to restore the honor of France's name before the world and before history.

He showed an intellectual's scorn for the General's ambiguity and obtuseness. But despite lese majesty and an emotional tone there was shrewd reasoning in Bourdet's editorial.

He argued that the revolt would strengthen the army and that the deteriorating situation in Algeria arose from the General's own inability or unwillingness to come to terms with the Provisional government of the Algerian Republic set up by the National Liberation Front (FLN). But, since the army no longer had a De Gaulle in reserve, as it had in May, 1958, it would, given firmness, be obliged to aborder on wides. to abandon any idea of insuborto abandon any idea of insubor-dination — indication of which From the Start had been plain in the days folowing Jan. 24.

At the time of writing, at the height of the crisis, Bourdet clearly feared that the General would temporize with the insurgents. It was in desperation, rather than with hope of being heard, that he put forward the proposition of immediate negotiation with the FLN government and asked De Gaulle to be "once more, as the defeatism of a whole class, and not your own wish, made you in 1940, the representative of the people of France against the social forces to which you are attached."

Bourdet mingles not a little admiration with his mistrust of De Gaulle; he shows readiness to rally behind De Gaulle as 'representative of the people," though without much confidence that the "offer" would be accepted.

soon as the paper was off the press: it was seized by the police and reappeared later

In the same issue Giles Mar-

Martinet called for a cam-

On the back page of the same Yes, in a sense he took Bour-

Dewey's Theories

Dewey's theories on education have had greater impact on the thinking of America's school teachers than those of any other modern figure. What were the economic and social forces that gave his ideas such great brought John Dewey into prominence, read William F. Warde's study in the winter issue of the International merely retains the initiative, obtains special powers and moves to apply his own policy in Also-clever "left" as a footstool in his maneuvers. The left and the working class have gained nothing from the timid "lesser evil" policy adopted consciously or shamefacedly by their leaders.

International Socialist Review

The lesson of the Algiers revolt is that the French workingclass movement remains terribly misled, confused and demoralized; another opportunity to educate it for the trials ahead has been scattered to the winds, with the "new left" aiding in its

How long ago did De Gaulle know about the plot of the colons and army officers that led to the insurrection in Algiers? K. S. Karol, writing in the Jan. 30 British weekly, the New Statesman, says the general knew it for months.

Since De Gaulle announced his so-called "self-determination" scheme for Algeria last September, Karol reports, "the extremists have been preparing for armed revolt.'

"It was known in Paris," he writes, "that Messrs. Ortiz and Lagaillarde [leaders of the insurrectionists who barricaded themselves in Algiers] had begun to organize armed commandos and had been in close contact with army officers ready to go to the limit . . . they had. openly declared that they would form a National Liberation government in Algeria the moment De Gaulle opened negotiations with the Algerian nationalists Moreover, Karol adds, a delegation of the "ultras" in Paris had gone directly to De Gaulle prior to the outbreak and boasted to him that not only did the army oppose his Algerian policy but that "some commanders would be willing to drop parachutists on Paris.'

This, Karol notes, "was a pointed allusion to the means

The significance of the press interview by paratroop General Massu, which precipitated the crisis, was not the public expression of his already wellknown views on the question of Algerian policy so much as the public declaration that his forces were already arming themselves and that they looked with con-

This proved to be no idle boast. "Perfectly organized, carrying out elaborately prepared plans, they [the ultras] quickly formed a bastion of resistance

Advertisement

If Negro History Week reminds you to fill in some of those gaps in your knowledge, here's a good list of books to start studying.

Start with These Negroes on the March - A

Frenchman's Report on the American Negro, by Daniel Guerin. Cloth $1.50, paper $1. Black Reconstruction in America - 1860-1880, by W. E. B. DuBois. $3.95. Caste, Class & Race - A Study in Social Dynamics, by Oliver Cromwell Cox. $3.75.

Thaddeus Stevens, by Ralph Korngold. A biography of one of the toughest political fighters in the history of the struggle for Negro equality. $1.69.

The Strange Career of Jim Crow, by C. Vann Woodward. A brief account of segregation. $1.19. Tender Warriors, by Dorothy Sterling. Story and pictures of the Little Rock struggle for school integration. $.59 The Class Struggle Road to Negro Equality. A resolution of the Socialist Workers party. 25 cents. The Struggle for Negro

Equality, by John Saunders and Albert Parker. 10 cents. Pioneer Publishers

116 University Place New York 3. N.Y.

(Next week: The riddle gets thornier.)

There developed a racket by which the low-income group of this town became, in practice, enslaved through a system which simulated indentured servitude

servitude, the forerunner of

By 1957, almost one out of two Negro families in Washington, D. C., had been hailed into the courts and thus penalized. In addition there were 7,000 cases involving poor

whites from the Southern subsistence economy, who like the Negro counterpart in urban society, are equally disadvantaged and at the mercy of ex-

In his appeal to Congress on behalf of these suffering people,

perienced merchants.

chattel slavery.

meaning of big events at home and abroad, you need the Militant. Try it for six months. Send your name and address and $1.

The Militant 116 University Pl. New York 3, N.Y.

Enclosed is $1 for a sixmonths trial subscription. Name

Street

On Education

weight? Why is he still a controversial figure in this field? For a lucid socialist examination of the setting that Socialist Review. Send 35 cents for a copy.

New York 3, N. Y. 116 University Place

Subscription: $3 a year; Canadian, $3.50; foreign, $4.50.

Editor: JOSEPH HANSEN Business Manager: KAROLYN KERRY Published weekly by the Militant Publishing Assn., 116 University Pl., N. Y. 3, N. Y. Phone: CH 3-2140. Signed articles by contributors do not necessarily represent, the Militant's policies. These are expressed in editorials

Vol. XXIV - No. 7

Monday, February 15, 1960

Meany's Attack on Powell

The prospect of Harlem Congressman Adam Clayton Powell succeeding to the chairmanship of the important House Education and Labor Committee is bringing to the surface race prejudice of a kind that is usually well concealed.

It is not surprising that Southern congressmen have been holding emergency caucuses to try to pressure Rep. Barden (D-N.C.) not to retire thereby giving Powell the important chairmanship by virtue of seniority.

The seniority rule gives the South its strongest hold over Congress. Fifteen of the House's 21 standing committees, and 12 of the Senate's 17, are chaired by Southerners because of Congress' rigid adherence to this rule. Although this rule's operation has brought a plethora of vicious white supremacists and scoundrels to key positions, neither the New York Times nor AFL-CIO President George Meany has ever registered more than perfunctory criticisms of it.

But the prospect of the Negro congressman chairing the committee has moved them and other "liberals" to wrath. On Jan. 26 the New York Times editorially urged that the seniority system be at least modified to prevent Powell's accession. It has justified its attitude by accusing him of "notably racist attitudes, his miserable record as a legislator and his extreme absenteeism."

Readers of the Militant are familiar with our criticisms of Congressman Powell. Nonetheless we consider the Times' charges hypocritical. Powell's voting record compares favorably with that of liberal members of Congress on labor and social matters. On civil rights it is too good (Powell Amendment) for the Times' taste and that undoubtedly explains the charge of "racist attitudes." As for the picayune charge of absenteeism, if the rest of Congress had been absent more often the working people of this country might not have had inflicted on them much of the miserable legislation which constitutes the "achievements" of recent Congresses.

For those who may have thought that Meany's outburst against A. Philip Randolph at the last AFL-CIO convention was merely a bureaucratic response to criticism it should be evident from his attack on Powell that Meany also is actuated by race prejudice.

For a labor leader, meeting with his fellow bureaucrats in Florida, where the very air is heavy with racial oppression, to accuse Powell of "a campaign to stir up race prejudice" gives the measure of a midget mind and a midget sympathy with the Negro people's fight for equality. Meany can swallow the Democratic party's appointment of dozens of anti-labor and anti-Negro committee chairmen in Congress, but is moved to wrath at the "terrible" prospect of Powell as a chairman.

Is Meany speaking for the whole AFL-CIO leadership? Do Walter Reuther, Emil Mazey and other liberal bureaucrats endorse this attitude? Will they condone it by their silence? Labor's rank and file should demand that they put themselves on record. At the same time rank and filers themselves should speak out, demonstrating that now, as in so many other cases, Meany is not voicing their sentiments.

Hell-Bent for Testing

Although a December Gallup poll announced that three out of four Americans favor a ban on atomic tests, the government appears to be moving toward resum-

Nuclear explosions have been halted by this country and the Soviet Union pending the outcome of a Geneva conference. which also involves England. The conference has been in progress for fifteen months.

Now, says Neal Stanford in the Feb. 8 Christian Science Monitor, the Defense Department and the Atomic Energy Commission feel "a pressing need to do some new testing on the accumulation of projects and improvements made on the drafting boards during the present mora-

John M. Hightower, AP Washington correspondent, reports that Pentagon officials believe that if the 'voluntary" ban on tests continues beyond late summer or fall. the government would be "taking too dangerous a gamble in trusting Russia's word that it was not pulling off sneak tests."

President Eisenhower is said to be in agreement with the Pentagon. The scheme is to proceed with underground explosions of the kind that government officials claim cannot be monitored and that the Russians are presumed to be "cheating" on.

To keep up the appearances of "negotiating" for a test ban, the State Department drafted a plan to be presented at Geneva exempting underground explosions below a certain size. According to the syndicated columnist Marquis Childs, this plan was supposed to have been offered for negotiation at secret sessions of the Geneva conference, as a compromise proposal to the one advanced by the Soviets. The latter have proposed that the three countries agree to eliminate testing of every kind.

But to negotiate the American "compromise" plan evidently threatened new delays, and we have already seen that the government feels a "pressing need" for the

Before the scheme could be broached to the Soviet Union and England, it was American community, asked for cans are far more prone to "leaked" to the press. When asked by re- an explanation and an apology. porters for his reaction, the Soviet dele-City Council. He had a tape re-tions of the more reliable corgate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, dubbed Wash- cording of his remarks played. ington's plan "nonsense" and "unaccept- He admitted his use of the word other environmental factors able" and reiterated his own government's "wild" was "unfortunate," and with crime with the disclaimer position for a complete ban. As a result took the occasion to make a that he is not a "sociologist." Nor says Childs, "the nuclear test ban talks . . . have deteriorated to the point at which son, there may be no alternative but to break them off.

In anticipation of this development, the Atomic Energy Commission has announced that exploration and planning for three large-scale "scientific and industrial" for his remarks about "wild experiments with underground nuclear tribes." explosions have reached an "advanced stage." All that is needed is a signal from the White House to proceed.

That signal need never be given if the American people protest loudly and that Chief Parker "talks civil clearly and demand once again that a ban rights but doesn't practice indicated above, are probed. be placed on all tests.

What About Guantanamo?

Mass terror in the Dominican Republic has once again focused the spotlight on the role of the United States in maintaining Trujillo in power.

In the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS), Venezuela charged the dictator with "patent and flagrant violations of human rights." World-wide publicity was given the ensuing debate Feb. 8.

The reaction of the Cuban government was of special interest. Its position was specified in headlines eight inches deep in the Feb. 8 issue of Revolucion: "1. CON-DEMN TRUJILLO. 2. NO INTERVEN-

The newspaper explained that Cuba supports the position of Venezuela in accusing and condemning Trujillo, but is fearful that the United States will intervene in the Dominican situation. If this occurred, Revolucion contended, the U.S. aim would be to save what it could of the Trujillo regime from the wrath of the Dominican people.

As evidence of such an imperialist policy, Revolucion cited the fact that 4,000 U.S. marines had just been landed at the dictator's capital, ostensibly for their "vacations." Even if the excuse were true, the newspaper continued, the timing was in-

High Navy officials in Washington at once denied that intervention in the internal affairs of the Dominican Republic was intended. Only 3,500 marines were in the harbor and only half of them at a time were permitted shore leave. However, within a day or so, the State Department appeared to bow to the pressure and the marines suddenly embarked for their vacation grounds.

The incident serves, we think, to underline the sensitivity of Cuba, like other al blacklist, policed by the gion was described by one film-Latin-American countries, to the inten- American Legion, suffered a land correspondent as "extrations of their powerful imperialist neighbor. We think that they are completely within their rights in demanding that the U.S. keep its hands out of their internal pleases, regardless of "past afaffairs and that their suspicions are justi- filiations or suspected affiliafied by ample past experience.

It is true that Eisenhower has recently expressed friendly sentiments toward Cuba. But what is he doing to demonstrate in practice that he means what he says?

We should like to repeat a suggestion tivities Committee. In breaking to commend and applaud you we made two weeks ago: that the U.S. through the blacklist, Kramer for your courageous stand in return Guantanamo, the naval base seized from Cuba a half century ago.

Instead of taking this obvious step, the ton Trumbo, also a witch-hunt Pentagon has leaked to the press a scheme victim. to stage maneuvers around Cuba in March that will involve landing 18,000 marines at Guantanamo.

It is to be hoped that the belligerent "reprehensible, to say the least great cost to themselves" and at this time, for Macleod stated have demanded that Belgium der United Nations "mandate," attitude indicated by planting such rumors in the press will meet the public rebuke it islands, that's all."

Los Angeles Negro Community Insists Police Chief

By Lois Saunders

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 7 - Demands that Police Chief William H. Parker be fired were renew-

The demand for his dismissal can-American and the Negro suffering most from police brutality and civil-rights violations.

During his testimony at the commission hearings, Parker, in discussing crime on the part of Mexican-Americans in Los Angeles, made the statement that some of those people were not too far removed from the wild tribes of the district of the inner mountains of Mexico."

Demands Apology

Councilman Edward Roybal, a representative of the Mexican-name, merely as the "Negro ly in Negro neighborhoods. commissioner," who, he said, had pressed him with "provocative" questions. Parker ignored the request for an apology Criticisms against Parker were injected into the civil Hollywood or Beverly Hills. rights hearing by George A. Beavers, chairman of the City Housing Authority, who charged last year involved Negroes looks | They have demanded universal them." Other speakers added to Beavers' testimony.

Among the charges made against the Police Department were: recurrent instances of brutality, failure to arrest any of the vandals who have bombed and otherwise harass-

"white" neighborhoods, civilrests on such charges are made rights violations and failure to promote Negro officers. The NAACP and the American Civil Liberties Union preed here this week as a result of sented specific cases of brutality his testimony before the recent and offered figures to show that Civil Rights Commission hear- in 1958 only two of eighty none of twenty-one charges of the long smoldering anger was voiced by both the Mexi- civil-rights violations had been against the Police Department sustained by police investigacommunities, minority groups tion. Charges of this nature are investigated by the police them-

are almost invariably acquitted. Convenient Oversight

The chief appeared before the commission, armed with a series of charts showing crime concentration in Negro and Mexican-American areas, but he did not even mention the figures on police brutality. Chief Parker's figures, uninterpreted, make it appear as if Negroes and Mexican - Americriminal actions than whites or Parker appeared before the Asians. Parker parries suggessnide reference to Civil Rights does he point out other salient Commissioner George M. John- factors, such as the revelations He didn't refer to Johnson by are conducted almost exclusive-

It was stated then — and never denied - that police never raid the plush white clubs where it is common knowledge that gambling is a daily occurrence. Nor do they raid other known gambling resorts in

Parker's charge that 85% of gambling arrests in Los Angeles Tom Mboya and Ronald Ngala: impressive — until the facts, as who report they were brutally David Williams who demonstratively dismissed gambling charges against a dozen or more ed Negroes moving into Negroes on the grounds that ar-

Producer Tells Legion I'll Do My Own Hiring'

FEB. 9 - Hollywood's politic-, His blunt attack on the Leannounced yesterday that he would hire any writer he

for hiring Nedrick Young, who ing the House Un-American Acproducer Otto Preminger who defied the Legion by hiring Dal-

Blasting the red-baiting Lewood employment policy as . . I think that those who dis-

new jolt when Stanley Kramer, ordinary in Hollywood where a leading independent producer, the Legion is greatly feared." Meanwhile, Kramer and Preminger were hailed today by the Authors League of America. Identical messages from Moss Hart, president, said: Kramer's declaration came in Authors League of America eply to a Legion attack on him council, which has always unalterably opposed any form of had been blacklisted after defy- blacklisting of writers, unanimously voted at its meeting today took his stand with independent rejecting publicly the efforts to interfere on psuedo - patriotic grounds with the right of writers to work.'

In a renewed attack on Kramer, the Legion's national comgionnaires, Kramer described mander, Martin McNeally, howltheir efforts to dictate Holly- ed that the major studios had However, they apparently do not conducted a "house cleaning, at grant universal adult suffrage now the independent producers that "As time goes on, Africans immediately relinquish its rule has won internal self-governagree with me have as much are offering the work of artists right to constitutional guaran- whom the major studios paid their voice will be the predomi- provisional government. Bel- after a general election next money to get rid of."

in a discriminatory manner, and Police Commissioner Herbert A. Greenwood, who resigned his post in protest against the biased the argument that the original curb his selfish sexual activioperations of the department. The "wild tribes" comment by the chief before the Civil Rights and Parker. A number of Mexican-American organizations have already issued a demand selves and the officers involved that Parker be dismissed. The voiced in the Negro press.

The peak year for auto production in this country was 1955, when 7.9 million passenger cars were turned out. Auto production in 1959 was about 5.5 mil-

Auto Production

The American Way of Life

We Enjoy Equal Protection of the Law

It is well known that in America the Law offers the poor equal protection with the rich, especially if they can afford it. This was illustrated with exceptional force in the case of three young Mexican-Americans who live in Pittsburg, | children born out of wedlock Calif., - Mrs. Lucy Turrieta, 24; have come as the result of unher brother, Michael Ortega, 23, met needs on the part of the and Lucy Martinez, 24, Ortega's defendant for security, love and common-law wife. Mrs. Turrieta was married in 1952 but her husband deserted her within two months. She then entered into a common-law marriage with John Lopez. Two children were born. Then immigration authorities broke up the marriage by deporting Lopez to Mexico. His wife was dependent on Aid for Needy Children. In December 1957, the authorities charged her with petty theft on the allegation that she had received county aid illegally inasmuch as she had failed to report a change of status in the household (her husband's wheremust oblige the authorities by pleading guilty.

They put her on probation for wo years, ordered her to make and she gave birth to twins. restitution of $50 and ordered her to "cease her common-law relationship with John Lopez of the private life of Michael Orand not to establish any other xtra-marital relationship."

counts. In any case, ten months to find work. later she gave birth to another given six months behind bars. the probation officer that he and won her release on bail on incarceration to motivate him to conviction was invalid since Mrs. | ties . . ." That was simple justice Turrieta was not advised of her in the eyes of the Law, since the right to counsel. Further, the twins were sure proof he had charges of police brutality and Commission added new heat to ACLU argued, "sexual inter- violated his August parole. course between two adults . . is a fundamental aspect of per- lease. The judge had to admit sonal liberty and privacy guar- that twins born in December > halt the sexual life of Lucy Mar- der could not be interpreted as same demand is also being tinez and Michael Ortega. Lucy retroactive. Martinez had borne eight children without first getting permission from the clergy, four of defendant and his wife respondthem the result of her union with ed by taking out a marriage li-Ortega. She, too, is dependent on cense. With the majesty of the Aid for Needy Children.

never has been a sign of child pily ever after. neglect involved and . . . these

a home."

The Law, however, was interested in the justice involved. On Dec. 2, 1958, Lucy Martinez was convicted of petty theft on the charge that she had received illegal aid during the common-law marriage to Ortega who, as husband, was responsible for supporting her. That he was jobless was beside the point.

Miss Martinez was placed on probation and ordered to "refrain from extra-marital relationships with any man to whom she is not legally married."

Last November the court disabouts). Without benefit of coun- covered that she was again sel, Lucy Turrieta thought she pregnant. The sentence was county jail for two months or until her pregnancy was finished. On Dec. 13 they let her out

Meanwhile the Law had come to grips with the complexities tega. Last August he was placed on three-year probation for fail-Whether Lopez returned or ing to support his two children. Mrs. Turrieta met someone else He was given 90 days in jail. No is not clear in the published ac- one had claimed he hadn't tried

In December, after the twins child. Her probation was were born, he was given another promptly revoked and she was 90 days on recommendation of The ACLU entered the case "should experience a period of

The ACLU won Ortega's reanteed by due process of law . . ." had been conceived before Au-Meanwhile the Law sought to gust. Legally the probation or-

And, as the court magnanimously admitted its error, the Law thus upheld, everybody Her social worker says, "There should now be able to live hap-

- Harry Ring

In Other Lands

British Shape Plan for Kenya

TOM MBOYA

velopment in the franchise, African influence will necessarily

Delegates of the United party

representing the white-suprem-

and significantly increase.

Project Goal Of Independence The African delegation to the Kenya constitutional conference last year that gambling raids in London endorsed, Feb. 3, the goal of a parliamentary government on the British model as projected by Colonial Secretary Iain Macleod in a recent plan for Kenyan independence. The Africans, however, reserved judgment on the detailed proposals, according to Walter H. Waggoner reporting the conference for the New York Times.

The Africans are headed by adult suffrage; elections from a common voters' roll (i.e., end of Among those who have pro- racial-group representation) tested Parker's actions in the equal citizenship rules for Afripast, in addition to individuals cans, Europeans, Asians and Arabs; and adoption of a bill of beaten by police, were Judge rights protecting all citizens equally. A prominent delegate from Kenya's Asian community has endorsed the African pro-

The population of Kenya includes 6,171,000 Africans, 169,000 acy-minded European farmers Asians, 66,400 Europeans and in the rich highland area from 37,100 Arabs. Under the consti- which African farming is extution in force through the cluded, declared themselves spring of 1958, the Kenya legisative council was composed of Group Captain Briggs, the British governor-general and party's leading spokesman, hinteight other ex-officio members, ed that his delegation might 20 members named by the governor, one nominated Arab rep- satisfaction was also voiced by resentative and 29 elected mem- the multiracial New Kenya

The 29 comprised 14 Europeans, eight Africans, six Asians have not rejected the Macleod and one Arab. The Africans elec- proposals. ted their representatives in separate communal areas with which began four weeks ago, the franchise limited by property and educational qualifications. Members of other races obtained the vote on coming of age. In the spring of 1958 the number of elected white members was reduced, but otherwise the tion camps during the "emerconstitution has remained about the same.

Details of the Macleod plan his proposals evidently abolish racial-group representation.

"shocked" at Macleod's plan. walk out of the conference. Dis-Group led by Michael Blundell. However, the latter delegates On the eve of the conference, "emergency" rule was lifted in

Congolese Demand have not yet been published, but Belgium Surrender Control Right Away

Kenya after seven years. According to data cited by Waggoner, the British killed some imprisoned 80,000 in concentra-

10,500 African "terrorists" and Prominent Congo nationalists nant voice" and that with de- gium agreed last month to grant September.

independence on June 30. Elections to a Congolese parliament that will govern the country after that date are slated for the end of May.

In dispute now between the Belgians and the nationalist leaders is whether colonial authorities or the Congolese themselves should organize the elections and administer the country in the meantime. Representatives of all Congolese parties have been participating for several weeks in a "round-table" conference with the Belgian government in Brussels

The delegates of Abako, largest nationalist party, and of the Patrice Lumumba-led wing of the Congolese National Movement want the conference to set up a provisional government. Lumumba was released from prison, where he was serving a six-month term for a pro-independence speech, in order to participate in the parley.

59 Soviet Census Cites Data on Jews

A recent Soviet census reports 2,269,000 Jews in the country. They are listed as belonging to a separate nationality within the USSR in the same way that Russians, Ukrainians and Armenians are.

Almost half a million, or 20.8% of the Jews, reported Yiddish to be their native tongue.

This seems to contradict the claims of Soviet leaders in recent years that the absence of Yiddish literature and other cultural manifestations is due to the disappearance of Yiddish as a language.

Tanganyika Leader Visits in America

Julius Kambarage Nyerere, eader of Tanganyika's biggest political party, the Tanganyika African National Union, is currently visiting the United States on a State Department grant.

The Union has a membership of 800,000 in a population of nine million Africans, 80,000 Asians and 22,000 Europeans. Tanganyika, a British-held territory un-... will be in the majority and over the colony to a Congolese ment which will go into effect

THE MILITANT

What are college students thinking about these days and what are they doing about what they are thinking?

Some interesting information on this question has been assembled by Fred M. Hechinger, a New York Times writer. The atmosphere on the campuses is stultifying, he says, and students are becoming dissatisfied with it. There are "soft noises of rebellion," although it isn't "the explosive revolt of political radicals or of idealistic reformers."

"The voices are not violent. They are only impatient. They seek escape not from the social order but merely from the protective, peaceful ivory tower."

He tells of a student at New York City College, a center of campus radicalism in the 1930's. who was doing research for an article on student life "then and now." He talked to a graduate of the early forties. After listening to the account of political activities, student rallies, picket lines, and so on, today's student observed with a tinge of disbelief, "It must have been exciting. Things are quiet today."

Educators voice concern about the absence of intellectual ferment and the lack of involvement in major social issues. They seem to agree that prosperity and pressure for conformity are largely responsible.

Professor Paul C. Wermuth writes in the bulletin of the Association of American Colleges that campus activities are "merely social," and devoid of any real purpose "except to amuse the witless."

He apparently feels that students need the taste of an old-fashioned depression to shake them up. He writes of students who "have never suffered or worked hard or been caught in the economic trap; never felt loneliness, fear, dread, loss, grief, pity, pain — and have not even shared these things vicariously through serious reading.

Edward D. Eddy, Jr., provost of the University of New Hampshire, says that today's student is "interested primarily in the maintenance of the status quo - a very comfortable status quo . .

VOLUME XXIV

De Gaulle

(Continued from Page 1)

were not just a desperate, last chance effort to block de Gaulle's

self-determination scheme but

part of a deep, widespread move

against the General that was accidentally touched off prematurely and will almost certainly

De Gaulle's moves against the fascists to date include the ar-

est and imprisonment of a half-dozen individuals - including

Lagaillarde — and house arrest

In addition, Jacques Soustelle

was dropped from De Gaulle's

cabinet; Colonel Godard, head of the department of security in Algiers, was removed; five of the fifteen right-wing political organizations in Algeria have been banned; and the editor of the Echo d'Alger, principal newspaper for the colons, has been transferred from house arrest

It is rumored that an undisclosed number of army officers,

including a number of colonels,

are due to be transferred, retired or court-martialed for supporting the rebels. The Tenth

These measures will certainly not crush the fascists.

But they will serve notice

that, for the time being, big business is satisfied with De

Gaulle - including his program for Algeria - and that the capitalist class is not ready to risk civil war at this time

for the sake of bringing to power an even more totalitar-

The purge, however, leaves

all the conspiracies hatched in

Algiers, remains De Gaulle's

prime minister, and is also a

beneficiary of the new decree

Indeed, "It is no exaggeration

to say that more than half of the

were involved with Lagaillarde

in the 13 May coup," says K. S.

As far as the army is concerned, the problem of its fascist

leanings is highlighted by what

one Western military expert told

the Wall Street Journal's corres-

Algerian Arab nationalists do not accept his plan for "self-determination." He has also elections and otherwise admin-

nationalists agree to his propos-

the officer caste will not be lessened even if certain individual

fascists, his dictatorship consti-

Maurice Thorez, secretary-

general of the Communist party, is one of those labor leaders. At the height of the Algiers rebel-

the Socialist party leaders, rallied behind De Gaulle. They kept the working-class move-

he fascist threat.

against the working class.

On Tour

(Continued from Page 1)

striking packinghouse workers

Events make it increasingly evident that labor statesman-

ship and its political end product of labor support to capitalist politicians have brought the unions to a perilous position. The workers need as their leaders fewer civic-minded

diplomats and more class-

As the bosses continue to recognize that a house cleaning in the union bureaucracy

is called for; and they will perceive the need to adopt

union policies designed to mobilize the full economic and political power of labor as an

Farrell Dobbs

independent class force.

minded fighters.

in Albert Lea, Minnesota.

working class organizations.

officers are purged.

ave no army left."

members of the government . .

powers voted by parliament.

be revived."

of a few others.

to imprisonment.

Algiers colons.

ian regime.

This has led, he says, to an attitude he calls "privatism." The student "searches for a rich, full life for himself . . . The constant question is first, 'What's in it for me?'

But in large measure, Dr. Eddy feels, the prevailing student attitude constitutes an indictment of the colleges which have created an intellectual vacuum by covering all controversy "under a blanket of . . . objectivity."

Some students are asking what can be done. This "top layer of intellect and sensitivity" are not radicals like their predecessors of the thirties. But they do tend to inquire and to feel a need for action.

For example, a group of Yale undergraduates have organized a venture, "The Challenge." This is described as "student program at Yale University to confront with realistic concern and responsible action the crucial issues of today's world."

"The Challenge" sets a theme for each term, organizes public meetings and tries to promote informal discussion, and, "where possible, individual action and involvement." It intends to publish a weekly paper and a syndicated column. The movement is said to have been received favorably at other colleges.

That new stirrings are visible on the campuses has been confirmed by young socialists. James Lambrecht, a member of the editorial board of the monthly "Young Socialist," concluded after a recent national tour that while socialists are a tiny minority, there is a growing interest in socialist ideas - a greater willingness to come down to a meeting, to discuss and to debate.

He expressed confidence that with patient persistent work, young socialists can rebuild a vital political movement on the American campuses that should help make the campus atmosphere more pleasant to breathe.

By Herman Chauka

Last summer some carping critics in Congress charged that thousands of GI's were being used as servants for the top military brass. This was firmly denied by the Defense Department.

Assistant Defense Secretary C. C. Finacune admitted that some 27,000 men were assigned to cook, drive cars, mow lawns, mix drinks, make beds and clean toilets for senior officers. However, he said, it was not only wrong to call these men "servants," but such wild charges were also "divisive" and harmful to the "fighting efficiency" of the armed forces.

Despite this sober warning, the sniping has continued. The House Armed Services subcommittee, on Feb. 3, divulged the contents of an Air Force manual for steward specialists entitled, "On-the-Job Training Package Pro-Apparently it was not a classified

The manual offers invaluable household hints for stewards and aides (not "servants") assigned to further the defense effort through proper maintenance of the morale of generals and their dogs. For example:

"Feeding pets may become part of your daily chores. Necessity demands that pets be fed properly . . . Overfeeding is more dangerous than underfeeding."

The researchers who drew up the manual explain that "occasionally pets require baths" and "The best way to accomplish this is by using soap, water and plenty of elbow grease.' Also, "The fingers are better than any mechanical device for applying soap."

Turning to the direct needs of the officers, the nonservant steward is informed that "Shoe polishing isn't a large task, but does require some exacting effort." (Five paragraphs are devoted to exact information on this essential service.) The manual deals authoritatively with matters on which Emily Post used to have the franchise. "How to Receive Guests" is the subject of a snappy military directive: "Answer the door promptly and invite the guests in. Take any hats or wraps. See to any desires they might have for refreshments, according to the general's previous briefing."

The aide is also reminded that "At times you will be called upon to prepare beverages such as cocktails and mixed drinks for the personnel of the household and their guests." And the researchers add, "There are a wide variety

Mixing the drinks properly is only half the battle. The manual cautions: "When placing glasses on the table or picking them up, never grip the glass near the rim. This will leave fingerprints on the glass and is unsanitary."

Finally, the military guide book comes to grips with a crucial and very tricky tactical operation - "How to Set the Table." It explains: "The costliest table equipment can look out of place on a carelessly set table . . . [for luncheon] lace is one of the correct cloths and while white damask is never used, colored damask is appropriate. For tea tables you may use embroidered or hemstitched tea cloths."

Congressmen at the hearing, who are only permitted to put their relatives on the payroll and aren't assigned carefully briefed nonservant | Karol in the Feb. 6 New Statesstewards, were quite indignant about the manual. Rep. Frank Becker (R-N.J.) asserted that if Communists had written it, they couldn't have produced a more 'morale-destroying docu-

To placate the obviously envious congressman, Air Force spokesmen said the manual pondent: "You simply couldn't would be withdrawn and a revised one issued. And even though no one is presently assigned officers who feel that way, you'd to be a servant in the armed forces, they the new manual will prohibit GI's from taking on duties "which contribute only to the personal benefit of officers.

Major General Albert P. Clark, Air Force director of military personnel, explained, however, that the controversial manual was intended only to "give these individuals an opportunity to improve and learn their jobs."

Furthermore, the manual itself specifically advises aides and stewards: "Your contribution to the overall mission of the Air Force can be even more important than that of an air-crew member, a mechanic, or any other individual

Notes in the News

PAYS TO READ THE FINE PRINT -"Critic," a columnist in the British weekly New Statesman, says he received an airmail letter from the U.S. which provided "a pleasant example of the failure of two government departments to co-ordinate." The stamp bears a representation of the Statue of Liberty and above it is the legend, "Liberty for All." The cancellation message on the stamp reads: "Aliens must report their addresses during February."

PLAIN-SPOKEN TEXAN - In a Jan. 30 speech on the work of his organization, Jack Miller, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, declared: "Admittedly, we have more energy than brains."

PROGRESS REPORT - The Urban League of Greater New York, which has been waging a campaign against the biased hiring practices of musical organizations, reported Feb. 4 that more than a dozen symphonic organizations in the area, an equivalent number of show orchestras and nearly as many television orchestras had hired Negroes during 1959.

THE POLITICAL SCENE - Some people felt that it was satirical exaggeration when the hero of the film, "The Senator Was Indiscreet." declared he was against both inflation and deflation and four-square in favor of "flation." But last week Senator Lyndon Johnson, a Democratic presidential aspirant, posed with a burro and declared he would describe himself as "a liberal and a conservative." The burro's comment was not recorded.

"FOLLY" - President Eisenhower's proposal to revise the law to arm NATO countries with nuclear weapons was assailed by the Federation of American Scientists as an act of "catastrophic folly" that would "virtually doom us to the ultimate calamity of nuclear war."

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY? - The Census Bureau reports that illiteracy in the country has been reduced to an all-time low of 2.2% But the illiteracy rate for Negroes has dropped only to 8%. While 43% of the nation's adult population has finished high school, only 20% of the nonwhite population has enjoyed that

WHO'S VULGAR? - "Most manufacturer's still believe, consciously or unconsciously, that the mass man is a pretty callow sort of fellow, without much esthetic discrimination. As a result they continue to offer him only those products which they have arbitrarily decided are suited to the vulgar taste," says William Blau, a Detroit industrial design researcher. On the basis of an extensive study of mass taste he suggested to business executives that they should realize that consumers are as sensitive and sophisticated with regard to taste as execu-

IN LOAN BUSINESS — The International Brotherhood of Teamsters has disclosed that one of its pension funds has loaned $1 million to the Roman Catholic Diocese of South Florida. The money came from the Teamsters Central States and Southwest Fund headed by union president James Hoffa. Loaned at 6% interest it is said to be the first loan to a church organization reported by a union.

ONE MAN'S VIEW OF THE NAACP -In an interview with the New York Post Feb. 5, Dr. Robert C. Weaver, new board chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, offered this opinion on the value of the organization: "One of the most unappreciated roles of the NAACP is that it has offered the feeling of hope and progress to Negroes and liberals in a way that has been a safety valve. Without the NAACP, we would have had much greater tension than we did. Agreed, you need tension, and occasional conflict, for progress - although sometimes it can be unhealthy. But the NAACP's effectiveness is that it operates within the framework of the American legal tradition and offers evolutionary - instead of revolutionary - progress."

Youth Protest Thought Control

Two hundred youth demonstrated at the White House Feb. 3 against new invasion of campuses by House Un-American Activities Committee. Demanding an end to the assault on the Bill of Rights, some demonstrators also carried placards urging world peace. (See story page one.)

Strike Won Against Knights of Columbus

paratroop division, which has nad especially close connections with the European population in Algiers is henceforth to be staof the Knights of Columbus, tion. tioned elsewhere in Algeria. which ended Feb. 1, offers an There is talk of decentralizing military and civilian authority in Algeria so as to render it less strikers won only a partial vic- bled a lockout. The strikers, who subject to the influence of the

are women, held out for 92 days hardship and sacrifice in holding against the management of the out for one of the longest Catholic fraternal organization in a determined battle for a wage increase and better union security.

Under threat of an injunction, nass picket lines were withdrawn after several weeks. However, when supervisors sought to intimidate pickets, mass picketing was resumed. No one went nany key right-wing positions in the headquarters except suuntouched. For instance, Michel pervisors Debre, involved for four years in Originally the strike involved the typographers at the organization's printing plant here. They won an agreement but continued to respect the picket lines of Local 329 of the Office Employees Union.

The Knights moved publication of their monthly organ, Columbia, to Illinois. They also sought to move their office work elsewhere but were unable to process claims of their some 1,000,000 policy holders. The union notified all state insurance commissioners of the situation since the failure involved code violations,

The Roman Catholic Church transfer out of Algeria all the self from the Knights of Colum-To this army brass, De Gaulle bus. The Catholic Transcript ex- searchers have experimented has pledged vigorous prosecu- plained that the organization is with pelleted cattle feed made tion of the war against the Arab not technically under Church from newsprint, vitamins and control. The sensitivity of the minerals. independence movement if the

NEW HAVEN, Conn. - The | Church to possible bad publicity recent strike of 350 office work- was further indicated by its apers at the Supreme Headquarters | peal to both sides for modera-

At first the management of the example worth noting in this fraternal order refused to negosuperexploited field although the tiate at all and the strike resemhad averaged only $65 a week The workers, of whom 80% while working, underwent real strikes in this area.

Finally a city-wide appeal for aid was made to all AFL-CIO unions in the city. The hearty response to the appeal plus the strikers' determination finally. changed the tide.

The settlement called for wage increases totaling $6.50 a week, $3.75 of it immediately. The original offer was $5, with $3 to be given on settlement. The union also won some negotiating power over management's previous practice of arbitrarily putting employees from the bargaining unit into supervision.

The workers felt that they were returning with a stronger union after their experience on the picket line.

Yesterday's Paper Today's Lunch?

You may not be able to stomach what you read in the daily press but you may one day eat felt constrained to dissociate it- found that nutritionally, newspapers are similar to hay. Re- fits.

. . Meany Alters His Story

promised the army that it will be kept in Algeria to supervise (Continued, from Page 1) characterizes the Kennedyister his program in case the Landrum-Griffin law as a measure "designed to destroy als. In either case the power of organized labor."

George Meany to the contrary yers would say - there is not a Meanwhile, several French labor leaders have warned that hint, not a single solitary sug- fruitless attempt to appease the of the nine members of the nealthough De Gaulle's blows are gestion anywhere in the Executive Council report, or the concurrently directed against the vention resolution, that the top brass had given labor's "friends" tutes a grave menace to the vote for a measure - "designed to destroy organized labor." Either Meany played fast and lion, the CP leaders, as well as vention or is doing so now. In was amended by McClellan and File" ticket, at first was nonour opinion, based on accumu- passed in the Senate. The committal A shout went up for lating evidence, the truth is be- amended version of Kennedying told now for the first time Ervin then became the "lesser ment paralyzed in the face of since the sorry spectacle un- evil" to Landrum-Griffin. folded.

At the time of the convention Ervin bill went to a conference The passivity of the labor movement helped De Gaulle to the air was blue with recrimin- committee, together with the capitalize on the crisis by grabbing more personal power which betrayed. All sorts of dire | fin measure, the conference he now threatens to wield threats were made by the labor compromise became a "lesser for granted. The time was not propitious then for the kind of confession that Meany makes They lacked the fortitude to

What of the "lesser evil" argument? Senator Wayne Morse, who is a member of the conference committee and who cast one of the two votes in the Senate against the K-L-G bill, demolished that one some time ago. He proved by citing the record that if Senator Kennedy had supported his position in conference, a number of the bill's worst provisions could have been eliminated. On the rain blows on them, more basis of his experience Morse workers can be expected to concludes: "Because labor, itself, and the professed friends of labor in Congress lacked the fortitude to stand their ground, the labor movement suffered its worst setback since passage of the Taft-Hartley Act."

stand their ground! It would be Utah.

hard to devise a more apt description of the practitioners of ed deals made over their heads. ardly labor skates have been on the company until they had first the run since labor-hater Mc- given a shake to their own lead-Clellan let loose his first blast ership. against the unions. They ex- Even at the meeting their notwithstanding — as the law- pelled the Teamsters and a number of other unions in a upon to record their "vote," six union-hating ward heelers in gotiating committee opposed the Congress.

supporting the "lesser evil," the more. This was due to promptin Congress the green light to labor fakers plumped for the so- ing from the ranks. called anticorruption Kennedy-Ervin bill. To their surprise this failed also to appease the unionloose with the truth at the con- baiters. The Kennedy-Ervin bill election victory of a "Rank-and-After the amended Kennedyation - labor had been grossly House-adopted Landrum - Grifstatesmen. Meany himself was evil" to the original Landrumamong the foremost in warning Griffin bill. And so the Meanys the Democrats not to take labor and Reuthers clutch at one "lesser evil" after another.

> Their epitaph might well be stand their ground!

Five Uranium Mills Violate Safety Code

Five uranium processing mills have been warned by the Atomic Energy Commission to correct apparent violations of federal safety rules, according to a report in the January Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists.

The violations include failure to survey airborne radioactivity levels and failure to post radiation areas. Union Carbide Nuclear and the Rare Metals Corp. have exposed employes to radioactive dust in excess of safety limits. In July, five mills were ordered to stop polluting rivers They lacked the fortitude to in Colorado, New Mexico and

McLouth Plant Steel Strikers Score Victory

After a three-hour meeting Feb. 5, workers at McLouth Steel in Detroit voted by secret ballot 1,096 to 489, to accept a proposed contract, thus ending the eleven-day strike that cut across the pattern of United+ the industry in January. A. E. Schwartz, Local 2659 president, told the 2,500 members who filled Ford Auditorium that he had learned more lessons in the past thirty days than in all his past experience in the union file to launch a campaign for movement. Indeed, what was learned in this small crucible of the coming elections in June and rank-and-file militancy is worth November. Only by democratic entire membership of the steel In the conciliatory atmosphere created by the McDonald leadership of the union, the company confidently expected to whittle down the contract demands. Tom Shane, the district director, on problem of automation is still Jan. 19 pressured the local's negotiating committee into surrendering its bargaining rights; then, at the eighty-day injunction deadline Jan. 26 he signed is necessary because the operaan indefinite extension agreement.

The strike that flared that midnight put a halt to this maneuthe members ignored another inwhelmingly for a ten-day limit to negotiations.

Tuesday, Feb. 2, in a matter of minutes, McLouth signed a memorandum agreeing to the same contract terms that it had balked at Jan. 19. The new contract includes some thirty-four improvements in working conditions over the more urgently the need for a 1956 agreement. In the eyes of shorter work week. he membership, it represented a 'catching up" with practices at major steel companies.

ago, a simplified two-step griev- a modern way. ance procedure, guarantees in union representation, elimination of the "secret" memorandum agreements, an end to unilateral control of bargaining New Rate Hike those words. Scientists have procedures by the company, and the spelling out of other bene-

Insofar as union contracts go these days, the vote of the mem- to 35% this year. It promised to bership recorded their feeling broaden hospital benefits. If the that it was as good as could be State Department of Insurance expected for the time being. Of grants the increase, this will be greater significance to them was the demonstration that the previous increases were 22.3 and union bureaucracy can expect to be challenged on heavy-hand-"lesser evil" politics. The cow- The ranks did not settle with pressure was evident. Called settlement, feeling that the com-In deference to their policy of pany could be made to give

Harry Lester, a popular officer, who as a shop militant had been a key leader in the 1958 sulted in the six-three recommendation.

In this way the men prompted those representatives close to the ranks in the shop to stand aloof from the district officialdom.

the offensive. They gave quite Young Socialist Alliance.

Steelworkers' settlements with a demonstration of what they think about "mutual trusteeship" between the union's bureaucracy and the industry's bosses.

The situation is now much more favorable for the rank and democracy in the steel union in calling to the attention of the control will the Steelworkers in the Detroit area be able to prepare for a real battle with the steel bosses in June, 1962.

Machine Ends Jobs

Meanwhile the workers were given a fresh reminder that the unsolved. Great Lakes Steel announced the installation of a computer to run its new rolling mill here. This electronic "brain" tion will be too fast for humans to run efficiently.

"All operations of rolling a slab of steel into a finished coil ver. On the following Sunday will be controlled by the computer," according to the Feb. 3 junction threat and voted over- Detroit News. "It will control temperatures, tighten or loosen rollers and width controls, and give an alarm if any part falls away from preset standards."

Now it can be told what the steel corporations meant by "efficiency" last year! The growing danger of being displaced by automatic machinery raises

McDonald raised it in a dim way last May, only to drop it in June. The continued installation Important items included the of automation should help consafety program won in a five-siderably toward installing a day strike after three workers leadership in the union capable were accidentally killed a year of meeting modern problems in

Blue Cross Asks

NEW YORK - The Blue Cross announced Feb. 7 that it was seeking to raise its rates 30 the third hike since 1958. The 26.5%.

Organized labor in the city has made moves to build its own hespital chain and operate its own health insurance system as a result of the rapidly mounting costs under the Blue Cross sys-

Why not pass this copy of the Militant on to a friend?

Calendar Of Events

NEW YORK

YOUNG SOCIALIST FORUM. a clear-cut stand. He then called Topic: "Fascism and Anti-Semfor a "No" vote, prompting itism." The possibility that forthright declarations which re- France could go fascist today has once again called sharp attention to the need to understand what causes fascism and how it can be prevented. Can Germany go fascist again? Can it happen in America? Friday, Feb. 19, 8:30 p.m. at 116 University At every turn in this strike Place (near Union Square). Conthe rank-and-file militants held tribution 50 cents. Auspices:

Local Directory

BOSTON Boston Labor Forum, 295 Huntingon Ave., Room 200. CHICAGO Socialist Workers Party, 777 W.

dams, DE 2-9736. CLEVELAND Socialist Workers Party 10609 Superior Ave., Room 301, SW 1-1818. Open Thursday nights 8 to 10.

DETROIT Eugene V. Debs Hall, 3737 Wood vard. TEmple 1-6135. LOS ANGELES

Forum Hall and Modern Book She 702 E. 4th St. AN 9-1953 or WE 5-9238.

MILWAUKEE 150 East Juneau Ave. MINNEAPOLIS Workers Party, 322 Hennepin Ave., 2nd floor. Open noon to 6 P.M. daily except Sundays.

Newark Labor Forum, Newark, N. J. NEW YORK CITY Militant Labor Forum, 116 University Place, AL 5-7852. OAKLAND - BERKELEY P.O. Box 341, Berkeley 1, Calif.

PHILADELPHIA

Militant Labor Forum and Socialist Workers Party, 1303 W. Girard Ave. Lectures and discussions every Saturday, 8 P.M., followed by open house Call PO 3-5820. SAN FRANCISCO

The Militant, 1145 Polk St., Rm. 4. Sat. 11 A.M. to 3 P.M. Phone PR 6-7296; if no answer, VA 4-2321. SEATTLE

1412-18th Avenue, EA 2-5554. Lirary, bookstore. ST. LOUIS

For information phone MO 4-7194.