BRITISH DOCK WORKERS WIN GREAT STRIKE

Prstige of Labor Movement Enormously Increased

(Special to The Daily Worker)
LONDON, Feb. 21.—The end of the greatest dock strike in British history is scheduled for today. Employers have agreed to yield a two shilling increase, tho they are postponing this full-week work guarantee issue and maintenance of unemployed for later negotiations. Representatives of the dock workers' unions reached the agreement with the employers after an all night session. The strike will end when the union delegates ratify the agreement. The strike was practically 100 per cent effective in every British port—the first time a great national movement of the dockers was ever carried out. More than 120,000 men were involved. The nation's food supplies were reaching a low level.

Labor Movement Strengthened.
The success of the strike will enormously increase the prestige of the labor movement in England. The Macdonald government, who would have damaged it forever if it had turned itself into a strike-breaking machine.

Official support, which the British Trade Union Congress gave the strike, is believed to have been the deciding factor that prevented the government from yielding to the demands of its anti-strike supporters in the ranks of the liberals.

Rail Men Gave Support.

Days will pass before the congestion caused by the strike can be cleared away. In Southampton thousands of sacks of American mail are lying in lighters. Railroad workers refused to touch any cars loaded by seab labor.

Employers lost sympathy of a large part of the middle class public even when it was learned that the average profits last year exceeded 20 per cent. On the other hand the cost of living has advanced so that the workers, with the two billion in arrears, will not be so well off as they were before the cut of two years ago.

Pious Pugs Stage Big Fistic Bout in Lord's Temple

DENVER, Colo., Feb. 21.—A church was used for prayer meeting and boxing bouts in the same evening here last night. The Merritt Mermal Methodist Church staged a combination amok and prayer meeting. Seven winners were awarded the palm of victory in as many boxing matches. After the devotional services in the earlier part of the evening, led by the Rev. B. B. Kasper, the congregation made its way to the basement of the church where a ring was roped off for the matches.

Church Row Brings Expulsion.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 21.—Rev. E. H. Williamson, student pastor, was expelled from the Baptist Theological Seminary here today following a dispute with a member of the faculty over points reported to be involved in the Modernist-fundamentalist controversy.

Find $15,000 Missing.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 21.—A search today succeeded in opening the safe of the Savings Branch of the Commerce Union Bank which had been jammed for two days and found $15,000 in cash missing.

Aged Worker, Scrapped by Bosses, Gives Up Struggle and Ends Life

(Special to The Daily Worker)
MOBERLY, Mo., Feb. 21.—Henry Miller dog had been out of employment and destitute several days, he had been sleeping in the rear of a shoe shop here. In a fit of despondency over his circumstances, Miller hanged himself this week in his makeshift sleeping quarters. He was 65 years old, and he found his eye against him whenever he applied for employment.

POINCARE BARELY GETS CONFIDENCE VOTE IN SENATE

Exposed as Disburser of Czar's Bribes

(Special to The Daily Worker)
PARIS, Feb. 21.—With the franc still at worse than 24 to the dollar Poincare barely succeeded today in gaining a vote of confidence in the senate, by 100 to 134. The vote shows a decided break away from the strength he had recently.

The proposed election laws were adopted but it is not yet learned whether the features objectionable to the government were eliminated or not. Poincare has stated that he would resign when the laws were not deleted from the bill.

The French premier has lost his popularity in Paris. The confusion in business circles since the crash of the franc is blamed on his international policy.

Exposures in L'Humanite of Poincare's role as disburser for the Russian subsidies to the vernal French press in the years preceding the Russian revolution have played a large part in the loss of confidence. Poincare has not denied the exposures, which are supported by authentic documents from the Czar's archives, taken over by the Soviet government, and turned over to a member of the French communist paper's staff for investigation.

President Millerand has barred all foreigners from the Paris bourse—claiming that their speculations in French securities have contributed to the anarchical conditions there. The counter charge is made that Millerand does not want outsiders to see what is going on.

FIVE-CENT FARE HAS WON BIG PROFITS FOR N. J. TROLLEY SYSTEM

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Feb. 21.—The five-cent fares, instituted by the Public Service Railway Co., after the strike last summer and early fall show a profit, according to the financial report for December of the company. A deficit of $100,000 in November was wiped out in December and a credit of $47,781 piled up. There were 8,000,000 more passengers in December, 1923, with the decrease in fare than in December, 1922, before the rate was cut. The company operates in almost 150 Jersey cities and villages.

LADIES' TAILORS IN FIGHT TO ENFORCE RAISE

Demand Five Day Work Week; 8 Hours

Ten thousand local garment workers have made all preparations to strike to enforce their demands for an eight-hour day, a five day work week and an increase of 15 per cent over the wages now effective in the Chicago market.

In a statement to The DAILY WORKER the leaders of the Chicago Joint Board of the International Ladies' Garment Workers Union which is conducting the strike, declared that plans are now perfected and that efforts will be directed to force instructions, without delay directing the strikers what hall to go to for instructions.

The manufacturers of ladies' garments in this city have declared their determination to resist the efforts of the union members to secure their demands. The various boss associations are joining together in order to more effectively resist the workers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—President Coolidge today nominated Charles B. Warren, Detroit, Mich., to be ambassador to Mexico.

COX ASKS JOB AS JACKASS JOCKEY; NO PLATFORM YET

1920 Candidate Chief Rival to McAdoo

(Special to The Daily Worker)
CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 21.—Ohio following an announcement last night that James M. Cox, former Ohio governor and defeated candidate in the 1920 election, definitely had entered the lists as a candidate for the democratic nomination for president.

The battle is between Cox supporters and backers of presidential aspirant, who is admittedly popular in the state. What the former Ohio governor does in the April primaries will have much weight with national bourse leaders, local democratic believe.

McAdoo Headquarters, in charge of former Judge David L. Rockwell, here was silent today as to what course will be followed.

Supporters of Cox believe that McAdoo adherents will not come out in the open in a primary fight but will name Cox in their delegate petitions.

This was seen in the filing yesterday at Columbus of declaration, candidacy as delegate of Harry H. Weiss, Canton. Weiss named Cox as first choice and James E. Campbell, former Ohio governor, as second choice. Cox's friends believe that Weiss is a McAdoo supporter in disguise.

Cox is in Miami, Fla.

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 21.—Former governor James M. Cox of Ohio, democratic standard bearer in 1920, is again a candidate for the presidency, but how far he will press his fight, and what will be his major issues, he is not ready to say.

In his 1920 campaign Cox was a strong apostle of the league of nations and in his speeches during the last two years he has consistently held failure of the United States to enter the league as responsible for many of its current ills, both domestic and international.

GOVERNMENT IS CORRUPT, VANDERLIP

Banker, Sued For Libel, Hits "Wholesale Dishonesty"

(Special to The Daily Worker)
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—"Corruption has attacked the government at its heart," charges Frank L. Vanderlip in a statement following his $600,000 libel action brought against him by Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore, purchasers of the late President Harding's Marion Star.

The former head of the National City Bank called for a thorough house cleaning of the Washington government. He pointed his finger at the fact that there had been no court proceedings against the management of the Alien Property Administration and he denounced the failure to prosecute the "wholesale dishonesty" of the veterans' bureau.

Welcomes Court Proceedings.

"The courts are an effective means to bring sunlight," Vanderlip says, "to the dark corners of this court proceeding." Vanderlip's statement begins: "I hope that is the foremost of either court proceedings. There is nothing this government needs so much as some court proceedings initiated by grand juries and presided by incorruptible prosecuting attorneys."

Twenty-two months ago in April, 1922, the senate by a vote of 64 to 26, called for the facts in the Teapot Dome leases. That resolution was so framed that the red flag of suspicion was run up. For weeks no answer was received and the matter was urgently pressed for, and thereafter, until quite recently, the search for the facts was made without vigor. What were the newspapers doing for 22 months? What course did the senate pursue? It looks as if somebody had been asleep at the switch. At least no court proceedings have yet resulted from the investigation.

"Wholesale Dishonesty."

"Nor have there been, so far as I am aware, any court proceedings initiated as a result of the criminal mismanagement of the veterans' bureau. The whole dishonesty there is a matter of rumor. It is a matter of official record in the committee proceedings and the proceedings of congress. Mr. Forbes and his friends have as yet encountered no court proceedings.

"There has been no court proceedings nor even a thorough investigation of the alien property administration. There are other directions in which court proceedings would be admirable."

"Congress today is spending its time solemnly and patiently debating an income tax measure. It is like discussing the size of a faucet when you would put in a barrel leaking between half the state. If we can have honest administration of the taxes that are collected, the rate of income tax will take care of itself."

Worse Than Foreign Fox.

"If this country were invaded by an alien foe and I were a young man I believe I would offer myself for its defense. It has been attacked by something more dangerous than a military invasion by a foreign foe. Corruption has attacked the government at its heart."

"I believe that the facts are not yet presented are not being acted upon."

Vanderlip Sued for $600,000.
NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Louis H. Brush and Roy D. Moore, owners of the Marion, Ohio, Star, have brought suit for $600,000 against Frank A. Vanderlip, New York banker and former president of the National City Bank, charging his conduct on February 11, in which he declared the Marion Star was purchased from President Harding at a figure twice its value, impugned not only the character of the president, but the management of the president.

Hit as Gambler in Oil Stocks Calls in Aid of U. S. Sleuths

WASHINGTON (Special to The Daily Worker) Feb. 21.—Senator General Daugherty today called in William J. Burns, head of the Department of Justice Secret Service, to help him prepare a counter-attack on his critics.

Burns and Rush Holland, assistant to Daugherty, who recently has been "sitting in" at hearings of the Senate Teapot Dome Committee, spent several hours in Daugherty's apartment.

It was intimated there might be a statement later replying to the attack on Daugherty by an author of a resolution for investigation of Daugherty's administration.

Show Daugherty Oil Speculator

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Senator Burton K. Wheeler declared today that he had received a written report from a special investigator indicating Daugherty had speculated in oil stocks. The evidence relates to the Sinclair company.

Wheeler's resolution will be taken up in the senate, White House officials said. Wheeler obtained the report of the investigator last week. He was in the White House to see President Coolidge last Sunday, but a brother of Senator Walsh, Montana, was struck by an automobile and Wheeler took him to the hospital, making him late for his engagement to see the President.

Other senators who were at the White House are understood to have told Mr. Coolidge of the report. Senator Walsh also has a copy of the report. The identity of the special investigator is not known. His report involved a cabinet officer and a senator. He is considered by Wheeler to be a "responsible authority." The senator, Davis Ekin, West Virginia, said yesterday he had speculated in Sinclair oil stock.

Probers Are Mum.

Members of the Teapot Dome committee today refused to affirm or deny reports that Daugherty's name was found on stock brokers' books examined in connection with the committee's investigation.

The story circulated was that Daugherty had lost $11,000 in oil stock, not however stock connected in any way with the scandal. Daugherty could not be reached for a statement on these reports. Chairman Lenroot of the committee, who had no information regarding them, said yesterday he had speculated in Sinclair oil stock.

ALL DIAN
DAUGHERTY

Wheeler's Evidence Has Gal's
Pals in a Panic

By LAURENCE TODD
Special Correspondent of the Federal Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Wheeler has the Coolidge gang and their oil-smeared allies frightened. They are ready now to throw Harry Daugherty overboard at the Montana's demand, and they will yield others to public inquiry and exposure if he continues to gather the information that the government should have gathered six months ago.

Stock Gambling Leaks Out.
After Denby's resignation was made public Feb. 18, it was revealed that no longer patronage than Senator Borah had learned of the case against Daugherty in connection with stock market deals and had gone to the White House and demanded that Coolidge compel Daugherty to get out of the cabinet.

He told the president bluntly that the country had no confidence in Daugherty, that such a man at the head of the department would make victory in the coming election impossible, and that the hour for his going had struck.

Coolidge presently called Daugherty into his study and conferred with Borah, and asked the Idaho senator to repeat what he had said. Borah repeated, Daugherty became angry and ugly, defying the senate or any senator to say whether he should remain in the administration. Borah walked out.

Coolidge then conferred with Old Guard chiefs, and a group of them went to see Daugherty at his home, and tried to persuade him to resign. He refused. They warned him that the party was in danger, they threatened that they would not vote for him at the next election.

Brokers Ready to Testify.
What Wheeler was prepared for this. He had himself invited into the first long secret session held by the probe committee, when the evidence he had secured with reference to stock deals handled by the Bankers in New York was laid before him.

Members of the Bankers firm were kept waiting two hours in an empty room while the committee debated the next move with Wheeler, and with Pennington and Robert Taft, president's special counsel, were brought from the White House to the conference to advise the committee.

Harrison of Mississippi, in a following indictment, charged that he had secured a large number of affidavits, coupled with a white-hot indignation, which he stated that Theodore Roosevelt, deputy secretary of the navy, was that as guilty as the others, and that "every official implicated in this damnable matter should be removed from office, and the names of those who formerly shundered and browbeated the senate, and who were in his chair."

The cabinet meeting had taken place during the morning, and Daugherty had emerged in his ugliest and most defiant mood, showing signs of having been under high nervous strain.

(Special to The Daily Worker)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Senate Teapot Dome Committee today was given a day's adjournment when public hearings are resumed Monday. These are:

- 1.—Questioning of Harry F. Sinclair, chief counsel to the President concerning the making of that lease with Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, and financial transactions with Fall and others connected with the leasing of the oil fields.
- 2.—Investigation to disclose special deals by other government officials outside Don Basin, with the exception of West Virginia, who admitted making operations in Sinclair oil, but said he had no tip and made no profit.
- 3.—Seek Fraud in Lease.

Sinclair is now regarded by the committee as its star witness. Upon his testimony also the President's special counsel, Alvin Foxworth and Owen J. Roberts, are depending. It is said, for the clinching of their case showing fraud and corruption in connection with leasing of the oil fields of the oil reserves.

Whether Senator Sinclair's testimony also will provide necessary evidence, will be seen in the course of the criminal prosecution.

Something Big Coming

DETROIT has declared war on Chicago. The fight being waged by Edgar Owens, challenging Chicago hoodlum boss Duncanson, is not only a local affair, but is also a national one, as it has been accepted by Comrade Gus Schulenberg, city agent for Chicago, and the battle is on with heavy increases in the DAILY WORKER circulation expected on both sides.

In the meantime Comrade Harvitt, DAILY WORKER chief of Toledo, is not making hostile demonstrations but is quietly knocking off one subscriber after another. The most bitter snuffing is being endured in THE DAILY WORKER business office, where overtime has become the generally accepted method of paying subscribers who are entering on the mailing list promptly.

The worst of the whole matter is the hostility is spreading thru the entire country to such an extent that there is hardly a city in which the DAILY WORKER boosters are any longer attempting to maintain neutrality. It seems that it means civil war and bitter war. Under the conditions there is no longer any use in concealing the fact. Let there be war and new subscriptions without stint or limit. Let every worker who is not ruled set so that the punishment which is now being centralized in the business office can be made as painless as possible.

Within the next few days definite plans will be made for a real national DAILY WORKER subscription campaign. Every reader of THE DAILY WORKER, every member of the branch and City Central Committee, every branch of the Young Workers League and its Junior Groups, in other words every militant throughout the length and breadth of the country will be drawn into the drive which will take the very heart of the DAILY WORKER. Watch THE POWER COLUMN for additional information regarding this Ten Thousand New Readers Campaign. No reader of our paper, no party unit can afford to be uninformed or late in getting into the drive from the very start.

THE name of Comrade Harvitt of Toledo cannot be kept out of the POWER COLUMN, it seems. This comrade has ideas which are so good that they cannot be kept from the rest of the DAILY WORKER boosters. Harvitt reports that he is using his commissions to finance those who wish to subscribe to THE DAILY WORKER, but who do not have the ready cash to pay. Harvitt pays the subscription price for these loyal but broke DAILY WORKER readers and collects when their financial condition is improved. That is a good way for keeping up the circulation of our paper; everyone is benefited. THE DAILY WORKER, the agent and the reader. Comrade Leo W. Walker, DAILY WORKER readers and collectors when they are in Minneapolis, Minn., has also employed the same plan and makes the further suggestion that branches which are financially able, set aside a small amount, say ten or twenty dollars, in addition to the funds which the branch agent can advance. In this way, says Comrade Walker, every comrade, especially those who subscribe to foreign language papers, but who would also like to have THE DAILY WORKER, can secure the paper and pay for it later.

A HIGHLY efficient, but modest Chicago comrade, who does not want his name published, has another excellent suggestion. Says this comrade, "It is easy to sell subscriptions to workers who are already sympathetic and who know about THE DAILY WORKER. But there are many who do not know about it. They are not in any contact whatsoever with the militant labor movement and who are slow in appreciating the worth of our paper. With these people I have been employing a good idea. I pick out a particularly good news article or editorial, which contains information that no other papers ever print. Then I get my prospect to read that article; then I tell him that I have a paper which has that article in it. I can print news and articles which no capitalist paper would dare to use because THE DAILY WORKER is published solely in the interests of the workers and has no interests of bankers, employers or advertisers. I tell him that THE DAILY WORKER editorial will sell a subscription to THE DAILY WORKER, when a sample copy of the paper is thrown away without having been read."

Don't Let Your Subscription Expire!

Readers of THE DAILY WORKER are cautioned to watch the expiration number which appears on the address label of their paper. This number is a three digit number, the first digit being less than "33" should renew their subscriptions at once to avoid the interruption of their paper. Since THE DAILY WORKER was started on a different system of keeping track of expirations has been changed. The address label now shows the expiration date, the date of the last issue, and the date of the next issue. Those whose label date is prior to 3-1-34, or March 1, should also take note that their renewals must be sent in immediately.

Because of the admitted superiority of THE DAILY WORKER over other daily papers, the editorial department of THE DAILY WORKER has in the world reported more accurately in the past few years than any other paper, no live worker can afford to miss it.

Don't forget, send in your renewal NOW! Wednesday.

Pat On Clean Streets

The committee of "neutral citizens" in simply the Klan is now being dispersed to go to work. The deeds of the Kluxers got them into disrepute so they must be fought and put in new clothes. They might as well have a visit to the laundry. They may wear clean civvie clothes for a little while.

The official organ of the Klan of Illinois gives a list of the prominent citizens who favor the Klan and the formation of a Citizens' Committee. There is not a worker among them. This same paper also published the names of the "criminals" who were responsible for the disorders. They are all workers and mostly union men.

The prohibition of liquor is only an excuse to punish the miners for being members of the Klan. The repression of the Ku Klux at the Indianapolis convention of the W. A. also ranks as one of the breasts of the bigots and they took it out on the members of the union. The anti-labor character of the Ku Klux Klan dry raids and sign of terror in Williamson county, was pointed out by an official report of the Martin Leonard case prepared by the DAILY WORKER, by local 1192, United Mine Workers of America. After describing Leonard as a self-sacrificing parent of ten orphaned children, the report also described the unwarranted raid and S. Glen Young. The report states:

"While cooking breakfast for his family and preparing breakfast for his two sons and himself, he was disturbed at the mines (Feb. 2) Leonard answered the door and on his way to answer a woman demanding the right to search the house for intoxicating liquor. The three men were standing in the yard. Three of the men entered the house. One man stayed in the house and talked with Leonard. Leonard was saying: 'Yes, I had two sons volunteer in the world, and I have three more when I get home. When they return, and one of them knocked him out of a window. Leonard's son, John, was his father's rescue, but was clubbed on the head. Patrick of a revolt over by another raid."

"James, another son, and John took their buckets to go to work. Leonard was pretty badly cut across his nose and around his eye. He intended to go to the doctor.

"Young and the raiders returned with warrants for Leonard and his sons, John, James and John, charging them with disturbing the peace, assault and resisting an officer. John and James were manacled by the raiders to change their clothes and wash at the mine and were paraded up and down Broadway so they could be seen by their father. They were landed in jail and held until $1500 was paid for their release. Leonard's son, John, was released. The superintendent is a glowing trier of fact books as chief of 'managers' of present day industry."

SIOUX FALLS, Feb. 21.—W. W. Hayes, of Volney, S. D., chairman of the McAdoo closing conference in Chicago yesterday, did not speak for the dirt farmers of South Dakota but for the dirty capitalist politicians who he pledged his naive state to the McAdoo booters.

A political storm raving the temper in the Teapot Dome broke here yesterday when his wiles flashed the news that McAdoo was sufficiently recovered from his attack of oil fever to warrant the removal of the quarantine, and was fully qualified to carry the banner of democracy at the head of the hungry oil hunters who now thirst for the spoils of office.

John P. Healdman of Watertown, who has a slice of his own, does not hold McAdoo's progressivism in high esteem. # HERMAN BASTLER TELLS MISERY OF GERMAN WORKERS

50 Per Cent Jobless; Children Tubercular

Herman Bastler, member of the Berlin Executive Committee of the International Workers Order in America for a series of conferences with the Friends of Soviet Russia and Workers' Germany, met with other American workers' organizations.

He was interviewed last night by a representative of the DAILY WORKER and gave the following interesting picture of the conditions under which the misera of the German people now live. He also brought with him motion pictures of German misery which will be shown in the coming F. S. R. film, to be called "Russia's Misery." Organizations desiring to book the picture can do so through the National Office at 32 Wabash avenue, Chicago.

Millions Unemployed. "When I left Germany more than half of the industrial workers were unemployed because of strikes, lock-outs, or the general industrial depression. Unemployed benefits amounted to little as to be meaningless. The benefit for an entire week in many cases, would pay a loaf of bread. The worst pictures of German hunger now extorted by the American public are 100 per cent untrue. There are 10 million unemployed in Germany on the part of the working classes of the whole world can save millions of German men, women and particularly children from a miserable death," he said.

He went on to tell of his work in investigating actual cases of misery that came before the Berlin Workers' organization. "Statistics don't mean much to Germans who must figure the price of bread, the price of coal, the marks and who have time after time lost their jobs. In Berlin 68 per cent of the population are unemployed. But actual cases of the dozens were found that revealed misery beyond description. In one instance, the only bread winner in a family of eight had been unemployed for six months as a messenger in the Reichsbank at a weekly wage of 2.50 marks, about 65 cents. Yet the family of two children are invalids. Every morning the boy must walk one foot for three-quarters of an hour because he cannot afford carfare. His only food consists of a plate of soup at noon. Last Christmas their pitiful plight, bought for a few pennies, cost them three weeks' wages, so the following three weeks the whole family had to exist on the few pennies unemployment subsidy granted the mother by the government.

Hide Their Poverty. "This is just one case, and by no means the worst. The people have no length to try to hide their poverty. We saved one little girl from starvation only because other children had heard her father to report, over and over again, that his wife had died. Clothing is patched and darned. It cannot be any further, and even then I have seen little girls hold their hands over unmade beds in their dresses to keep them from the eyes of their friends. A flower in one of the schools reported that in the severest winter, 16 per cent of the children had no shoes and 15 per cent were without underwear of any description. It is REGISTER NOW

There are any wonder that of 1,720 children examined by doctors in the United States in 1923 were found to be tubercular and 48 per cent suffering from acute under-nourishment.

"One of the doctors engaged in this work said to me: 'It is a singular and humiliating admission from a doctor, but I must say that Justice is not the only authority that is vindicated. The doctor who has time taken to pick out the worst cases for excursions to other countries should also be vindicated when time comes to make the choice, for each one of us has a duty to do. We must serve and needs support, vaccinations and help.'

L. Look Like 18. "The youth who are leaving the schools all show the effects years of malnutrition. Girls of fifteen have the retarded growth of children of 12. This year's crop of the total for the youth seeking work are certified as being 58 per cent of their work physical condition. Of course, they accept any kind of work offered for 'unqualified tasks' because of their weak physical condition. poverty-stricken home, finally left to starve in Berlin alone 24,000. November she lost her job, failed to find another, slept in the Municipal Home where her children were crowded. In seeking work she took gripes, exposure and due to illness was discharged from a hospital with a certificate to the effect that she was in need of special care—but with nothing but the certificate as a record her home were closed against her. She went to the streets as a result.

Warm Meal Each 2 Days. "The International Arbeitlerhilfe is unable to do all it would like to do to help these poor unfortunate but it does what it can. It gives them on one warm meal a day can be given, and in most cases only one warm meal a day. Yet the thousands who receive this help from their fellow workers are touchingly grateful. That this measure help should be so important to the German workers shows more clearly than anything else the depth of their misery. Teachers, upon questioning the school children, declared that most of the youngsters could not remember when they had their last warm meal.

In addition to the food kitchen the I. A. H. has opened a number of play rooms and libraries to shelter children from cold and crime there from the worst influences of street life. We also distribute "Liebesgaben" from the workers of Holland and Switzerland and needy families and the beginning to send groups of children out of the country for vacation.

Bastler will speak at several meetings arranged by the Friends of Soviet Russia in this country.

RAILROADS EDGE U. S. PUBLIC FOR BILLION IN 1924

Biggest Profits Since 1916 Banner Year

By IRLAND OLDS (Last Correspondent of the Federal Press) The railroad industry in 1923 amounted to approximately $1,000,000,000. The total freight for Class I carriers by the bureau of railway economics is $977,843,000. This represents a net profit of 2.5 per cent on a valuation of $17,000,000,000, which exceeds by several million dollars the actual money invested by the owners.

Such profits mean that stockholders of 16 railroads operating 40 per cent of the mileage in the United States will receive $10 profits on each $100 share of stock. While 10 per cent of the total Class I mileage of the country has been expected only once in the history of American railroads, it was in 1916 when the owners squeezed out of the public the billions of dollars and neglecting welfare. The breakdown of the total for 1923 is attributable to deterioration of roadbed and equipment which resulted in the only year in which the government to take over the roads in 1918.

Profits Available for Owners of Class I Railroads in 1923:
1914 ..... $ 673,104,833

1919 ..... 1,000,000,000
1920 ..... 815,545,000
1921 ..... 758,800,000
1922 ..... 892,483,000
1923 ..... 1,000,000,000
Total ..... $8,494,323,242

The huge profits of 1923 were made in spite of an unfavorable turn in the economy. The commercial and financial chronic condition of the country in 1923 is an indication of the extent to which the business fell off during the last half of the year. It forecasted a further contraction of railroad revenues during the coming year.

Railroads which have made big profits during the year include the Pennsylvania with $46,180,000, the New York Central with $46,180,000, the Erie with $40,000,000, the Union Pacific with $38,750,000, the Great Northern with $35,000,000, the Missouri Pacific with $35,000,000, the Burlington with $29,375,000, and the Southern with $19,000,000. The following are the profits remaining after all the demands of bond holders and other money-holders for interest have been fully met.

19 Per Cent Profit. "The Atlantic Coast Line has done the best by its stockholders with profits equivalent to 19 per cent. The Chesapeake and Ohio has earned approximately 15 per cent on common stock. Railway Shoppers Meet in Montreal in 3 Conventions
(By The Federal Press) MONTREAL, Feb. 21.—Three conventions of railway shoppers met here in Montreal, Division 4, Railway Employees Department, its convention on March 4. Some 200 delegates are expected to attend, and the meetings are expected to last about one week. Immediately on the close of the convention the next day will be the conventions of the Canadian National and the Canadian Pacific Railway Federations. The C. P. R. body is holding its regular biennial meeting. In the case of the C. N. R. the sections of the constituent roads are only now being merged into one federation for the entire government system. Division 4 will have the week schedule up for revision, and the general policy of the organization on this matter will be thrashed out. The C. P. R. Federation is expected to take up the question of short time. At present the Angus shops are distributing the work rather than laying off men, while in outside shops the practice of short time is in vogue. An effort may be made to have uniform practice in this regard throughout the system. Work Daily for 'The Daily Worker'

"Adjustment" in Coal

When the coal wage negotiations began in Jacksonville and the capitalist press manifested practically unanimous approval of the Lewis demand for a four-year contract, we ventured the assertion that a long term contract was but the first step in eliminating some 200,000 unemployed miners from the industry.

Our suspicions are confirmed. The negotiations have ended with the acceptance of a three-year contract by both sides and the operators come announcement that the elimination process is to begin immediately.

One metropolitan paper which carries labor news closely says: "Both operators and miners agree that one result will be the wiping out of many mines and mining communities."

Quoting an operator who took part in the negotiations the same article continues: "In my territory, where the veins are poor, some towns will pass out like the most mining cities of Colorado. Others will survive by going non-union and cutting prices."

Please remember that the officialdom of the United Mine Workers of America has announced time and time again that it is its policy to cooperate with the larger operators in bringing the industry back to normalcy and we have now a perfect example of what that conception of normalcy is.

This is labor leadership that no employer will quarrel with and it is little wonder that the capitalist press and the rotary club platform performers are delirious with delight over this evidence that "labor is returning to sanity."

In England the dockers' union is confronted with exactly the same problem, but the dockers are on strike and there is no talk of the elimination of several thousand dockworkers because there is an oversupply of labor in the industry. Even the MacDonald government, with all its desire for respectability and its avowed policy of cooperation with the operators, has an infamous piece of business as the deliberate starvation of unemployed workers as a remedy for unemployment.

The same proposition amounts to this what the three-year agreement is for and the three-year Lewis program was seconded so enthusiastically by the operators and other employers.

We have here the spectacle of a head of one of the world's largest unions consciously encouraging and fomenting the struggle between the employed and unemployed workers in the union, a struggle whose existence is a constant menace to the solidarity of labor organization and which, when encouraged by officials, can end only in the destruction of the union.

We are going to venture one more prediction. It is that if an attempt is made to carry out this policy with the Lewis machine remaining in control of the union at the end of the three-year contract period with the United Mine Workers, not only weakened numerically, but with less union control than they have today.

As a consequence can follow from a policy that is one of demoralization and not of organization.

Mellon's Allies

The power of great corporations to exert an undue influence on public policy comes to light in an issue of the weekly leaflet distributed to passengers via New York Central lines. Under the heading "Thoughts" this leaflet reproduces tables containing all the sugar companies which Secretary of the Treasury Mellon hoped to win the support of the middle class for his scheme to reduce the high rate of the idle rate.

According to this railroad's propaganda leaflet the greatest blessings a Mellon tax cutting are to fall upon the incomes under $6,000. Next in order of magnitude are the blessings to be meted out to people with incomes between $7,000 and $10,000. While only after all lower incomes have been fully satisfied are the incomes over $50,000 to get what blessings are left.

Of course, the appearance of a bias in favor of lower incomes is created by a trick of statistical grouping. For all that the table shows, no one would guess that there are some incomes in the United States that run into the millions of dollars a year and that the savings to these incomes will be out of all proportion to the savings of the smaller fry. Nor is there particular mention of the fact that wage earners with family incomes under $3,000 a year, will receive no important benefits from this scheme. They will continue to bear the heaviest indirect tax burden in the high prices which they pay for the necessities of life purchased from protected industries.

No! The leaflet is obviously designed to win the support of the people of moderate means to predominate in Pullman traffic. It is skillfully designed to that end and it contains the suggestion that the reader write his congressman urging support of Mellon's program.

But when all is said the most significant point to note is the power which such a medium for reaching the public places in the hands of financiers. Thru their contact with the traveling public these men of great wealth can weigh more heavily in determining national policy than hundreds of thousands of ordinary citizens. This shows just one of the many ways in which private ownership makes a force of political democracy.

Free the War Time Prisoners

By WILLIAM F. KRUISE. The Chicago Tribune has printed a campaign for the release of Federal prisoners now in jail for writing offenses. The Justice Department is really so. The prisoners who have been jailed for their offenses are not "conscientious objectors" or economic and political opponents of the war. They are simply men who are accused on behalf of the boys who were being killed in the trenches of being a part of the enemy.

A number of the prisoners are poor black boys who were imprisoned for their connection with the ice strike in a Texas army camp. They had been taught that Fritz Schmidt was a hero because they were human vermin even if they were white. They believed, because they had been told that the Schmidts of Prussia were heroes for themselves that the land- lord-Schmidts of Texas were just that. We do not hesitate to say that teaching a man to kill in wholesale and then punishing him for applying his knowledge right. If anything he would be commended for his restraint and finesse.

The soldier boys were taught the support of the uniform were things on this mundane sphere. They were told to look upon the private who mistakenly applied this civilian population as an enemy and an enemy of an allied and associated people.

We are surprised to find a question on which we can see eye to eye with this organ of reaction. But here it is. We do not hesitate to say that teaching a man to kill in wholesale proved themselves efficient soldiers to poor photographers.

Some of the boys who were caught "criminally" of the late war. The "criminals" of the boys who started the wholesale slaughter have never been caught—yet. But free the boys who have been held in prison for no other reason than to free the job into the barracks when the capitalist by the draft force by every form of terrorism known to the fascist dictatorship.

President H. L. Burton, of the University of Michigan, states that for four outstanding Americans of the twentieth century are: Woodrow Wilson, Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Thomas Edison and Wright for his work in aviation. It is not surprising that the man who was the first to fly is also the man who was the first to fly.
