Mayor Dever Hears About Garment Strike

HORROR RULES AT UTAH COAL MINE TRAGEDY

No Hope For Coal Barons' Victims in West

(Special to The Daily Worker)

CASTLE GATE, Utah, Mar. 10.—Headless and charred bodies of the victims who were caught in the terrible disaster at Utah Fuel Company's Mine No. Two, last Saturday are today being taken to the surface.

Thirty-one bodies, eighteen of them identified, have so far been removed from the galleries. Mine experts say there is positively no chance that anybody could be alive in the stifling, gas-filled chamber.

The single street of the little mining town is crowded daily with the relatives and friends, widows and orphans of the entombed miners.

Pathetic Scenes.

Pathetic scenes were witnessed as frantic women driven insane by sorrow attempted to go down into the deadly pit to join their husbands in death.

One young woman with a baby in her arms wept almost as if saying "I want to go to him." Her husband had laid his body to rest in a coffin to the capitalist greed god.

Considerable coal baron propaganda is being broadcasted telling of the precautionary measures taken to preserve the lives of the miners. But the miners fear it will whitewash the coal barons.

Twenty other bodies were sighted in a tunnel still inaccessible as workers bored into the mass of debris choking the passageways.

Fire and deadly gases hampered the relief efforts yesterday, but the flames finally were extinguished last night and rescue squads equipped with gas helmets made their way into the tunnels.

It was believed that the levels where the main body of the entombed men were at work might be reached today.

Gas Fumes Deadly.

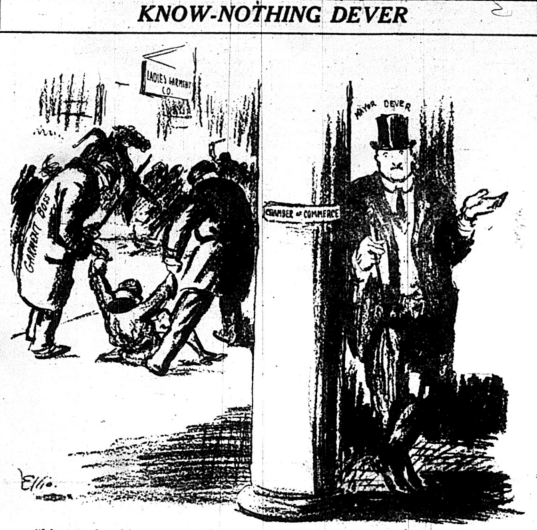

One rescue worker died from inhaling deadly gas-fumes last night. As soon as the blaze is extinguished, officials believe it will be able to reach the position where the miners were working at the time they were trapped by a series of blasts.

Of seven bodies recovered near the entrance to the mine, five have been identified. All were married men with families. Two other bodies were so badly mutilated that they could not be identified.

Crowds packing the canyon roads leading to the mine, are orderly. Deputies hold the spectators and members of families of men caught in the death trap, mile from the mine entrance.

Hang in Far North, Too.

WINNIPEG, March 10.—Out of the great bar barrier of the silent North came the news today that Canadian law had taken its course, and that the two Esquimaux murderers, Alhambri and Tsaganagan had been hanged at Herschel Island February 1.

"I know of nothing wrong in the city police conduct of the Garment Strike," Mayor Dever to the DAILY WORKER.

Spirit of Unity Prevails at St. Paul Farmer-Labor Conference Starts

By WILLIAM F. DUNNE
(Special to The Daily Worker)

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 10.—William Mahoney, editor of the St. Paul Trade Union Advocate, opened the conference of representatives of farmer-labor parties at 3 p. m. today in the Labor Temple.

The conference was called to take final action on the decision of a previous conference held on Nov. 15 last to hold a National Farmer-Labor Convention on May 30.

In his opening speech Mahoney stated that he had been notified by many organizations that they could not be represented but had sent their views. "This," said Mahoney, "is what we do not want."

"It will be some time before organizations are approved, the convention of the path—no known. State parties from Minnesota, Nebraska, Montana, North and South Dakota and Washington are represented here in addition to the two factions of the Illinois Farmer-Labor Party, the Buffalo Labor Party and the Labor Party of Washington, D. C., headed by William V. Mahoney.

William E. Rodriguez and Clifford Ernst are here for the influential faction of Illinois, Illinois Farmer-Labor Party; J. G. Brown and Robert M. Buck for the old organization.

Rodriguez, Ernst, and William V. Mahoney of Washington, D. C., wasted a lot of valuable energy before the convention was called to order.

In conducting a propaganda campaign among the delegates against the Communists with copies of the DAILY WORKER as Exhibit A, the farmer delegates seemingly have been vaccinated against Rodriguez-Ernst-Mahoney virus, judging of the amused looks on their faces as they listened to the self-appointed 'red baiters.'

Mahoney's speech was cautiously worded, and an attempt to explain the failure of the committee to send out the call for the May 30 convention, but he admitted that this failure had brought a storm of criticism and hundreds of resolutions from farmer and worker organizations protesting the delays. He further stated that he had directed assurance that La Follette is to run independently if his health permits.

Speaking of the Conference for Political Action, Mahoney said that the group which endorsed McKelso in Chicago was more representative than the group which was with the official St. Louis gathering.

Speaking of the May 30 date he asked the conference if they wanted to organize only the advanced farmer and working class elements or if they wished to wait and possibly break millions of people away from the old parties.

The I. W. W. in Washington are swinging toward political action, according to William Bonck, head of the western progressive farmers. Free speech fights have been conducted jointly by the farmers and the lumber workers organized in the I. W. W. and out of these has grown a feeling of solidarity.

The bitterness of the struggle in which both groups are engaged has largely broken down the old antagonisms and a real united front is in process of formation between bankrupt farmers and lumber workers.

Charles Taylor of Montana, is hub of the Farmer-Labor party in that state. Beginning with a conference of thirty-six delegates in Great Falls, the latter part of October, in both the lumbering, mining and farming sections of the party it is building a powerful machine.

J. W. Anderson and Pat Dodson, state secretary, have been touring the state and in many towns the halls could not hold the crowds that turned out and the apathy that was prevalent before the first of the year has disappeared.

The Conference for Progressive Political Action is no longer a factor in Montana," says Taylor. "President Steve Ely of the State Federation Labor party from first started, but at one of Anderson's meetings shortly before I left, Ely acted as usher. He probably had a change of heart after his own local at Sand Coulee told him they wanted no more opposition of the Farmer-Labor party from him.

Local unions are affiliating directly with the party in Butte and coal mining towns and other industrial centers. According to Taylor the Idaho Republican governor has indicated his peace with the Union of Soviet Company and the lineup is consequently becoming clearer. "If the election was held tomorrow we would count on at least twenty thousand votes," said Taylor.

FACTS FORCE ACTION FROM CITY'S HEAD

Discuss Struggle at City Hall Conference, Thursday

Under fire from two committees, representing the aroused forces of the Chicago labor movement and the general citizenry of the city, Mayor William H. Dever has authorized the Department of Public Welfare of Chicago to take steps towards a settlement of the dressmakers' strike.

Sunday the Mayor told the DAILY WORKER he did not know anything was wrong in the city police have been endeavoring to crash with all their legal disregard of law. Monday morning the facts, in all their unpleasant details, were thrust before him by the special citizen's committee which was organized a week ago.

The Mayor Yield.

Threatened with the complete stripping away of his claims to be a "friend of labor" and of fair play, the mayor consented to act as the Department of Public Welfare. Whether this is mere camouflage remains to be seen.

The conference will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when the department will call a conference with representatives of the striking dressmakers and the employers.

Cautious Against Sham Settlement.

The conference will be held in the offices of the Commissioner of Public Welfare in the City Hall building and will be watched by the entire labor movement of this city which has determined that no sham settlement shall be put over.

The committee which saw the mayor was headed by Father Frederic Seidenberg of Loyola University. The other members were: Mrs. R. F. Longworth, Mrs. V. Frank Brown, Dean Thomas of the University of Chicago, Miss Mary McDowell of the University Settlement and Thomas Holland and Dr. Ralph Gerard of the General Medical College.

The committee read the mayor a report prepared by several residents of Hull House which reviewed the attitude of the police toward the strike. The report specifically charges that the police have abused strikers and man-handled them on the slightest provocation. It also tells of how Arthur Weiss, head of one of the largest anti-union dress manufacturers, gave orders to the police and how the police refer to him as "the boss."

The mayor told the committee that he had ordered the police not to hinder any persons for violations of minor charges without booking them at once. He also said that he had referred the whole matter of the strike to the Department of Public Welfare.

"Tell it to Sullivan."

Magistrate Samuel Trueman yesterday refused to issue a warrant for the arrest of Leonard Wolman, the employing dressmaker who beat up Florence Corb.

"Tell it to Judge Denis Sullivan," was Trueman's advice.

His refusal for refusing the warrant was that Wolman had an injunction against the strikers which he

POOR CHARLEY SCHWAR TELLS CAL COOLIDGE SCANDAL HITS BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Business property in the United States is being handicapped by "hysteria" over the investigation in Congress of the naval oil leases, Charles M. Schwarz, best magazine, told President Coolidge today at a conference at the White House.

"I don't take the president," Schwarz said, "that I never saw, prior to these difficulties and this public hysteria over the oil investigation, the booming business conditions. Today, the country is in a depression as it should be. Conditions in the steel industry are good. General business conditions are sound."

Small Army of Lawyers Travel with Famous Oil Grabber

Harry F. Sinclair, holder of the Teapot Dome oil leases, now under investigation by the government, attended a mass-meeting of his lawyers here today. Some time this evening Sinclair and his attorneys, augmented by two or three from Chicago and perhaps a few others, will leave for New York, Wyoming.

Sinclair's attorney, also here, said the stand to be taken in the Federal court at Cheyenne where decision is to be made on whether the Sinclair company is to continue draining the U. S.

U. S. Supreme Court Wipes Out Dorchy Conviction in Kansas

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Conviction of August Dorchy, officer of the Kansas Industrial Relations Act, was vacated today by the supreme court. Dorchy appealed on the grounds that the act was unconstitutional, the mining of coal to be done by public interest, and therefore subject to the police power of the state, were void and unconstitutional.

Attorney General Clegg, who was sentenced together July 27, 1921, to six months in jail for having ordered the miners at H. Mine of the George K. Mackie Fuel Co. in Cherokee county, Kansas, to strike until the company certain money claimed by the union to be due him.

Outraged Virtue No Match for Millions in Atlanta Price

ATLANTA, Ga., March 10.—Mrs. Clyde Byfield today lost her attempt to obtain $100,000 damages from Walter T. Candler, son of the mill, loblaine, coca-cola manufacturer for an alleged attack on board a ship.

At her trial in the state superior court after deliberating since Saturday dawn Mrs. Byfield's claim for damages and found for the defendant. Candler charged the suit was the result of a blackmail plot.

WITNESS TO BARE BRIBERY, GUN-RUNNING

Will Also Tell of Mysterious Washington Influence

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Evidence directly involving former Secretary of the Interior Herbert E. Hoar, the same presidential government official in a $1,000,000 bribery and gun-running plot will be sought by the Senate Daugherty investigating Committee from a witness named today.

He is Harry S. Obbon, former mayor of Calexico, Cal., a town on the border between California and Mexico. Obbon wrote a letter to Senator La Follette, Wisconsin, detailing alleged instances of interference from Washington with efforts to stop gun-running across the border during the Cantu revolution in 1921.

He also told of a $100,000 fund, part of which was to go to Etanban Cantu, leader of the revolution and which, according to Obbon, Fall had turned over to La Follette turned the Senate investigating committee, also here, at once summoned Obbon.

Many willing to testify.

Since announcement of the committee that it was going into reports about the Washington Post, who the border was called off from Washington when they tried to prevent violation of the neutrality laws by gun runners, much information has been volunteered.

The committee has received offers from several persons whose names are being kept secret, to testify if they are offered protection.

Will Play Trump Cards.

The committee intends to climax its revelations this week by playing long delayed trump cards.

1. To call Edward R. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post, who has been under subpoena for more than a month and ask him about his cooperation in Justice Fall and other high officials. He will also be asked what he knows of the reported million dollar slush fund and stock speculations of government officials.

2. Ask Leonard Wood, Jr., and Jake Hanson, Jr., what they know about a reported attempt to bargain for the presidency at the last Republican convention with the post of secretary of the interior as the price.

Gaston Will Be Called.

3. Gaston B. Means, former justice department agent, who is reported to have made an early investigation into the scandal long before it was unearthed by the committee will be called to the stand. He will also be asked concerning a trip to Florida he is supposed to have made to acquaint McLean with some of his information.

The committee recessed over today and will resume tomorrow morning. Several additional telegrams were received from the three Rivers, N. M.; office of the U. S. Marshal, which will be surveyed first and then McLean may be called.

Russian Soviet Representative to Great Britain Sends Greetings to The Daily Worker

By CHARLES ASHLEIGH
(Special to The Daily Worker)

LONDON, Feb. 21 (By Mail).—Today I went to the headquarters of the Russian Trade Delegation, as it will now become: The Legation, and had taken his course, and that the two Esquimaux murderers, Alhambri and Tsaganagan had been hanged at Herschel Island February 1.

I was received in Comrade Rakovsky's office, as I willingly consented to do.

"After great struggles and much suffering," said Comrade Rakovsky, "we have arrived in Russia at the establishment of a new state organ, namely, the Soviet Union."

"And now see that this Government of Workers and Peasants is legally recognized by the majority of the great bourgeois powers. This I regard as a great victory; and it is a victory owing to the magnificent courage and sacrifice displayed by the workers and peasants of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, in their loyal and unwavering support of the Soviet power."

Soviet Union by the British government. This he said, "I believe," continued Comrade Rakovsky, "that the recognition of the Soviet Union will be general. The recent examples of Great Britain, Norway and Italy, who have all recognized my country within the month—will undoubtedly be followed by the United States, France and America."

"You mention the United States," I asked. "Do you think that Americans should be closely connected with the Russian matter of the Recognition of the Soviet Union?"

"Most certainly," replied Comrade Rakovsky. "A great industrial country, like the United States, which needs the maintenance of peaceful relations in Europe, for the development of its foreign commerce, should be concerned in the highest degree with the establishment of normal relations with Russia.

"The working class of all countries," pursued Comrade Rakovsky, "will gain much through this recognition of the Soviet Government. It is the only another manifestation of the fact that the working class have the capacity to rise up in their backward country like Russia—to govern themselves."

"And your message for the DAILY WORKER?" I asked.

"The Country my fraternal solutions to the young working-class of the world. Comrade Rakovsky, with best wishes for its growth and success."

SENATOR WHEELER HAS THE GOONS ON W. W. BURNS

Rival Fink Agency Is Mentioned

By CARL HANSEN
(Our Correspondent in California)

Proof positive that William J. Burns, Attorney General, is the chief spy and framer against labor radicals, has been furnished by the Teapot Dome committee is expected to be uncovered here in short order. Burns had told the committee at Washington that he had no connection with the private detective agency that bears his name since becoming a government detective.

But documents now in Chicago in hostile hands show, some of them over Burns' own signature, that he has been directing the agency, arranging for new business and using the department of Justice, the office department and perhaps the department of labor in connection with copper mining companies of the northwest against A. F. of W. W. organization attempts. Even the harbor union in Arizona drew him, in his department of government and private sleuth.

Senator Wicks in Topeka
Senator Wicks of Montana, who is collecting evidence for another senate committee, is expected to have this stuff on Burns laid in hand. He is also active in California, particularly in Los Angeles and in Pasadena where he interfered with a talk by Upton Sinclair and his men men about a year ago. But he does not like the idea that Upton Sinclair manager, G. P. Ross, thinks the merchants and manufacturers there are the chief enemies of the state. He has been collecting business men in southern California that are in contact with him. This was because the Burns rate of $10 a month for other detective agencies is $7 or $8.

How the evidence on Burns' framing hands is not known except that the Burns' Los Angeles office was robbed of its files and documents, presumably by a rival agency, which sent the material to the Los Angeles office against Burns. The Thiel service is mentioned in some of the correspondence.

Just as Washington underlings referred to President Hoover as the "principal" in his messages about him in the Teapot affair, so Burns private subordinates refer to him as the "governor."

D. J. Burns & Co.
Over 30 copper mining companies engaged the Burns agency to spy on union organizers and workers in Arizona. Burns himself obligingly transferred a department of Justice agent from Butte, another copper mining center, to Arizona to cooperate with his private men at the department. At the same time the Burns private agent had asked the department of justice to step over to the postoffice and stop mail going to active union men so that it might be opened. A little later the department of labor was to be enlisted to spy on the American active in the metal workers union, who "thinks he would be shot if sent back to his country. He thought to be a good chance to get out of one's bed."

These anti-labor revelations showing how Burns used government resources to spy on workers in Arizona, fighting the unions will probably burn "Hiram" Burns' campaign for president. He claims to be a progressive but he is the man who was turning the Teapot Dome case against Burns' chief sleuth and showed by Burns during the last year to impeach Daugherty.

One of Founders of Ku Klux Held as Mann Act Violator

HOUSTON, Tex., March 10.—Edward Young Clarke, one of the founders of the Ku Klux Klan, today pleaded guilty to violation of the Mann White Slave Act in Federal District court here. He admitted transporting Mrs. Laura Martin, 21 years old Houston girl, to New Orleans for immoral purposes. At one time Clarke was acting imperial wizard of the William J. Simmons faction in fighting the present administration of the hooded order.

Klan Leader Addresses Court
When Clarke's case was called for trial, R. H. Henry of Houston, attorney for the Klan leader, addressed the court.

The defendant wishes to change his plea to guilty, the attorney said. Henry then asked that the court hear Attorney Westermann of the defense, but Judge Hutchinson refused, saying that he knew nothing of the details of the case and asked the court to take up the case on another day.

Not Real Live Lord
"Is there any man in the community like this in this case?" the court asked.

"No," the prosecutor replied. "It was merely a personal expense. Clarke was engaged in interstate commerce."

Cooperation to the Party
NEW YORK, March 10.—The Bronx English branch of the Workers Party have called for a community celebration and dance they have arranged for Saturday night, March 15, so as not to conflict with the Communist Celebration arranged by Local New York on Sunday, March 16. On Saturday evening, April 5, they will hold a community dance at Workers Hall, 1347 Boston road, the Bronx. A new program is being arranged.

Battle Royal in the Political Struggle of Workers and Farmers Raging in Minnesota This Week

(Special to the Daily Worker)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 10.—A battle royal to determine whether the Farmer-Labor Party of Minnesota shall be constructed on class lines and shall represent the interests of the working farmers and industrial workers, or whether it shall become merely a "progressive" party of the people, a Third Party, will be waged at conventions of the farmer-labor elements of the state on March 12, 13 and 14.

The Farmer-Labor Party convention will be held in Minneapolis for the purpose of electing a state executive committee and a state central committee. The plan of a farmer-labor federation evolved last September. It was an attempt to form an organized, dues-paying party of the real producers controlled by the rank and file and composed of constituent economic and political groups.

Climax Reached
On March 15, the Farmers' Non-Partisan League will convene in Minneapolis for the purpose of electing a state executive committee and proposed movements. It will decide the momentous question of its attitude toward the political situation. The Federation convention in connection with the League and the convention intends to name and endorse candidates.

On March 14, the framework of Farmer-Labor Party imposed upon the workers by a hostile and reactionary legislature is being destroyed. The class character of the party is being exposed. The promoters of this convention will attempt to supplant the Farmer-Labor Party with a party which is the legalized form which is identical with the United Farmers of America and Democrats and which is controlled by a legalized bourgeoisie.

These three conventions are the climax of a vital political struggle going on in the state. The outcome will have a far-reaching effect on the whole Farmer-Labor movement of America with swing this critical and decisive year. The Farmer-Labor Party has developed a tendency toward political class action. This development has reached the point where it has organized state-wide party development clearly on the basis of class action. If such a party results from these conventions, Minnesota will be the first state to have a Farmer-Labor convention this year as a force calculated to produce historic results.

On the other hand, the elements opposed to the Farmer-Labor Party were never more conscious, or more vocal, or better prepared to achieve their purpose than at this time. They are organized state-wide party development clearly on the basis of class action. If such a party results from these conventions, Minnesota will be the first state to have a Farmer-Labor convention this year as a force calculated to produce historic results.

The law question as amended up to date by the last legislature provides for a primary election of the various political parties shall be appointed by the winning candidates. This is a primary election of the various candidates appoint one state committee each to select the candidate for governor becomes state chairman. These appointees receive in office a full term while the candidates appointing them may be removed by their constituents. The party has no control over them. They have full control over the party affairs. They have full control over the party affairs. They have full control over the party affairs.

Discriminating Against Workers
This is not all. Pike has announced that his forces will appear even in Pike's delegates at large. There are 80 counties in Minnesota predominantly rural and three predominantly industrial. In the three industrial counties at least two-thirds of the population are city dwellers. These counties under the Pike plan will send only 27 out of 125 delegates. There are more workers in Minnesota than farmers according to government statistics, but Pike would give the industrial workers only about one-fourth of the delegates. The rural counties will send 33 delegates at large, while the industrial counties will send only 27 delegates at large. It is palpably a plan to out and its "radical" theories from the "progressive" movement of Minnesota.

KANSAS MINERS DEFY LEWIS TO DEBATE HOWAT

Convention Dumps the Autocrat's Laws

By TOM TIPPERT
(Our Correspondent from Pittsburg, Kan., March 10)

PITTSBURG, Kan., March 10.—John L. Lewis' attempt to force a debate with the miners' organization of the state at the convention of the Kansas district of the miners' organization in session here last night, was defeated by a vote of 100 to 20.

The appellate power was taken away from the officers of the district and a new constitution was written into the constitution providing for the election of a new executive committee. This action followed a lengthy debate and carried by an overwhelming vote.

Constitution Re-written
The new constitution being re-written by this convention. Such action is wiping out laws that enacted at a convention two years ago. At that convention there were 100 delegates and 100 members. Howat men had been unseated. Van A. Bitner presided as a representative of the international union. The district membership at the time was approximately 9,000. Howat men had been unseated. Van A. GOMPERS URGES THUMB-PRINTING OF FOREIGN-BORN

Begs Labor Support for Johnson Bill

(Special to The Daily Worker) NEW YORK, March 10.—In a letter addressed to the Central, Trades and Labor Council, and to the Executive Committee of the United States Communist Party, president of the American Federation of Labor, requested the endorsement of the reactionary Johnson Immigration Bill.

Speaking in the terms of the contemptuous terms of the Jewish, Italian and workers, who had come here from Southeastern Europe, Gompers himself an immigrant, totally ignored the debt of gratitude which the American labor movement owes to these very workers, who bravely dared to challenge the power of Judge Gary and the steel trust in the great steel strike, who constitute the backbone of the needle trade unions, who have always been the first to feel the onslaught of the unemployment.

Admitting that the provisions of the Johnson bill do not meet fully the demands of the A. F. of L. for the restriction of immigration, he believes, however, that the bill is in the right direction. "We must support every limitation," he says in urging the labor movement to the slogan of "America for Americans."

Delegates in Revolt. The assembled delegates would not swallow this "bait" and rejected the delegate after delegate to condemn the bill, leftwingers of the Teachers' Union, characteristic of the more reactionary and anti-labor measure proposed by the Johnson bill.

He declared that the follow-up and fingerprinting of the foreign-born, as provided for in the bill, is worthy of the blackest days of Czarist Russia. Delegates to the Johnson bill workers to disband him from the labor in the trade unions or in strikes.

The matter was finally referred to the legislative committee to report on Thursday, March 20. Defeat is expected.

Miners Hit Bill

(Special to The Daily Worker) COLETO, Ill., March 10.—Vigorous protest against the "immigration" bill is made by the miners of the United Mine Workers of America. The local leaders of the exception laws directed against the foreign-born are intended to stifle those workers who are foreign-born to raise their standard of living in comparison with the native workers.

With the foreign-born workers regarded, fingerprinting and photographed, and under threat of deportation, should they actively participate in strikes if will pay for the employers to hold them in check and prevent the building of more powerful organizations of labor.

Chicago Rooming Houses Very Bad, Investigators Find

The shabby, overcrowded conditions in the Chicago rooming house districts were described by Miss Marie Merrill, of the Public Welfare Department of Chicago, in a report made at a dinner of the Sarah Hackett Stevenson Home at the Union League Club.

Of 300 rooms examined by the department's investigators, said Miss Merrill, none were rated as "good." The highest rated were "fair," which means that they lacked the important elements of comfort. Shabbiness was general.

The inadequacy of the housing facilities downtown are revealed by the fact that there are 300,000 workers working in the industrial sections of Chicago and only 3,000 downtown residences.

In one month there as many people as are supplied for rooms as could be accommodated. Rooming house landlords often shut their doors on families with children, leaving them to walk the streets if they can get no other shelter. It is no law to prevent such actions.

Daily Worker's Investigation Shows Chicago's Housing Problem Is More Acute Now Than Ever

The housing problem in Chicago in all its phases—exorbitant rents, overcrowding, ill repair of homes and consequent misery and disease—is more acute than it has ever been before.

There are less moderately priced homes available than ever before in Chicago's history. Rooming sections, chiefly ancient mansions, are a huge pile of decay, filth and disease. Rents have been advanced to an alarming and unwarranted degree by unscrupulous landlords who do not hesitate to take advantage of the tenacious misery. Every class in the city has been hard hit, except the very wealthy.

While collar clerks, women office workers, Negroes, artists, and families of all occupations in moderate circumstances are forced to pay exorbitant prices for shoddy, uncomfortable and unsanitary rooms. Many cannot secure accommodations at any price, except with difficulty. These are the results of the DAILY WORKER'S investigation of the housing of the city.

"Chicago has many unsanitary, uncomfortable homes which are veritable plague spots to the community," the United Charities, which has been conducting housing problems each month, tells us. "Few people live in easy circumstances here. There is a terrible hardship, the hopeless misery, with thousands of homes being forced to house this so-called modern and progressive Chicago. The housing problem is a lack of modern, clean, sanitary homes."

The menace of these poorly constructed old buildings is augmented by the fact that the speculators are turning landlords toward their tenants. The reports flock in that there is an acute shortage of houses in Chicago. A recent report from the United Charities, with a most serious situation, we read in an Association of Home Builders, which is a group of real estate men who do not act to prevent them.

Why, in view of the recent building boom, should there be a shortage of houses in Chicago? The records of the city of department of health show that the year 1923 established a record in building construction in the history of Chicago. The total frontage covered by buildings erected at a cost of $329,641,212, as compared with 9,388 buildings erected at a cost of $83,000,710 in 1914. And yet Edwin C. Jones, Jr., secretary of the United Charities of Chicago, tells us that this week on the West Side, a woman, who has a family of five children, is working in a bare garret with her four children, and that there is no room for her to furnish the stricken family with warmth. They are now being supported by charity.

The Illinois Society of Architects partially explains this seeming contradiction of the tremendous production of the building industry and the suffering of the people who are housed in the Chicago rooming houses. "Much has been heard about a building boom in Chicago," the society finds. "A comparison of the figures of the building industry shows that the city of Chicago, the total frontage covered, and the estimated cost of building, in 1923, as compared with 1914, indicates that the construction work in 1923 was 175 per cent greater than in 1914. The fact that the construction work in 1923 was 175 per cent greater than in 1914, while the cost of the actual needs of the people, Chicago has had a building boom of the exclusive price of the city, with its commodious, lowering apartment buildings, and the fact that the great majority pay their extreme, unreasonable rents, huddled uncomfortably close together in the overcrowded sections of the city.

"When asked to explain the reason for the acute housing shortage, in relation to the biggest building year in Chicago's history, it was said at the office of the Association of Commerce that "a large percentage of the building has been of the expensive apartment house type. Builders have not, in the past few years, put their money into housing accommodations for the moderate salaried man. Consequently there is a housing shortage among the working people and clerks." It is conservatively estimated by the board of health that the shortage of the end of 1922 in Chicago there was a shortage of 26,952 apartments and dwellings below the normal number needed to house the population in 1923.

The cat in let out of the bag by the Weekly of Feb. 9, which explains some of the true causes of the present overwhelming housing shortage, "it will be observed that

First Order for 200 Copies of "The Teapot Special" Has Arrived

The first order for "The Teapot Special" has arrived. It is for 200 copies and it comes from Kansas City, Kansas. The order comes from a group of workers who want to let their neighbors know the truth about "The Teapot." This is the order that is expected to let the workers know the truth about the obnoxious forces that have operated against home building here in Chicago.

Speculators Gouging Tenants. In an open letter to United States Senator Charles McNary, Alexander H. Revell of Chicago, recently made a statement to the effect that the abundance of the capital for construction purposes. Chicago bankers usually cause the building boom. The abundance was the abnormal result of the speculative nature of the investment in housing accommodations. The result was that the landlord charged rents up to $11 for 500 sq. ft. of space. It was felt that before rents could drop, from 20 to 40 per cent of the value of the structure would be repaid. The rate expected for such financing by the large building companies under these conditions ran from 12 to 13 per cent and even higher. You can find your own testimony as to it in the records of the United Charities, which is being deposited into Chicago building conditions.

In every instance the rent payer bore the loss. The mortgage banks, which are now being supported by charity, are now being supported by charity. The mortgage banks, which are now being supported by charity, are now being supported by charity.

"A WEEK" Views of Dora J. Dow.

Words are impotent to describe this story of the heart-breaking struggle of the Communist Party in the first year. Things didn't break here and there in stars, swirls and flames. What a party! The heroic Bobbi, working, speaking in a hundred languages, Gernulick, the brain of the party, finally, "The steersman of a heavily loaded ship in a wind-swept harbor."

Repin, the hardy trader; Martynov, the dealer; timid Lisa— "What they all are, dear ones, is their own. The lady she has taught the multiplication table in my school, now armed with Lenin's rifle, they seemed to take a terrible avenging force, a force of triumphant justice."

The healthy Russian-Ester bells of the dead religion ringing over the little town. The twenty-eight corners, dead, cover their eyes! "No one is allowed to describe this story of the heart-breaking struggle of the Communist Party in the first year. Things didn't break here and there in stars, swirls and flames. What a party! ASSAULTS TELLS OF SOLIDARITY DOCKERS' STRIKE

Left Wing Committees on the Job

(Special to The Daily Worker) CHARLES ASHLICK, LONDON, Feb. 10.—The dockers' strike in the Stovesdons' Union, the strike is complete. No work is being done in any of the ports.

The most profane have all proportioned their own, out of all the strikers, who, as a matter of fact, has not yet made itself felt. The longshoremen's union has proposed to the government that they will all be given a pension of 100 shillings a year to prevent profiteering.

"No compromise! No deal! No national settlement! 'National Victory!' is the slogan of the various parties reading this manifesto will have a right to be heard in the logic of its contents. A closer solidarity among all branches of the great transport industry would be the result of this timely and vigorous agitation.

Drivers of trucks are also members of the Transport and General Workers' Union. The union has issued a statement to the effect that it is not necessary to handle any goods from this order has been rigidly obeyed, and 100% results of the strike have been directly affected, and about 10,000 men are on strike in the London area.

Labour Officially Supports Strike. The Executive Council of the Trade Union Congress, the British Federation of Labor Unions in Britain, has officially supported the strike, and is demonstrating their solidarity with their fellow members who are on strike in the London area.

What the children's institutions, Soviet Russia are doing will be demonstrated at the Purim Bazaar of the Jewish Children's Home in London. The bazaar will be held at the Royal Albert Hall, and will be a grand success. The exhibits that will be shown will give the first direct view of the children's institutions in Soviet Russia.

His Idea of Workers' Daily. To the DAILY WORKER—I must say that the DAILY WORKER more than expresses my ideal of what a worker's paper should be. I hope in the near future, to be able to get some "back" for the DAILY WORKER. I am willing to work hard. All the militants are in jail or under bail—C. Desmond, Broderick, Cal.

SOVIET AMBASSADOR IN Rome Hoists Red Flag Over Embassy

Irish Free State Troops Mutiny as Unemployment Grows

(Special to The Daily Worker) ROME, March 10.—Italian workers could see today the red flag of Communism waving in the breeze from the balcony of the Soviet Embassy here. To add to the interest of the red symbol is the fact that it flew over the former home of the Italian government.

DUBLIN, Ireland, March 10.—The Irish Free State government is disgraced as a result of a mutiny that broke out in the Templemore Barracks, County Tipperary. An order was issued regarding disorganization involving the dropping of soldiers from the ranks.

With the present terrible unemployment in Ireland, the throwing of thousands of demobilized soldiers on the market would add to the misery of the situation.

Echoes of the Templemore mutiny reached the rest of Ireland, causing much uneasiness. This is the first serious revolt that faces the Free State government since it succeeded in crushing the Republicans.
