

PULLMAN STRIKERS CLAIM IT'S A FIGHT TO THE LAST DITCH AGAINST THE STOP WATCH

"It's a fight for our last drop of blood!" That's the way the strikers in the car works department of the Pullman Company label their struggle against this notorious labor-crushing corporation.

It all came out at the strikers' daily meeting, yesterday, at 135 E. 107th street, when the strikers received the report of the meeting of their representatives with the "company committee."

The spokesmen of the Pullman Company, including A. B. Gunn, general efficiency and production manager, and C. D. McLaren, had proposed to the strike committee that the strikers go back to their jobs, and that they accept the cut proposed, of 15 to 45 per cent.

Urges Stop Watch System.

The favoring officials stated that they would speed up the men so that they could make more money.

When this statement was made to the strikers at their mass meeting, one of the men spontaneously broke out with: "That's the system they've been using to get every drop of blood we've got."

And then another striker chimed in with: "And now they are trying to get the last drop."

Go En Masse For Wages.

This morning, April 22, is payday in the Pullman plant, and the strikers are going en masse to get what is coming to them. The Pullman workers are paid twice each month. The 200 strikers planned yesterday to meet this morning at 7:30 o'clock at the corner of Cottage Grove Avenue and 111th St., and march together to the paymaster's office.

They are going in a body to get their wages as a precaution against the company officials' threat to deal with the strikers individually.

Hegewisch Strike Grows.

The strike at Hegewisch still on, with new men joining the ranks hourly, the same as in Pullman.

It is reported that many other departments in the huge car works, in addition to those which the strikers left, have been crippled by the strike, so that thousands of workers are idle as a result. In fact, production in the whole plant is gradually coming to a standstill.

PULLMAN STRIKE ALARMS BIG ANTI-UNION COMPANY; BOSS SAYS THEY MAY COMPROMISE

The Pullman Company—for the 57 years of its existence—has long maintained a high standard of spreading of the strike began among the riveters, buckers and heaters at the Pullman plant of southside Chicago.

One of the riveters brought the strikers' grievances to F. L. Simmons, Supervisor of Industrial Relations for the Pullman Company, at his office in the Pullman Building, 79 East Adams street, according to a special interview given to the DAILY WORKER by Mr. Simmons yesterday. The riveter said that he had received a 10 per cent cut, reducing his wages from $12.50 per day to $11.37, by Mr. Simmons' figures.

Pullman Spreading.

The supervisor suggested that the men make up the difference due to the wage cut by spreading up, putting out more work in his 8-hour day. The riveter immediately protested that this was impossible with the time he lost for each job he has to sign a new contract on his own time, as he is paid only for work put out, not for hours on the job. Of course this means less competition among the men striving to keep up with the specially paid fast pace-setter.

Pullman and Pinkerton.

The Pullman Company was one of the first great monopoly business institutions in this country. It played a prominent part against the strikers in the great railroad strike in 1877, employing Pinkerton detectives as spies and slugs and using the 90 (Continued on Page One)

WOW! JUST TAKE LOOK AT LONG LIST OF CRIMES AND MISDEMEANORS THAT THIS HONORABLE JUDGE COMMITTED

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON.—The impeachment charges against Federal District Judge W. E. Baker of the Northern District of West Virginia, were filed with the speaker of the House of Representatives today, by District Attorney W. Brown of the same district.

The charges were formally referred to the House Judiciary Committee by Speaker Gillett.

Brown charged Judge Baker with drunkenness, fraud and conspiracy to defraud, and with the commission of other crimes and misdemeanors.

St. Paul Meet To See 5,000 on June 17th Gathering Belongs to Producing Masses

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 22.—Altho the official call for the June 17th convention has been in the mails but a few days, the office of the arrangements committee is being flooded with inquiries and pledges of support from all sections of the country.

One farmer from North Dakota writes: "We realize that a great National Farmer-Labor Party is the only hope of the farmers and industrial workers and you can count on the farmers of this state being present if they have to slash another mortgage on their farms to get there. We can't be any worse off than we are now."

Rank and File Convention.

The question asked most frequently is for the basis of representation for various organizations in the convention. The convention to be held in St. Paul is to be a rank and file convention. In Minnesota, as well as in the other north central states, the farmer-labor parties are in existence, experience has shown that, to be successful, a new movement must have its roots firmly planted among the workers and farmers. As soon as the leadership is placed in a group at the top, the interest and enthusiastic support of the workers and farmers is lost.

POVERTY, MOTHER OF PROSTITUTION GERMAN SHOWS Int'l. Workers Aid Gives Proof Of This.

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER.

St. Louis, Mo., April 22.—A German government official in Berlin, April 22.—A firm conviction to the question, Why girls become prostitutes, is made by a Berlin physician, Dr. Miina Flake, who lectured on behalf of the International Workers Aid before a local teachers' association. Citing examples from her medical practice, she stated that in almost invariably economic need that forces girls upon the streets and into brothel prostitutes.

Farmers Give Consideration.

In order to make sure that the farmers were not organized as well as the industrial workers, a special basis of representation was devised for them which provides that any group of twenty-five farmers may send a delegate to represent them in the convention, provided that they are not represented there some other organization from their county.

Sugar Workers In Armed Battle With Bosses In Mexico

(By The Federated Press)

MEXICO CITY, April 22.—Armed battle between workers and officials of the American Sugar Co. of Los Mochis, Sinaloa, is raging. A company refuse a three-shift system of eight hours instead of two-shift system of 12 hours.

The president and his armed guards who started the attack, are being held in the main building of the company. A three-shift system of workers. Several deaths on both sides have been reported. Most federal troops are coming to the aid of the company.

"CAUTIOUS CAL," BEFORE KEET SCRIBES
CALLS ON BANKERS TO AID WALL STREET
TO CHAIN EUROPE TO U. S. IMPERIALISM

NEW YORK CITY, April 22.—Wall Street's efforts to turn Western Europe into a vassal state of American imperialism, received the full endorsement of the Coolidge republican administration here today.

President Cal Coolidge, speaking before the pick of the kept editors of the nation, at the Associated Press luncheon here today, called upon America's bankers to make a large loan to Germany, to assure complete success of the Morgan-Dawes plan.

"I trust that private American capital will be willing to participate in advancing this loan (to Germany under the Dawes plan). Sound business reasons exist why we should participate in financing the work of peace in Europe."

While "Cautious Cal" did not espouse the candidacy of "Holl and Maria" Dawes for the vice-presidency, he held important political conferences while in the city. It is taken for granted that the "Coolidge Dawes" ticket to be urged at the Cleveland Republican Convention was given their consideration.

Coolidge tried to brush aside the numerous scandals that his administration has inherited from the Harding regime, the "most corrupt the nation has ever seen." He tried to assure the capitalist press lackeys listening to him that the era of corruption in Washington old party politics was passing.

Taking up first the scandals, Mr. Coolidge said that his general law in the "easy money" era he gotten of the war and declared that it was not surprising some government officials had been corrupted.

"From all of this sordidness, the affairs of government, of course, suffered," said the president. "In some of it a few public officers were guilty participants. But the wonder is not that this was so much or so many, rather than it has been so little and so few. The encouraging thing at present is the evidence of a well-aimed campaign to return to normal methods of public office."

"Law of Service."

Blue and minorities must not expect his help, the president said, in raising the public treasury for money to carry out their projects. Declaring that his chief concern was for projects backed by minorities would spell financial disaster to the nation if he could not raise $2,000,000,000 total was appropriated, he said:

"The law of service must be applied to this situation. At present our country does not need a greater outlay of expense, but a greater application of constructive economy."

He made in this connection a passing reference to the bonus but did not reveal his attitude on the insurance plan bonus bill now in its final stages in congress.

He twice the president criticized congress for its failure "up to the present time accurately to comprehend and expeditiously to minister to the need of taxation reform," but said he believed in spite of this, there would be tax reduction. He assailed the opponents of the Mellon plan, who he said were assuming the country wanted to evade the law of service and sought the benefits of government without paying for that government.

Sticks With Rich.

He said the idea that taxes on the great mass of the people could be cut and more taxes extracted from the rich was an unworkable principle.

He assured his hearers that fundamentally America is sound, its government is in honest hands and its business "including the owners, managers and employees, representatives of honorable and patriotic motives."

Turning then to foreign affairs, the League of Nations is dead so far as the United States is concerned, paid complete success of the Dawes plan. Initiating the idea of the experts' conference on reparations and lent implicit support to the Dawes plan, which boom by highly praising the work of Dawes and his associates in Europe.

Mr. Coolidge then warmly urged that American bankers make a large loan to Germany, to assure the success of the Dawes plan. An American gold can be of more use abroad than piled up at home, he said, and urged again the need of service.

JUDGE FOELL FORCES STRIKERS TO PROMISE TO REFRAIN FROM PICKETING AS POSTPONEMENT MADE

Judge Charles M. Foell postponed for at least a week the cases of the fifty garment strikers before him yesterday that were violating the injunction against picketing.

Before Judge Foell postponed the cases he took good care to force the strikers to promise that they would not return to the picket line until their cases were disposed of.

"Evidently afraid to face the issue, clearly put before him by the DAILY WORKER, Judge Foell's postponement are looked on as an attempt to escape the edict, which the DAILY WORKER has been holding on him as the employers' "Injunction Judge."

Turns to Jury Trial.

The evidence is completed in the cases of the first group of 12 strikers who appeared before Foell last week. Altho all the witnesses have been heard and the cases would have been quickly completed yesterday morning with the summing up of the two lawyers, Judge Foell declined to finish the cases, pleading he had a jury trial in this situation.

Twelve more cases come up before Judge Sullivan this morning. These which have come before "Bonnie" since his vacation. Hyman Brothers are bringing the charges against strikers before Judge Sullivan, and Leo L. Bosky will be their lawyer.

The cases brought by the Graceville Dress Company, which are in the hands of Dudley Taylor, and the cases of the Franchise Frock Company, with Charles Hyde as the attorney, have also been postponed until April 29, by Judge Foell.

Gunmen Assault Striker.

Gunmen and thugs in the employ of the garment bosses increased their activities yesterday. One of the strikers was assaulted by a cowardly gang of gunmen on West Washington street, who were quickly driven away. Four other strikers, out on a mobile riding, were halted into court on absolutely groundless charges, reported to have been brought by hang-around State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe. They were indicted by the grand jury.

WEST VIRGINIA COAL MINERS THANK DAILY WORKER FOR AID GIVEN RECEIVED

The DAILY WORKER has just received a letter from Local Union, No. 1425, United Mine Workers of America, at Ohley, West Va., carrying the seal of the aid given by the DAILY WORKER to the coal miners of this district who are on the relief drive by the DAILY WORKER. The letter is full of praise.

Ohley, West Va., April 21, 1924.

"Editors, the DAILY WORKER: Our Miners' Relief Committee, at a special meeting, attended delegates from the two local unions, Nos. 1425 and 1426, and voted resolutions thanking you for publishing our appeal for the support of our members and their families in their long struggle. The situation never changes and at the present time it is a very critical. There are many sick children and no prospects of a settlement with the mine owners."

"Fraternally yours, Miners' Relief Committee."
"J. Charles Bell, Chairman."

MYERSCOUGH IS WRITING ABOUT ILLINOIS MINES

Shows Effect of the Lewis Policies

The sub-district convention of the United Mine Workers of America convenes here today. Thomas Myerscough, of the Progressive Miners' Committee, will make special reports on this convention to the DAILY WORKER. Myerscough has been covering the southern Illinois mine district during the last week and sends the following interesting article from the effects of President John L. Lewis' policy of "stabilizing" the mining industry.

By THOMAS MYERSCOUGH. BENTON, Ill., April 22—"Shut down for a hell of a long time," these shut down the mines, so as to shut down next week." These are the answers one gets when he asks the question, "What is the effect?" of the miners here in southern Illinois.

At Indianapolis in the international convention last January, Lewis said the industry "needed a breathing spell and security against strikes" so as to enable the miners and operators to recover from the effects of too many strikes. All the time Lewis has used by Lewis and his henchmen to put over the government demand for a long term agreement. They said it was necessary in order that the industry could be stabilized. Lewis made a promise at being alarmed, because many miners were still in debt as a result of the strike. Lewis is claiming that another strike would be disastrous.

The average miner, so far, has been unable to discover any difference between the effects of a strike and the effects of a long term agreement. There is no envelope on pay day in either case, and all will frankly admit that, if the present situation in the mine fields is the definition of stabilization, they would far rather have struck for some improvement in the conditions.

Even the scale committee of high salaried officials could not see the benefit or the wisdom of a move for the shorter work day, the men of the mines, who are forced to look for days at a time of coal which they produced in one day, can see not only the wisdom of the move, but also the absolute necessity of it.

The men of Illinois are apprehensive of what the result of this three year agreement will be, for they know what the result of the last three years have been. They truthfully say, "We've had it for four years and it has left misery in its wake, so what can we hope for another three years of it?"

What will the strikes and shut down now in effect, with approximately 250,000 miners totally unemployed, while most of the rest are employed, who man the mines are working but little, the future holds very little in store for the diggers of black diamonds.

What are you doing, Mr. Lewis, on your frequent visits to oily Washington? What are you trying to stabilize?

SOCIALISTS WILL BETRAY, SPEAKER TELLS MILWAUKEE

(Special to the Daily Worker) MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 22—"Your Socialist will betray you in the same way that Socialist democrats betrayed the German Workers," Alexander Trachtenberg told a large audience in the Free Goggin hall here.

For two hours the assemblage of workers listened with an intense attention to the splendid lecture on Russia and Germany. In a masterful and vivid manner the speaker outlined the industrial achievements of Soviet Russia in the period of reconstruction; and the notable other accomplishments of a fundamental nature in cultural, military and political fields. The gains of Russian industry is not achieved thru the sacrifice of the workers but the contrary. Every year witnesses the improvement in the standard of living of the workers.

MAY BE LAST TIME FOR ROBOT PLAY IN CHICAGO

(By Labor Defense Service) For the last time before quitting Chicago for the wilds of Milwaukee, the Robots and their rabbling cry, "ROBOTS OF THE WORLD! UNITE!" will be heard in Chicago. The Robots' performance on Sunday was such a success that it is expected the house will be sold out on the night of the Robots' play with marked signs of appreciation. It was remarked on all sides that the Robots and their rabbling cry, "ROBOTS OF THE WORLD! UNITE!" might be a success from the artistic point of view as well as the financial.

There are now about three million wholly unemployed and about five million part-time workers. Unemployment is also taken into consideration, there are some 24 million persons living in poverty and semi-starvation in Germany. The distress of strikers and locked-out workers is especially great. The fight for the unemployed and locked-out workers is clearly drawn. Employers are forcing an almost general eleven and twelve-hour day on the workers. The German workers need the help of workers in other countries in the fight against unemployment. The Committee for International Workers' Aid is raising the workers of America to help help to THE WORKERS OF GERMANY.

DAUGHERTY DIDN'T SHOW HONESTY WITH HIS FELLOW THIEVES

(By The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Gaston B. Means, praised by Wm. J. Burns as "one" of the best investigators I ever knew, has given the Brookhart committee further testimony as to Jess Smith's taking of graft from the whiskey ring...

Still more sensational was Means' statement that A. Mitchell Palmer was called in by Daugherty, and went away "looking scared to death" and that Jess Smith told him that Daugherty and Burns had intended to fail to indict Palmer and Francis P. Garvan, former real property custodian, for their sale of the Bosch Magneto property to an alien felon, Kerns. Means declared Smith informed him that Daugherty decided to hold Palmer under blackmail, and make him manipulate the Democracy in Congress in accordance with Daugherty's wishes.

Still W. Storck, accountant for the department of justice, testified outrageous fraud in the sale of seized German properties in the Philippines, under Governor General Harrison. Storck said that former Assistant Attorney General Crim was blocked in trying to proceed with these and other cases requiring prosecution, and that in the Philippine cases no prosecution ever was started.

AS WE SEE IT

O'Flaherty Coming Back

The DAILY WORKER has just received a letter from a reader at Port Clinton, Ohio, reading in part as follows:

"What has become of Thomas J. O'Flaherty's 'As We See It' column? That is the first write-up I look for each day. There is something lacking without it. Please give us more of it, and I am sure the readers will enjoy and learn more from it."

This gives us an opportunity to assure all of our readers that O'Flaherty will soon be back with us again. Our column was forced to undergo an operation recently, which we had hoped would incapacitate him for only a few days. Instead of being able to return, however, O'Flaherty was forced to take a more extended leave of absence. We are hoping that this will terminate as soon as possible, however, and that his "As We See It" paragraphs will soon be back again in the last column on the last page. We know that all of our readers will join us in this very earnest wish.

Philippine Leader Says Congress Is For Independence

TOKIO, Japan, April 22.—The bill now before the judicial affairs committee of the Philippine Independence will receive a majority in both Houses of Congress, Manila, (Quorum), President of the Philippine Senate said when interviewed here. "I believe the majority in both houses of Congress favor Philippine Independence," Quizon declared.

"I hope that the independence bill will be passed by the present session. I have every reason to believe that a majority in both houses of Congress will favor the measure."

It is believed in the United States that President Coolidge and the oil gang will use their influence to defeat Philippine independence.

LEFKOWITZ LINES UP FOR AUTHOR OF SHIFT SYSTEM

Fake Teacher - Liberal Supports Ettlinger.

(Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW YORK, April 22.—In an oratorical appeal for the maintenance of the "merit system," Abraham Letkowitz, of Teachers Union No. 1, called "Progressive" and hand-man of the Socialist Party, put across a resolution before the Education and Labor Council, endorsing the address of William L. Ettlinger, a Tammany Democratic member of the Board of Schools of the City of New York.

The resolution was presented by Mr. Letkowitz, as part of a report of the Committee on Education. He was the only spokesman on the resolution. There was no discussion and no objection, and it was therefore declared carried.

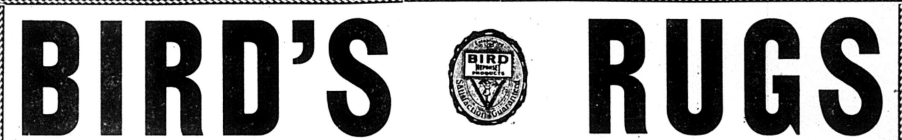

Ettlinger Plan Like Gary's. William L. Ettlinger is well known in this city, and throughout the country as the initiator of the Ettlinger Plan, a half brother of the notorious Gary Plan. Under the Ettlinger Plan, the city and the real estate sharks save a tremendous amount of money which would ordinarily have to be spent on new schools. Instead of a seat for every child, we have but one seat for two and sometimes more children. The schools are run in shifts, like a factory, at all hours of the day, whether the time is suitable for study or not. Labor has consistently opposed every attempt to limit or curtail educational opportunity. The extension of the "platoon" system was recently condemned before the Chicago Federation of Labor. And yet we find a labor man, and recalled progressive, in support of the founder of the Ettlinger Plan.

A Prime Red Baiter. Mr. Ettlinger was Superintendent of Schools at the time of the expulsion of Samuel Schmalhammer, Benjamin Glassberg, Henry Schorer, Ray Ragovin and Thomas Munson, from the public schools, for their opinions. Not only has Ettlinger made every attempt to restore these teachers to their positions, but he has recently declared himself opposed to the granting of a license to David Berensberg. On the ground that he is a Socialist.

In climbing on the Ettlinger band wagon, Letkowitz has practically turned his back upon his fellow Union members who were expelled for their ideas.

Some weeks ago Ettlinger spoke in support of a "Deal" which teachers might be dissatisfied for "conduct unbecoming a teacher." So broad and sweeping is the Ettlinger deal that it completely does away with any possible security of tenure.

Mr. Ettlinger's term expires on April 30. He is having a hard fight for reelection on account of a dispute within the Democratic machine. He has been fishing for labor's support for a long time and Letkowitz has brought some bacon.
