SULLIVAN'S IN JUNCTION TRIALS BEGIN

Hearings Continue Today Be- fore Hostile Judge

With cold, sneering hostility Judge Denis Sullivan heard the case of five strikers in his court room in the county building yesterday noon where they were summoned to show cause why they should not be compelled to prove themselves innocent of contempt of court for violation of the Sullivan injunction.

All the cases were put down for speedy hearings in spite of the protest of Attorney Sissman that he was so busy with the court defense of arrested strikers that it was impossible to prepare adequate defense by the time given.

Drum Head Court Martial.
Mollie Friedman, Rose Lewis, and John Cohn must have their defense all ready by this morning against Dudley Taylor's contempt charges. Taylor, in defiance of the injunction, in front of his clients' place, at 304 and 308 S. Market street.

Florence Corn and Clara Galbin, the latter one of the expelled militants who has been very active in the garment workers' union battle, must appear Wednesday morning for final hearing before the contemptible judge for alleged violation of the injunction granted the Francine Dress company at 205 S. State street.

On Bosses' Side.
The union attorneys' objections were scornfully brushed aside by the injunction judge. But counsel for Taylor had for LeBesque of the Francine company and for the latter the sleek legal representative of the Dress and Skirt manufacturers' association.

Sullivan's animus against the workers leaked out in his examination of Miss Corn. The girl had just denied knowing anything about any injunction for her shop. "Didn't you know that you were violating that injunction by picketing?" LeBesque rasped at her.

Sissman interrupted: "Now wait a minute, where was the picketing?" "Answer the question," snarled the sallow lips of the injunction lawyer. "But she has answered," said Sissman, "she says that her shop did not have an injunction against it."

"Because I say so."

"That is not a proper answer," barked back Judge Sullivan. "Why?" asked the union lawyer.

"Because I say so!" almost shouted the judge.

Dudley Taylor, the attorney for the Illinois Employers Association, who used the state's attorney's office recently for the purpose of prosecuting union picketers and creating the conspiracy case against them, cross-examined John Cohn. Mollie Friedman and Rose Lewis who were charged with training on the picket line in front of the Greenline dress place.

Taylor does the talking.
When Cohn asked the court if the injunction covered the premises at 304 S. Market street Taylor did not wait for his black-robed, benchman to reply, but answered himself, saying that other firms at that premises were affected by the injunction but he did not say whether the firm Cohn spoke of had a writ or not.

After several perfunctory objections the judge declared the Sissman must have written answers ready by this morning to all the affidavits regarding injunction violation which Taylor presented. The union lawyer finished by asking the judge to remit the demand for written replies but he was unable to obtain a postponement because he was unable because he represented organized labor when the law was made.

You Do and You Don't.
When the two groups of strikers had been properly lectured and told about their rights and also told that if the court said they had no rights, presto, they had no rights, the strikers were brought forward.

They were Emma Goldberg, Minnie Surman, Jennie Silverman, and Mrs. Eva Birk. They had all been served with notices and were brought to trial by they should not be cited to show cause why they should not be punished for each and every one of them.

Dennis talked to them and said that he would let them off, but he said they would be in the future and then call

YOUTH REMEMBER COMMUNE, MEET SUNDAY NIGHT

Speakers and Music at Douglas Park Hall

March 16th will set afire the rebels over the world in memory of their comrades who fought to maintain the workers rule in Paris during the days of the Commune.

Fifty-three years ago the French workers rose against their mighty oppressors and for 72 days held the rule of power by a dictatorship of the workers.

International Demonstrations.
The murderous and bloody hanging of the bourgeoisie, Galtieri, thought that he had buried the movement of the Communards by drowning twenty-five thousands of the rebels, young workers, children and men and women, in a sea of blood. But it only proved to be the first, the still pale, and of the proletarian republic.

In France, Germany, Soviet Russia, United States and other countries demonstrations are to be held in memory of the Communards.

The meeting which has been planned for Chicago promises to be one of the best that this city has ever had. The meeting is being arranged by the Young Workers League and the Workers Party, is giving full cooperation to make this demonstration a huge one.

Engelsh Speaker.
J. Louis Engelsh, the editor of the DAILY WORKER, Robert Miner, editor of the Liberator, and Max Stackman, editor of the Young Worker will speak at this meeting. In addition to the speakers an excellent and appropriate program has been arranged.

The meeting will be held Sunday, March 16, 8 P. M., at the Douglas Park Auditorium, Ogden and Kedzie.

There will be no admission charge.

Brookwood Scholarships.
KATONAH, N. Y., March 14.—Brookwood Labor College announces that it has made arrangements for exchange of scholarships with Runkin College and the London Labor College in England, with the International People's College at Elmora, Denmark, and the Belgian Labor College.

Bonus Bill up Tuesday.
WASHINGTON, March 14.—Formal agreement was reached in the House today to bring up the new bonus bill for a final vote next Tuesday under suspension of the rules which will preclude amendments.

Senate Oil Probe Adjourns till Tuesday; Walsh Indisposed

WASHINGTON, March 14.—The Senate Oil Committee today adjourned to take an adjournment until Tuesday because of the indisposition of Senator Walsh, Montana, chief investigator.

Walsh notified Chairman Ladd of the committee early today that he was suffering from a slight cold and he intended to stay away from his office over the week end.

Ladd then adjourned the committee to meet Tuesday when witnesses subpoenaed to testify today will be heard.

International Demonstrations.
The information he asked for as Officer 3608 parting from his expectations in slaming a girl picket against a wall on S. Market street between W. Adams and W. Jackson streets was the number of that woman.

"I'll smash your G—D—Russian face," shouted the officer with an unmistakable foreign accent.

It happened that the reporter was born in this country and that he is not of Russian parentage—which is not his fault—but he did not argue that point. He insisted on his right to walk the streets peacefully.

"The officer who was badly excited already because several strike-breakers who had come up in yellow coats that morning, quailed by police and 'sluggers' had refused to go to work in response to pickets' persuasion and this meant 'hell' for him. So in his confusion he let the girl picket get away."

Out rushed a heavy-set man in a dark brown overcoat, said someone. "Yes," shouted the boss, "and why the devil" he bawled at the cop, "haven't you called a patrol wagon for these fellows?" pointing to a couple pickets.

The nervous cop grabbed the Daily Worker reporter and shoved him into a hallway. Just then a passing picket waved his hand to the newspaperman and the cop rushed out and clutched him too.—Abe Hays, a member of the Workers Party.

The Typographical Union, of which Zerkoff is a member, was arranging his bail but the Garment Workers' Union and the cop ruck regiment will take place in St. Clark street this morning.

The Standard's Fleet.
NEW YORK, March 14.—Standard just issued orders that the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey now owns a fleet of oil tankers aggregating 897,000 tons—which are added more than 800,000 tons of oil tankers. This represents one-tenth of the world's tank steamer tonnage.

CAPITOL IS MAZZAZED OVER MEANS STORY

Astounding Tale of Government Graft Is Told

(Special to The Daily Worker)
WASHINGTON, March 14.—What the most astounding story ever told a congressional committee, Gaston B. Means, former Department of Justice agent, today bared before the Senate's Daugherty investigating committee the details of alleged secret investigations of cabinet members and congressmen, collections of huge sums of money and other clandestine activities which, he said, were directed by Jess Smith, Daugherty's intimate friend, from an office in the department.

"I have had collected $100,000 from a 'Jap from the Mitsui Company' in connection with the Standard Aircraft Company case which was before the Department of Justice for prosecution, because he turned the money over to Jess Smith. The money was afterword transferred to the war department."

(Miss Simpson yesterday told him Smith one time had $1,400,000.)

Having Trails Mailed.
"That the late President Harding had ordered him to investigate Secretary of the Treasury Mellon affair," the witness reached Mellon had entered arrangements for the issuance of "certain permits."

"I had investigated in Maryland LaFollette of Wisconsin, Caraway of Tennessee, and at the request of Jess Smith and Senator LaFollette, after he had introduced a bill to investigate the office of the Teapot Dome lease."

"This has been once been suspended a department agent after a cabinet officer" had protested that he was "too active in investigating oil matters in Mexico."

"That he was intended to investigate the case of the Japanese government."

Means said his attorney, Col. Felder, warned him yesterday not to go on the witness stand because "the powers that were after me were not going to let me go."

"I would be indicted on any number of things. Sidney Hieber, of Washington, came and told me I should not hurt the attorney general nor the republican party."

Dempsy Fight Fails.
Means said he handled money paid over for showing the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films and turned this money over to Jess Smith. Roxie Stinson told her he was $180,000, the fight film deal.

President Harding and Secretary Hughes, he said, were present at a showing of the film at E. B. McLean's house in Washington.

"When under cover" investigation did you make for President Harding in New York?"

"Leading up from investigations we had made in Washington that Secretary Mellon had gone into an agreement to furnish certain permits. We did not catch him that time. He slipped thru our fingers."

"Who paid you?"

"Jess Smith. Sometimes underwritten."

"I had Miss Laura Jacobsen investigated. Senator Carvery, Arkansas."

"At whose direction?"

"Jess Smith's."

"At the time he was attacking the Attorney General?"

"Yes, in President Harding's office."

Means said that "everybody was investigating at some time or other."

"Do financial interests have candidates for president investigated?"

"Yes, the Standard Oil."

"What do you mean by 'going thru the motions'?"

'TEAPOT SPECIAL' TANKER LOADS UP AT DENBY TOWN

Wholesale Orders for Big Expose Issue

The "Teapot Special" tanker has taken off a $100,000 bundle at the wharves of Denby's town. Yes, the militants of Detroit have ordered a tremendous number of copies of the Monday issue of the DAILY WORKER which will expose their fellow citizens to that wretched moon thiel has never been exposed.

This thousand order is just one of many hurry-up calls for the "Teapot Special" in Detroit. It comes from the Workers Party branch there, but numerous Detroit individuals are making their own arrangements for the best issue of the DAILY WORKER which will expose their fellow citizens to that wretched moon thiel has never been exposed.

Lowdown on Daugherty.
A rash of orders is coming in from the last moment from the workers and farmers in Ohio where the good Rockey folks are awaiting with patience for the lowdown on Race Track Daugherty, the patron of bootleggers and the general all-around patrol pal of the underworld gang in Detroit of the White House and Palm Beach.

From the oil-soaked shores of California, the well-to-do big orders for Los Angeles and San Francisco were reaching the Detroit office. It comes to know why rash progressives never breathe a syllable of protest against the giving away of the huge California naval oil reserve to brother Looney—that until the senate investigating committee made this state public property ever so many moons later.

From the Iron Range.
Oil and steel run close together in industry and high finance and it is natural to find comrades on the same side of the line. The "Teapot Special" is a check for a $250-bill.

Patrick Conroy writes from Drumheller, Alberta, for a hundred order saying:

"I appreciate the efforts you are putting forth to awaken the workers and farmers to the need of a stand against this system of exploitation under which we are living, and I conclude with a request for subscription forms."

Get aboard the "Teapot Special!" It's loaded for bear.

Burns is Exposed.
The goods on William J. Burns, arch grafting funk, will be in the great special. Will show up that la-bor-baiting scoundrel as a liar and a crook of the dirtiest water.

Burns says that he has severed connection with his agency, since he went into the Department of Justice. The "Teapot Special" will show over his own signature that he lies, that he is still closely tied up with the William J. Burns agency, which he uses in his campaign against the labor movement as part of the program of Big Business's Department of Justice.

300 ATTEND F.-L. P. MEET IN MINNESOTA

Obstructionists Still Battle the June 17th Convention

By WILLIAM F. DUNNE.
ST. CLOUD, Minn., Mar. 14.—The convention of the official Farmer-Labor Party of Minnesota, the F.-L. P., organized, went into session here today with approximately 300 delegates in attendance.

State Chairman T. A. Pike made the opening address of the convention. It was a long, rambling speech, made up of fifteen minutes of platitudes and a somewhat odious attempt to take a slam at the more progressive elements, without actually calling names. Pike is an unimpressive individual who reminds one of a fat bleached toad.

Pike's Rough Stuff.
Following the conclusion his address in which the mention of the U. S. Senator La Follette was not brought up, Pike himself nominated a chairman and thereby aroused the indignation of the convention, that Baldwin of the now defunct Nonpartisan League be made temporary chairman, but after some bitter debate a substitute motion throwing open the nominations was carried and David Evans, the Farmer-Labor Party first candidate for Governor, was elected.

It was moved, seconded and carried that each district—there are ten congressional districts in Minnesota—select one of the delegates as a member of the conference and that the convention adjourn for one hour.

It is a bitter hostility existent in the convention between the Nonpartisan League officials, who lost yesterday when their followers voted to join the Farmer-Labor Party, and the labor group from the Twin Cities, which is largely a convention of individuals not of organizations, the obstructionists, who have been in the job in every one of the conferences so far, are going to try and stage an eleventh hour change of the delegates. The enforcement of the June 17th convention, and other decisions of the Farmer-Labor Party.

In the long run it will make little difference what this gathering does, because it has no economic basis, the unions, cooperatives and other organizations of the workers and farmers being represented by the Farmer-Labor Federation.

Publish Weekly.

It would be the crowning evidence of unity, if the convention call and June 17th convention were endorsed here, but if sabotage prevent it the Farmer-Labor government of Minnesota and the Northwest will have suffered but little damage. One of the most disgusting incidents here, however, is the fact that a few labor men, former radicalists, are doubtless crossing their own delegations from the Twin Cities, and not only voting to organize their forces, delegating Vandenberg of the painter union, Minneapolis, and Delegate Carl Parsons, of the World War Veterans, the same city, are two of the traitors whose actions are most obnoxious.

The Farmer-Labor Federation, in final session, Thursday night, decided not to endorse candidates, but to allow members to file in the primaries. William Mahoney, of St. Paul (Continued on page 2)

DAILY WORKER MAN ARRESTED ON PICKET LINE

Asking Policeman for Number His Crime

Victor Zakalisk, a reporter for the DAILY WORKER, was arrested yesterday morning when he asked a bruiser-policeman for some information.

"The information he asked for as Officer 3608 parting from his expectations in slaming a girl picket against a wall on S. Market street between W. Adams and W. Jackson streets was the number of that woman."

"I'll smash your G—D—Russian face," shouted the officer with an unmistakable foreign accent.

KLAN LEADER CHARGED WITH MANY CRIMES

Young Indicted for Rob- bery and Larceny

(Special to The Daily Worker)
HERRIN, Ill., March 14.—S. Glenn Young, leader of the Ku Klux Klan and anti-Klan warfare in Williamson County, was under indictment charging a dozen crimes here today.

The indictments against Young which were returned by a city grand jury late last night, charge kidnapping, robbery, larceny, false imprisonment and assault with intent to murder.

Fifty-four indictments returned at the same time as a result of Williamson County's latest "reign of terror," named Sam Sterns and Carl Nelson, exalted cyclists of the Ku Klux Klan at Marion and Herrin respectively. John Ford, Herrin police chief and other allies of Young.

Young "was called to take over the government of the city of Herrin by unlawfully depositing and imprisoning the mayor and other officials," the grand jury report states.

MELLON'S GOAL COMPANY NETTED ONLY $11,358,536 No Wonder Andy Fights The Poor Man

By LELAND OLDS (Federated Press Industrial Editor) A profit of $11,358,536 was reported by Mellon's Pittsburgh Coal Company...

Pittsburgh Coal's Loss Pittsburgh Coal during 1933 sold 19,917,588 tons of coal for $62,069,472 which upon expense took $51,710,918. This left a profit of $10,358,556 equivalent to 86 cents a ton.

Black and White Landlords. There is no excuse for the large real estate speculation which is being carried on in this city by the Mellon interests during the war.

Even many of the large real estate dealers themselves—such as the DeLoach, in mixed neighborhoods, who have white tenants or their apartments.

The Defender On Landlords. Our contemporary, the Chicago Defender, says that in this country there are a large number of real estate agents who are members of the Race to Defeat Communism.

Landlords of Both Colors Exploit Negro Tenants in Class 'D' Houses, Daily Worker's Expose Will Show

The Negroes of Chicago do not know how many times they have been the subject of investigations and no paper has yet been published on the habits of the Negro workers.

The rich class of Negroes like these investigations by social workers, are we told. It affords a chance for the favored ones to sip tea and have a nice enjoyable social time with the white workers.

Those Negroes who are living in their large stone houses on southern Michigan Boulevard buy the expensive book which prints the results of these numerous investigations.

That is not the kind of an investigation which the DAILY WORKER is carrying on. True to its name, the DAILY WORKER has its own investigation into the habits of the workers.

It has been found that the white workers are being exploited by the black and white landlords. In many cases the white workers are being exploited by the black and white landlords.

KANSAS MINERS APPLAUD HOWAT IN CONVENTION

District No. 14 Solidly Behind Leader. By TOM TIPPETT (Staff Correspondent of the Federated Press) ST. LOUIS, Mo., (U.P.)—The International President John L. Lewis, Union of Miners of America, will not come to Kansas and debate with Alexander Howat, Deputy Secretary of District 14.

These are gala days for the rank and file delegates attending this convention in St. Louis. It stems its victory hands down from opposition forces. Howat has been elected to the convention that the U. S. Supreme Court will deal with the matter at the Kansas court of Industrial Relations by reversing the action of the Kansas Supreme Court in 1932.

The day following the court decision Alexander Howat addressed the miners in a speech at the convention. He said that his aim was to give the miners the best possible representation in the legislature.

Other highlights of Howat's speech were: "The coal operators and all other large employers of labor will respect the workers only when the workers are powerful enough to force their demands."

Curfew of "Socialism"

The German Reichstag, in which the Social Democratic Party of Germany, led by Ernst Thälmann, has the majority party, has at last been dissolved. The "Socialist" Reichstag, which has served as the bulwark against the victory of the German workers, is no longer needed by the Stinnes, the Thyssens, and the Prussian military. The crowd of Fascist thugs appearing publicly on Unter den Linden!

The same papers that lauded the Noske party and the Reichstag when Liebknecht and Luxemburg were murdered and when thousands of Communists were thrown into jail because they fought against the capitalist military who led them into the war are now gloating over the Reichstag being disbanded. The Reichstag which was once the best means for misleading the workers and chaining them to capitalist slavery has become useless, a fetter on the very system of capitalist tyranny it served to preserve. The industrial and financial magnates and the Junkers feel today that they can rule openly with an iron hand. They have no need just now of maintaining the parliamentary illusion of an important Reichstag.

But our capitalist press is dead wrong when it heralds the dissolution of the Reichstag as the curfew of Socialism in Germany. The disbanding of the Reichstag is of twofold significance. First of all, it shows the power attained by the German employing class. Secondly, it is proof of the fact that the German workers in Germany have no today the heavy hand of working class revolution, the very capitalists in defense of whose interests they slaughtered helpless workers by the hundreds, are now throwing them overboard. This is the course pursued by the capitalists everywhere.

All of this does not for a moment mean that Germany has arrived at the curfew of socialism. The curfew of socialism, the socialism of Marx, is concerned it is far from dead in Germany. The recent election results nail this. As a matter of fact the collapse of the French Republic at least in extent does not mean that the Poincare government that the coming German elections will witness a tremendous increase in the strength of the Communists. The ruling class is afraid of the Communist and being subject to the most ruthless persecution, the Communists of Germany are making remarkable headway.

The dissolution of the Reichstag does not toll the doom of Socialism in Germany. It only presages sharper and more revolutionary class conflicts.

Time to Act

The Workers Party, which has for the last two years waged an energetic campaign for the organization of a national Farmer-Labor Party along class lines, is launching a campaign to redouble these efforts.

No better time could have been chosen for rallying the exploited workers and poor farmers to decisive political struggles against their capitalist enemies.

No one can deny that there is a tremendous wave of disillusionment, disappointment, and enlightenment amongst the mass of workers as to the real role of the government and the constitution in their day-to-day struggles. But this great discontent, this powerful mass action, will peter out and lose its momentum as a force for fundamental social change unless it is organized and turned into channels of effective action to uproot the capitalist control of government and industry. The best and most efficient weapon that the workers and farmers can now employ in this great political crisis is a mighty political party of their own, organized to fight uncompromisingly in behalf of their class interests and against the class interests of the capitalist exploiters.

The appeal of the Workers Party for funds to intensify this campaign of organization amongst the farmers and workmen should bring a most generous response. The capitalist interests will pour more millions into their campaign propaganda this year than ever before. The employers see danger ahead. The workers and farmers should utilize the favorable opportunity to organize themselves to strike telling blows against the capitalist system, the sending out of speakers to the shops, mills, mines, and farms. It means the printing of a vast amount of literature that will tell the story of the bosses' plunder and its ravages amongst the city workers and farmers. A successful political campaign that will hit the enemies of the working masses where it will hurt most, and when they will be able to stand no more, is the expansion of the funds, the spending of money to put over all these activities.

The appeal of the Workers Party is an appeal not in behalf of the Workers Party members, but in behalf of every worker and every farmer. It is a call to action, action which is more pressing than ever, against Teapot politics, farm bankruptcy, government by injunction, low wages, degrading working conditions, and the whole capitalist system of exploitation and oppression of those who work in the city and in the country. This great appeal should meet with the widest response. The workers and farmers should give and give until it hurts their enemies. Give to the Workers Party, Room 214, 1009 N. State Street, Chicago, Illinois.

"Ajanta" goes back to a period of about 500 years B. C. and brings to life pictures found in the ancient temples of India. There are three scenes in this production. The first scene is powerfully dramatic in its parade of pilgrims on their way to the temple. In the second scene the pilgrims, tired and worn with their long journey, lie down to rest. The third scene gives us their dream. The picture on the wall translates itself into a living scene in which the drama of 2,000 years ago is re-enacted. This scene is a gorgeous spectacle of beauty and color and the dance is most exquisite. Paolova and her ballet girls to the art of ballet every night this week.

Daughterly Days

The oil investigation is taking a back seat. A new scandal is now in the spotlight. Mr. Daugherty, who is charged with the task of ferreting out the perpetrator of a crime now appearing in his true light as the arch-defender of the worst criminals and as an active participant in all the heinous crimes that his own department is supposed to prevent.

The testimony of Miss Stimson before the Wheeler committee has already revealed Daugherty as the perpetrator of sufficient crooked deals to warrant not only his impeachment but his immediate imprisonment for a long term. Yet, it is known by all that thorough as the present investigation might possibly be, only an infinitesimal fraction of the corruption and fraud with which the Department of Justice is reeking, will be disclosed.

It is no accident that the man who is the connecting link between the secret chambers of the government bureaucracy and the financiers and industrialists of the nation, who is the worst crookedness with which our government is infected. It is natural for the man whose task it is to do the roughest and dirtiest work for the employing class, the man who sells privileges, dealing in shady oil stocks, and sheltering every notorious lobbyist in the Capital. Who could do a better job in protecting hoodlums, in the hands of the government, than the head of the Department of Justice which has railroaded to jail large numbers of workers and has organized an army of thousands of strikebreakers to smash the labor unions and break the strikes? Indeed, it is most fitting for the government officer who personifies the highest degree of the strikebreaking power of the state, who symbolizes all the hardness and cruelty of the ruling class, to be the essence and incarnation of capitalist government at its worst, in the lowest depths of the nadir of corruption.

For the workers and farmers whom Mr. Daugherty has terrorized and hounded these Daughterly days afford a splendid opportunity for action in self-defense. Now is the time when the working masses must force the government to get rid of Daugherty and his ilk. Now is the time to make Mr. Daugherty, at least in part, pay for the crimes he has committed against the workers and farmers, the numerous strikes and in sabotaging the labor unions and all that stands for as a political force in the country.

A Worthwhile Task

Our attempt to bring home to the great mass of workmen in the industrial centers and in the rural sections the rude realities involved in the disclosures of the oil investigation is an effort which concerns very vitally every man and woman who is compelled to work for a living.

The primary purpose of our getting out a special edition chock full of facts and giving a sound explanation of the whole sordid drama now being enacted in the national Capital is to prevent the employing class from pulling out of their present hardships unscathed. What we are striving to achieve in our "Teapot Special" is a straight-forward, clear-cut presentation of the relationship between the government and the bosses in such a fashion as to help the organization of the workers and farmers who are only the victims of the conditions giving rise to the vicious thefts which our present capitalist body-politic is sweating from every one of its pores.

The fact that American warships have become the taxis of the Standard Oil interests, the deplorable man-killing conditions of employment in the oil industry, the imperialist world struggle for oil are all part and parcel of the whole capitalist system of exploitation of the workers and poor farmers, and are as much the concern of the capitalist as they are of the Teapot holdup. What the working and farming classes must do for their own self-preservation, is to organize themselves politically and economically to uproot every trace and vestige of the capitalist system of production and exchange giving rise to these oppressive conditions.

That is precisely what our "Teapot Special" is aiming at. That is exactly what we are heading for. The distribution of this issue is a most worthwhile task which every workingman and farmer should gladly undertake to carry out to the very end. The end of all these mortal dangers confronting the working people—in order to make impossible the recurrence of all Teapot tragedies and their dire consequences.
