SCAB HOTEL HOLDS LAST OF C. P. P. A.

St. Louis Conference Is Small
Gloomy Gathering

(Special to The Daily Worker)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., Feb. 11.—R. D. Cramer, editor of the Minneapolis Labor Review, and a delegate to the Conference for Progressive Political Action here, caused a sensation just before the noon adjournment when he asked:
"Why is this conference meeting in a scab hotel?"
Convening his first session in a scab hotel here with scarcely one hundred delegates present, the Conference for Progressive Political Action, which last year filled the auditorium of the Engineers building in Cleveland, opened with a small atmosphere prevailing. Most of the delegates present are from railway unions.
Chairman William H. Johnston did nothing to relieve the general appearance of discouragement when he opened his speech with an apology for not having prepared a longer report, pleading "pressure of other duties."
A reading of the report soon set out the fact that the delegates had done since the Cleveland session except the collection of $16,000, and the expenditure of $15,000. The conference also needed money, said Johnston.
Some Old Stuff.
In the name of the national committee a recommendation to the conference was read proposing work for the election to public office of men pledged to a program of public ownership of railroads, the abolition of the use of injunction in labor disputes and the punishment for contempt without a jury trial, etc.
The recommendation indicates that the standard leaders of the organization intend to stick to the old "ward and pupil" non-partisan policy and are against the farmer-labor party movement.
Congressman Sinclair of North Dakota addressed the conference on the Sinclair-Norris marketing bill. He said:
"Sinclair pessimistic.
"Democratic government is on trial in the United States and I doubt whether democratic government will survive. The farmers are the most downtrodden group in the country. Fifty per cent of the North Dakota farmers are reported bankrupt."
"Revised figures will show that even more than fifty per cent are totally ruined. The farmers are so badly off that many creditors are not foreclosing because they can get nothing by foreclosing."
"In the country as a whole, at least twenty-five per cent of the farmers produced goods sold to the consumers for $22,000,000,000 but received for their product but $7,000,000,000. The profitters took the remainder."
Sinclair caused a laugh when he suddenly announced, "Farm by proxy."
Continuing he said, "I don't know whether the Sinclair-Norris bill will solve the problem. I am inclined to believe that nothing will be accomplished until the farmers and workers take control of the government."

Whirlwind Start Made in Chicago Sub Campaign

An avalanche of new subscriptions takes on the first day of the Chicago subscription campaign, has made it impossible to give tabulated reports of the subscriptions. At this time of the DAILY WORKER goes to press. From the returns turned in thus far it has become apparent that instead of the thousands turned in thus far it has become apparent that for the first day of the campaign, the figure will be doubled at the very least before the campaign is over.

Historic Negro All-Race Congress Makes Unity Its Watchword and Sees Labor as Big, Dominant Issue

Visitors to the great Negro All-Race Assembly, or Sanhedrin, which began its sessions at Wabash avenue Y. M. C. A. Wabash avenue and 38th street, Chicago, yesterday, could not fail to be impressed with the zeal for unity, which prevailed among the delegates.
Unity was the watchword of all, from Dean Kelly Miller, of Howard University, the presiding officer, down to the various representatives of the 61 national Negro organizations present.

OBREGON SENT CONDOLENCES ON LENIN'S DEATH

(Special to The Daily Worker)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Two political careers teetered in the balance today as William Gibbs McAdoo went before the Senate Trade Dome Committee and Secretary of the Navy Denby faced a vote of condemnation in the Senate.
McAdoo appeared to explain his relations as attorney for Edward L. Doheny, lessee of two California naval reserves.

Only Head of Capitalist Government to Act

(Special to The Daily Worker)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 11.—Alvaro Obregon, president of Mexico, was going there but only that it would send condolences to Russia on the death of Lenin, which he received here from Mexico. His telegram read:
"The death of Lenin, chief of the international workers' movements, causes us profound sorrow. A Obregonian."
"In the name of the workers and peasants of Mexico, the Communist Party thanks you for your cable of condolence on the death of Lenin."
The state of San Luis Potosi, under its new governor, Aurelio Manrique, member of the Agrarista (Farmer-Peasant) Party, who was supported in his campaign by the laborists and Communist Parties, declared a three days mourning for the death of Lenin and much to the indignation of the conservative press of this city and of the state in question, all flags flew at half mast for the period designated. The Communist Party the same day telegraphed thanks and congratulations to Manrique.
The Agrarista and Communist Parties held a joint ceremony of mourning for the death of Lenin, Feb. 8, in one of the largest theaters of Mexico. The theater was decorated by the Union of Communist Painters, including such prominent artists as Diego Rivera. He is a prominent member of the Agrarista Party made brief speeches. The funeral march and two minutes of silence followed. The singing of the international terminated the ceremony. Diego Rivera painted a big picture of Lenin for the occasion.

Locomotive Engineers Quit Their Affiliation With the C. P. P. A.

(Special to The Daily Worker)
CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers has sent no delegates to the Conference for Progressive Political Action and has decided definitely to sever its connection with that organization.
Warren Stone, head of the Brotherhood, has characterized the future of the C. P. P. A. as "hopeless" and the decision to send no delegates to this action is given by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers with its support. Information of this action was given by the Locomotive Engineers Journal for February when the official organ of the Brotherhood, edited by Albert Coyle, gave one line of publicity to the St. Louis conference.

WAS DOHENY ADVISED TILL FEBRUARY 2

As Legal Monitor Was Incompetently Ignorant

(Special to The Daily Worker)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The candidate for democratic presidential nomination has already denied any connection with the leases and has said his association with Doheny was merely as legal adviser in connection with Doheny's Mexican oil affairs.
The secretary answered these, telling the Daily Worker, "I have no personal knowledge of anything and you can make that just as strong as you please."
Tones Down Resolution.
Simultaneously word came from Capitol Hill to President Coolidge and other cabinet officials that the Robinson resolution will not pass. This sentiment was limited to have been brought by introduction of Senator Jones, Washington, of the "reformers" resolution which does not fully demand Denby resign but says he will resign if he is not permitted to do so.
It appeared certain however, that a resolution in confidence in Denby's action in the oil leases would pass next later than five p. m. Under an agreement between the two parties hours before that time and the voting upon amendments must begin before five.

McAdoo on Defensive.
McAdoo's defense before the committee to eradicate any taint of oil that might have been smeared upon his presidential campaign by Doheny, who testified that McAdoo had been paid $50,000 retainer fees in the last four years.
McAdoo presented an elaboration of his recent letter to the committee in which he protested against inferences that he was implicated in any way with Doheny's leases.
A score of witnesses are under subpoena to appear before the public lands investigating committee, J. Leo Stack, Denver oil man, who with associates obtained promise of $1,000,000 from Harry P. Sinclair for claims to Teapot Dome. It is scheduled to take the stand tomorrow.

COCA COLA GETS MORE ADVERTISING WITH ONE BOTTLE IN THE CASE

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11.—So-called "advertising" was completed today as a woman, said by Chief of Police Heavers, to be Mrs. Candler, pretty wife of the aged multi-millionaire soft drink manufacturer, had been arrested in an apartment with two men.
The news came to Atlanta, through a newspaper, which rushed hundreds of extra copies here for sale. Entertaining newspapers posted themselves in front of the "Lobby" Candler Building and sold papers at 25 cents a copy as long as the supply lasted.

Abraham Lincoln His Birthday Today, February 12th

Abraham Lincoln said: "The strongest bond of human sympathy, outside of the family relation, should be the one uniting all working people of all nations, and tongues and kindreds."—Before the New York Republican Workingmen's Association. (Article on Lincoln on Page 2.)

In place of the daily cartoon today we reproduce above a picture of the only statue of Lincoln which gives a working class conception of the great leader. The statue is the work of George Grey Barnard. It was made by the workers of the Lincoln Memorial. When it was completed the plates and big signs protested against it because Lincoln's pants weren't pressed and in general he didn't look like a great man.
When the statue was unveiled in Manchester the cotton workers, who were the children of the cotton workers who under the leadership of Karl Marx had kept England out of the American Civil War on the side of the South, gave the statue their approval by attending the unveiling in the tens of thousands.

HERRIN UNDER MARTIAL LAW, YOUNG IS OUT

Troops and Klan Apatrolling the Streets

(Special to The Daily Worker)
HERRIN, Ill., Feb. 11.—Fear of a strike of several thousand coal miners further complicated the situation today. Members of the United Mine Workers are technically allowed they would not tolerate Klansmen in their ranks. Many of the miners are Klansmen and the bulk of the miners are said to be ready to strike until the Klansmen are ousted.
Adjutant General Carlos Black is determined that there shall be no repetition of the massacre of June, 1922, when 25 union and non-union miners were slain.

Herrin is under "military law," which differs from martial law in that the military is not in absolute control of the town. Under military law the troops are technically subordinate to the civil authorities.
Limited military rule was extended to Marion and Johnson City. Three companies, two of them recruited in Johnson City, and four are held at Marion, where an armed guard was stationed, over the county jail here by Major A. C. Anderson of Herrin, and 14 other anti-Klansmen are held on charges of complicity in the Friday of Caesar Cagle, Klan leader, murder.
Sheriff George Galligan, who called the troops here to enforce the staying of Cagle and the shooting of Deputy Sheriff John Layman, was held captive in the city hall here by followers of S. Glenn Young, dictator of Herrin. Galligan was arrested for the murder. Young has taken over the office of chief of police here.

S. Glenn Young, "prohibition czar of Williamson County," and acting chief of police of Herrin, today was deported by the military.
Major General William Foreman, arriving here with 1,000 state militia from Chicago, notified the former prohibition agent he was ousted. Two automobiles strapped about his waist and seven machine guns were stationed in front of the city hall, where Young established himself after usurping the job of chief of police.

Sheriff George Galligan, arrested on Young's orders, was held a prisoner in the basement of the same building. Young refused to turn him over to the acting sheriff, Coroner William McConoy.
Young's Klansmen and 118 seven companies of state troops quartered here are patrolling the city separately without recognizing each other.
Many miners were looting about the streets today. They were talkably about Young. The troops have been called out by violence six times in the last fifty years, but only once has there been a Klan Young.

All of the coal mines in "Little Egypt" have closed today and many of the miners did not go to work in honor to Herrin to see what was doing.
Adjutant General Carlos Black is determined that there shall be no repetition of the massacre of June, 1922, when 25 union and non-union miners were slain.

"A WEEK", The Famous Russian Novel, Starts Saturday in THE DAILY WORKER

ADDRESS RELIEF IN GREAT BRITAIN IS G. P. CONTRIBUTION

Plan of Communists Gets Congress O. K.

(Special to The Daily Worker)
LONDON, Feb. 11.—The unemployed workers of Great Britain are sending the 2,000,000 jobs campaign to the Trades Union Congress and are launching a great national campaign for relief of the critical unemployment situation.

"The Unemployed Workers Charter," consisting of the minimum demands of the unemployed and the Trades Union Congress, will be made the issue in the national drive and the campaign intended to have the demands embodied in legislation that will become part of the British legal code. The demands are:

First—Work or effective maintenance for all unemployed and increased Government assistance to be provided there the trade unions, all relief being completely disconnected from the poor law administration.

Second—Immediate development of Government schemes for employment to absorb the unemployed.

Third—Establishment of State workshops to supply the necessary service or commodity to meet the requirements of the governmental departments.

Fourth—Reduction in the hours of labor sufficiently to absorb the unemployed workers without increasing the working day or week to be regulated by the requirements of industry.

Fifth—Establishment of occupational training centers for unemployed workers, with effective maintenance.

Sixth—Provision for suitable housing accommodation for rent within the means of the wage earner.

These demands originating with the Communist Party in the British labor movement and given much publicity through the unemployed committees have been regarded as impossible of realization but their endorsement by the Trades Union Congress and the launching of a national campaign for their implementation are regarded as a political success.

The Daily Herald characterizes the campaign as an indication of the increasing cooperation between the Trades Union Congress and the Communist Party.

The Communist Party of Great Britain for the last two years has been devoting much of its efforts to the organization of unemployed committees and a network of unemployed committees has been established all over Great Britain.

Frisco Waiters for Oregon and Against Huerfano

(Special to The Daily Worker)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 11.—The San Francisco Waiters' Union has telegraphed President Obregon of Mexico expressing its sympathy with him in the reform-revolution and denouncing the United Fruit Company, the telegram reads, "that your efforts in behalf of the workers of Mexico are largely responsible for this capitalist inspired revolt, but we are satisfied that your efforts will result in the return of freedom and order to your country."

At this moment when a strike-breaker is at the head of the government and when the country is in the midst of the unfolding of the worst sale of plunder in its odious annals of the looting of its wealth by the capitalists, it was not our task to unravel these mythical mystifications.

A few words about Lincoln's relationship with the working class in the struggle to abolish chattel slavery in the United States will be appropriate.

All ideals, social attitudes, political and economic rights, take root in the material conditions at hand and transmitted. In these material conditions the economic conditions are the dynamic force, the changing influence. Lincoln spoke and reflected the ideals of the lower middle class who with the farmers were the decided majority of the population of the United States in 1860. It was in this role that Lincoln was the helm in the fight against cotton culture.

The weakness and the wavering of the social class, in so far as they manifested themselves in the contradictions of the strengthening influence of the lower middle class and the enslaved class of Negroes. In the story of the Civil War the part played by these factors was grossly over-estimated. We recall how Frederick Douglass, the Negro orator, against Lincoln, said up the early phases to general chattel slavery. He called Lincoln a "white man's friend" who fought with the South even though he might strike the Negro with two; that he fought with the white hand, while they kept the MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 11.—Aside from the storms and cold weather back home, the chief topic of conversation in the warm and sunny Miami is the appearance of the parasite millionaires.

Making his first appearance on the white sands today, the new "Special" attracted a great interest, unenvied approval and might well be classed a knock-out.

The skirt consisting of a ruffle around the waist, a sort of abbreviated coat for cute little pants and a base for a décolleté jersey—this is all; there isn't any more.

Fall from the Senate.

"Mr. Doherty's companies, as well as Mr. Doherty, enjoyed an enviable reputation when he called on me in 1919."

MINERS STRIKE AT HERRIN TO OUST THE KLAN

Troops and Klan Are Patrolling the Streets

The Illinois militia, and promptly took over command of the situation, just as a coroner's jury was being held in the death of Constable Cagle.

"Adjuster General Carlos Black indicated just before the arrival of the Chicago troops, that Young would be ousted from control of the city very soon."

The coroner's inquest, held on the second floor of the city hall, was closed to all save jury men, witnesses and newspapermen.

The strikers to the room and all doors of the building, were guarded by soldiers. All who were authorized to enter the jury room, even the jurors, were searched for concealed weapons.

A. T. Pace, former mayor of Herrin, was arrested on a charge of complicity in connection with the murder of Constable Cagle. He was held by Young, was served on Pace just as he was being sworn in as foreman of the coroner's jury.

Jack Rowe, 23, one of the witnesses in the Cagle case, was the attack on Constable Cagle. He said he met a group of men in the downtown district and that they were carrying all brandishing guns, he said.

"Get out of the way," the men shouted. Rowe got out, he said, they followed him to the street, where they were where they commenced to attack. "There he is," and surrounded a man. The man who was Cagle, a member of the Herrin police force, reached the street in a hurry, and was killed. STUDENTS PRESENT HUGE REQUESTS BY MILLIONAIRES

Goose-Step Broken by Northwestern Leader

By CARL HANSLER
Great Commission of the Federal Reserve Bank, Feb. 11.—Student rumblings against the university's alliance with big business are being heard in unexpected quarters. Money obtained for the first time from socially questionable sources failed to receive the indulgence of a majority of students meeting in an all-conference in the First Methodist church of Evanston, Ill., Feb. 11. The uniformity of the goose-step is being demonstrated by the gift of over $400,000 from the gift of Montgomery Ward, late mail order magnate, and the resolution of the conference in a resolution that did not name the donor of the amount but said:

"We protest against endorsement by great accumulations of capital, when such accumulations have resulted from exploitation of the masses of this and every other people of the world."

Another bequest that is exciting antagonism is the $250,000 from the widow of Attorney Levy Mayer. The money, which was given to a new law school of Northwestern, may draw huge fees from the liquor interests and spent on the education of a young man in a vain attempt to break down the university's fight against prohibition. He failed, but he is regarded by the gift of a Methodist in the days before national prohibition. He failed, but he is regarded by the gift of a Methodist in the days before national prohibition.

Trustee control of faculty opinion, particularly by such trustees as the Standard Oil Co., the U. S. Steel Corporation, the Pullman Co., Campbell, Gary's son-in-law, on the board, but there are three or four other men identified by retailer or otherwise with the steel trust. Both sides of controversy are being more freely handled in the classrooms, students charge. A resolution was passed by 82 votes to 6, declaring:

"We protest against trustee control that says what a student may or may not study."
Honorary degrees have become a private joke at the University, sometimes bubbles over merely into classroom discussion. The grant of the just was the voting by the university's board of trustees of an honorary degree to Theodore Roosevelt in 1922. It is not recorded that Gary or any of the other trustees on the board voted against this self-starter degree.

Royal Bank Seeks to Rob Miners of Nova Scotia

By THE FEDERATED PRESS
HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 11.—An attack on the fighting of the miners and the file of the U. M. W. is planned by the Royal Bank of Canada. When during the strike in Sydney last July, the twenty and twenty-eight men of the district of Dan Livingston, present, A. S. McIntyre, vice president, and Lewis J. Lewis, secretary-treasurer, were proposed by John L. Lewis, general secretary of the district, appointed provincial president, the Royal Bank held an account some $5,000 to the credit of District 25.

The supreme court of Nova Scotia then decided against a claim of Silby Barrett to the ownership of said amount, which was a point out of the hearing. But as the district, according to the constitution of the United Mine Workers, had complete autonomy within the organization, the appointment of Barrett by John L. Lewis did not give Barrett the right to dispose of the money, although the old executive had been disregarded.

The Royal Bank has again brought about action in the supreme court of Nova Scotia to determine the ownership of the money. The hearing, in which the old executive, inclusive James M. McLachlan, who at present serves a two-year term for sedition bill, as well as the present provincial president of the district are supposed to appear, will be held here on the 15th of February.

Seek to Free Houston Negroes Doing Life in Leavenworth Prison

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—A delegation of Negroes, representing colored citizens throughout the country and the secretary of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called upon President Coolidge to submit a petition, containing 120,000 signatures, requesting presidential pardon for 54 members of the 24th infantry still serving sentences at Leavenworth for their alleged share in the Houston, Texas, riot of 1917.

(The spokesman of the delegation, James Waldon Johnson, put forward the following reasons for a pardon: The acknowledgment of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, called upon President Coolidge to submit a petition, containing 120,000 signatures, requesting presidential pardon for 54 members of the 24th infantry still serving sentences at Leavenworth for their alleged share in the Houston, Texas, riot of 1917.)

City Denies Aid to Nurses Succoring Mothers in Agony

By THE FEDERATED PRESS
NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—This city has a child welfare association, which has been limited to four 24-hour infantries; the provocation of the imprisoned men because of their color; the excessive punishment inflicted upon "criminals"; members of the 24th infantry, of whom 19 were hanged—all but six without privilege of appeal; and the exemplary behavior of the sentenced men as prisoners. Johnson declared that the Houston riot was incited when the 24th infantry troop guard had been disbanded and a colored soldier and a corporal were shot by white Texas policemen for refusing to march with a band of colored men. Signatures on the petition included those of civic, fraternal, educational, religious and journalistic spokesmen of the Negro race in the United States.

Church leaders and editors, acting behalf of hundreds of thousands of followers, supported the petition.

Workers Protest Blanket 'Equal Rights' Proposal

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Spokesmen of many important women's organizations, interested in the advancement of the industrial and social welfare of women, joined in a protest against the National Woman's party proposal of a blanket "equal rights" amendment, before the senate judiciary committee on Feb. 7.

Their argument was in substance that any constitutional change which undertakes to remove "discrimination against" women in the law would be opposed by reactionary courts to nullify all of the industrial welfare legislation for women which has been so painfully won in past years.

Spokesmen for the Women's Party declined to accept a hearing on the day of Woodrow Wilson's funeral, and asked for another chance to present their case. Sergeant, the chair, announced that they had declined to appear, but insisted that they be given a hearing.

"Big Four" in U. S. Press for "Clean-Up"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Representatives of the "Big Four" Mail-order Labor Unions are preparing to press President Coolidge for action in Alaska to "clean up" the situation.

In a letter to Mr. Coolidge, the labor men said that such an investigation "will reveal a conspiracy of magnitude and ramifications more serious and widespread by far than the disclosures resulting from the naval oil investigation."

Read Victim of Intrigue.
"Our investigation convinces us that the Alaska development of the Matanuska oil field, which has been carried on over a long period, directed by the navy department, which are determined to destroy it as a government-owned enterprise and to exploit Alaska for their exclusive benefit."

Several years ago an appropriation of $1,000,000 was obtained from Congress for the development of the Matanuska oil field, which if developed, would constitute an important factor in obtaining increased freight tonnage on the railroad.

Unemployment in Europe

STOCKHOLM, Sweden.—For the first time since February, 1922, the number of Swedes unemployed showed an increase. This is said to be largely due to unemployment in building construction work, 30 per cent of which has been adversely affected by the cold weather.

Decrease in Fake Money

Mellon frankly admits that the decrease in 1919 in the number of fake notes reported as over $400,000,000 is largely due to such evasion and is not due to any increase in the number of notes which have been destroyed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE TELLS OF CRAFT AND MILITARISM

Big Textile Concern Avoiding Taxes

(Special to The Daily Worker) CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 11.—A report to be published shortly on the agricultural and industrial situation in this state, by a committee under the leadership of the State Commissioner of Agriculture, will bring out the fact of exemption from taxation of certain interests, especially the American Manufacturing Corporation, and the consequent additional burden on the farmers. It will explain why 24 per cent of all farms were abandoned from cultivation between 1910 to 1920, according to census figures.

The preservation of the military caste is evidenced by a get-together to be held this week by all the officers in Concord, of the regular army, national guard and officers' reserve, who have their offices in the city. Down with Militarism! Long Live the Army! So cry the hawkers of the American Legion and the Co. Coo Clubs.

H. J. Trumbull of the Bureau for the Promotion of State Police of New York City, was in New Hampshire to interest in the Farm Bureau Federation, and the New Hampshire Manufacturers Association. It is not certain whether his efforts will be successful this time, because of the extra tax levied by the farmers, already victimized by the textile interests with their alliance in politics. It is interesting to note that there is a special law in New York, "propagating for the state police, who act as a strike breaking agency in every state which exists."

The foolishness of our statecraft is shown by the answer of Senator George H. Moses to the Financial Bill, a question on general business conditions: "Any opinion I might express in answer to your question would be of little value because I am not at all a business man. Such refreshing ignorance," said Morgan should not permit legislation to flourish in the name of Mr. Moses isn't wise enough to know anything about business, how the devil can he legislate about business? And if Moses knows nothing about business, why is he such a staunch upholder of the Mellon plan to reduce the taxation burden of the rich? So far the workers of New Hampshire have given little thought to these questions.

United Front of Progressives Will Carry Northwest For New Party, Said Mahoney--Last Month

This is the case of Mahoney vs. Mahoney. William Mahoney, of the Workmen's Political Non-Partisan League of Minnesota, who recently published a statement recommending that the Farmer-Labor Convention call for May 8th be postponed, in the January, 1924, issue of "Labor Age," writes as follows, answering his own proposal:

"No New Party at First." "The plan is not to organize a new party. It is to unify all progressive forces in a great campaign for joint candidates for President and Vice-President. If, after the close of the contest, conditions are favorable it may be possible to form a united Farmer-Labor-Progressive Party. If this program can fail all the Northwest will be carried by the New Party."

"Some little difficulty will be encountered from those in the movement who still cling with the old parties. Here in Minnesota a few of the old-time Democrats oppose a national movement for purposes of the movement that we should wait for the Democrats or the Republicans. If so, they declare, no other nominations should be made."

IRISH RADICALS HOLD MEETING IN CLEVELAND Organize Connolly Club Boost Daily Worker

(Special to The Daily Worker) CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 11.—Albert F. Coyne, editor of the Locomotive, and Thomas J. O'Flaherty, of the Daily Worker, were principal speakers at the Irish radicals held here Sunday. At the close of the meeting a club was organized to carry the Connolly message to the Irish workers in Cleveland working in cooperation with the local location of the Workers Party of America.

- T. J. O'Flaherty spoke on the work of James Connolly and his principles on the labor movement in Ireland and the correctness of his analysis of the situation of the Irish people. He stressed the Marxist knowledge to good advantage. He said that a party as well as a theorist. He was understood at the time by the periodical, who in a recent fashion quoted Marx page by page without understanding him but could not link up the essence of Marxism—which is revolution—with the situation that confronted them in their own country.

Albert F. Coyne, spoke on the communist principles in Ireland and the contribution the Irish workers can make to the American movement. He appealed strongly for the formation of a labor party and urged his audience to leave the party. He said that the party is the money power and not the producers. Mr. Coyne was well received and was applauded at the conclusion of his address and the Irish people of the James Connolly's Labor in Irish History and the Irish People, the official organ of the Irish American Labor League.

There is a large Irish population in Cleveland, and the James Connolly Literary Society has set itself the task of bringing Connolly's message to the Irish workers. The society has organized a meeting on the second and fourth Thursday of each month. The society will be held on Thursday, Feb. 14, at 143 E. 10th St. His subject will be "Education of Revolutionists."

After Bennett's talk there will be discussion and motions. The branch, which is one of the best in New York City, holds its meetings on the second and fourth Thursday of each month.

(Special to The Daily Worker) LANESVILLE, Mass., Feb. 11.—Mary Wrenn, of the Workers Party had been in Lanseville, had signed up for the Finnish school, except for the Lanseville of the Workers Party. But this day she was in Lanseville, and she were put up, announcing that Max Salama, National Organizer for the Young Workers League, would speak on "Youth in Industry," and, horror of horrors, "Children's Council."

Shades of our revolutionary fathers! Their memory must be revered. And near the cart of the voluntary firemen, who still the town sign on meeting. They appealed to the police, who drove the people from the meeting, and who flocked to the meeting, and who were followed by the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

Lanesville is a granite town, to resist a wage cut, the Finnish workers gave a splendid example of solidarity, even as the workers generally weak, and are permeated with the spirit of class collaboration, especially in the case of the granite workers of Lanseville. At present there is a strike in the granite industry, and the workers have had to leave for the woods in the winter.

Like all provincial towns, Lanseville, or rather the 100 percent capitalist society, and the fact that neither they nor the workers have the means to resist a wage cut, the Finnish workers gave a splendid example of solidarity, even as the workers generally weak, and are permeated with the spirit of class collaboration, especially in the case of the granite workers of Lanseville. At present there is a strike in the granite industry, and the workers have had to leave for the woods in the winter.

LaFollette's Game

Senator Robert M. LaFollette is playing a double game and a dangerous one—as all double gamblers are.

He is gambling for the republican nomination while whispering words of sympathy to workers and farmers, who want him to break national with his party of reaction and head a national Farmer-Labor party.

In Illinois such notorious labor fakery as John H. Walker are endeavoring to organize a movement to place him on the ticket in the presidential primary, and the son of the senator, Philip LaFollette, is to speak at a meeting where the project will be broached as proof that the scheme has Senator LaFollette's endorsement.

LaFollette has not done his best to tear the last ray of respectability from the quivering form of the republican party is shown by his surrender of the leadership in the Teapot Dome expose to Senator Walsh, a reactionary democrat, after LaFollette had started the investigation; he has taken no prominent part in the proceedings, but has profited from the exposure of his rivals in both parties.

If LaFollette does not intend to attempt to salvage the wreckage of the republican party by driving for the presidency as its candidate, why has he not taken the greatest opportunity ever presented to him to put his own life and the proof of the bi-partisan corruption of the American capitalist government at hand in the oil graft exposures, called upon the masses to desert the stinking carcasses of elephant and donkey?

The explanation is to be found, we believe, in the self-evident fact that LaFollette wants to be exposed as a more than willing to sabotage the mass movement of the workers and farmers for political independence to satisfy his personal ambitions. He would much prefer to see a republican president, occupying a certain amount of allegiance to the respectable middle-class elements in the republican party and a certain amount to the capitalists of America than be elected president by a Farmer-Labor party warring upon all the privileged elements in American economic and political life.

LaFollette is no leader of the masses. He is a politician with all the usual vacillations and hesitations and vacillations of his class and in our opinion is the ideal type for the reactionaries to use in overcoming the discredit brought upon the republican party by their kept politicians.

LaFollette in the presidential chair as the spokesman of a political party of workers and farmers might give the working masses an opportunity to organize their forces for a stronger assault of American capitalism.

LaFollette elected to the presidency on the republican ticket would be another Wilson—or worse. His fighting qualities—considerably overestimated in our opinion—would be used in behalf of the employers and not of the workers and farmers.

Senator LaFollette would do well to ponder another aspect of the situation that arises from the interest in which workers and farmers are watching his maneuvers. He may not get the republican nomination after all and among the militant workers and farmers the desirability as his candidate on a Farmer-Labor ticket.

It is quite possible that Senator LaFollette is committing the mistake often made by those who profess great concern over the wrongs of the masses, but who are careful never to attack these evils at their root—the mistake of attacking in the masses can be fooled forever by phrases, when they want action.

Poor Mr. Mellon!

That stalwart guardian of our national treasury, Mr. Andrew Mellon, of Pittsburgh, has let out a wail unto the heavens against the attempt of the democrats and insurgent republicans to inject politics into the tax question.

Ever the old adage, that "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones," was true, it is infinitely truer in this instance. Mr. Mellon has all too often used his office to help politically and financially the powerful manufacturing and banking interests supporting his party. Besides, Mr. Mellon has, with increasing frequency, more than made up for the sacrifice he incurred when he took this "poor man's" job in Washington by his sundry ruses of tax payment and amortization in the cases of the Gulf Oil Corporation, the Standard Steel Car Company, and the Aluminum Trust.

Mr. Mellon is personally and directly interested in these three gigantic concerns. But the most timely blow yet struck at Mellon's hypocritical cry for non-partisanship in the tax question is that delivered by the republican party in the House of Representatives on February 12, 1935. This report shows that one person in Pennsylvania made a return of net income of between two and three million dollars. Another return of net income of between one and one and a half million dollars was filed in Pennsylvania. The wealthier of these persons was undoubtedly Mr. Mellon who had a net income of $2,223,058.00. On a net income of two million dollars, Mr. Mellon would be saving under his "non-partisan tax scheme" approximately $503,406.00.

When these figures are compared with the returns of the other 47,476 persons in Pennsylvania who made returns on incomes between three and four thousand dollars the glaring hypocrisy of Mr. Mellon comes into sharper relief. As a matter of fact, Mr. Mellon alone would save more under his plan than all these small tax-payers put together.

Workers Party in Action at Coal Miners' Convention

By J. W. JOHNSON.

THE coal miners' convention, held in Indianapolis, Ind., which ended on Saturday, was one of the most clearly the new turn which the American labor movement has been making in the past few years. It was the first time since the war that the workers have taken control of the organization. Even under the leadership of progressive delegates in the convention.

The convention can be summarized as follows: (1) Convention opens with John Lewis seemingly in complete control. (2) In spite of the terrific red baiting, the Communist faction is kept out of the convention. (3) Majority of delegates in opposition to the administration. (4) The progressive delegates are given the floor and the resolutions that had been railroaded through in early days of the convention.

(5) Lewis is forced to resign completely, ending the convention. (6) The delegates in opposition to the administration are given the floor and the resolutions that had been railroaded through in early days of the convention.

Some gathering of 1,800 delegates, it is more like a mass meeting than a convention, the millions had some work out for them.

is how the ever-growing anti-administration forces, from the pure Communist for leader to the best of an honest administration to the party sympathizers, looked to the workers for leadership.

The value to our party of the work of the miners' convention can only be measured by the fact that the miners' union, the Workers Party, has taken advantage of its program, and has secured every district of the coal as well as the everyday struggles of the miners, we must be able enough to capitalize this situation by organizational measures.

Out of this convention has come a powerful left wing movement, some hundreds of delegates actually giving their names and addresses so that they can organize their forces against the reactionaries. These hundreds of delegates are being organized, and will carry the fight back to the membership. They are determined to first get rid of Lewis. To do so they are going to call a special convention to elect a new administration.

The result. All in all, the results of our action, in all the three of us, are badly damaged, his efforts are undermined, a strong left wing movement has been organized, and the Workers Party political leadership as well as the leadership of the miners' union are lauded, however. The militant forces in the miners' union must be kept solidly together.

The sting of defeat of Indianapolis must be wiped out, and that can only be done by the administration of the Lewis administration, their removal from office, and the re-organization of the Workers Party which has a fundamental understanding of the class struggle and will fight for it.

This is the immediate objective and will be reached.

New York Rent Relief

In view of the New York State Assembly's voting to extend the emergency rent laws to 1936, the workers of the metropolis may consider government action in the housing crisis closed.

When the President appointed Attila Frenko, who is being reported as a member in the Ohio Senatorial election, was awarded the lucrative job of being counsel for fifteen railroads corporations whom he served in the Senate by helping to put over the Eack-Cummins Railroad Act, he showed his ugly hand in the whole oil steal. When Coolidge appointed oil men, particularly a Sinclair oil official, to his campaign for Governor of the State as California, he drove the nail into the lid of the coffin in which all his innocent plea for political disinterestedness now lies dead.

The report of the New York State Commission on Housing and Regional Planning is in itself a monument to the failure of these emergency laws to relieve the acuteness of the crisis. The report states very definitely that since 1920 the housing conditions have become steadily more miserable, bordering on disaster.

The only legislative act of the Legislature in action in adopting unanimously the bill to extend the emergency rent laws two years is the desire of the government to circumscribe the landlord's power and ruin in such a way as merely to avoid a social explosion on the part of the suffering tenants against the disgraceful living conditions.

The laws were not re-enacted to help the tenants. They were re-enacted to help the landlord class. These laws don't even pretend to check the persistent vicious practice of the landlords in refusing repairs and in forcing tenants to make the huge profits of the landlord class. These laws don't even pretend to check the persistent vicious practice of the landlords in refusing repairs and in forcing tenants to make the huge profits of the landlord class.

These laws will not help the workers because they deliberately do not strike at the root of the housing evil—the control of their homes—by the capitalist class for private profit.
