THE DAILY WORKER IS THE ONLY CHICAGO PAPER COVERING PULLMAN STRIKE

TOPEKA, Kan., April 23.—The Ku Klux Klan is doing business illegally in this county. It is being investigated by the court by S. H. Brewster, referee appointed to hear evidence in the attempt to break the Klan from the state. Brewster said the organization could not be traced because in the state without being licensed. The commissioner overruled the charge that the Klan was guilty of intimidation saying that point had not been proved.

REPUBLICAN PARTY BREAK-UP FORESHADOWED AS NATIONAL ORGAN WARS ON PROGRESSIVES

The coming break-up of the Republican Party is foreshadowed by the denunciation of prominent progressive Republicans in the leadership of the National League of Women Voters, the "National Republican," the republican party organ. The attack sponsored by John T. Adams, Secretary of War Weeks, and other prominent Republicans, has already had a demoralizing effect on the republican party in states such as Iowa and Nebraska, where the administration has been making a desperate attempt to hold the states in the republican column. Senator Norris controls the Republican Party in Nebraska. Senator Brookhart has great prestige in Iowa, and of course, Senators Ladd and Frazer in North Dakota and Senator La Follette in Wisconsin. Senator Norris, who has been frequently mentioned as a possible candidate for Vice President as a step to the progress, said, upon hearing of the attack, "I'm proud to be ostracized by that outfit."

The article which, in effect, outlines these prominent candidates for the regular Republican Party, characterizes them as "The vitalizing spirits and active leaders of these war-torn but closely interlocking anti-republican organizations." The heavy story that hits the Communists up to the liberals and to every conceivable society and public figure which is expected to oppose Coolidge is included in the article, which is entitled, "Fitz, Trimmed with Red." William Z. Foster, Ruthenberg, Dunne, the DAILY WORKER, the Workers Party of America, are charged with "trying to overthrow republican government." The article is filled with motley crowd numbering many groups holding conflicting theories and opposing each other's economic interpretations of society.

The reaction to the article, which was written Albert Weisbach, who is the old guard republicans have played bad politics by widening the split which is coming in the Republican Party.

Young Rockefeller Too Sick To Pay But Not To Pray

NEW YORK, April 23.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who was so sick that he could not keep his feet, was visited by representatives of 17,000 Standard Oil company men seeking a raise, was able to get up, and preach to the Young Men's Bible class, Park Avenue Baptist church, New York. When he told his wife that the workers, on the plea of having a cold, a worker remarked, "Not in the head, but in the heart." "Could they have listened to his Easter church message perhaps the workers would have listened to his illness is in the head after all. He said, "People are talking too much about their rights and not enough about their duty. Emphasis has been put too much on liberty, not enough on responsibility."

Immigration Watch Dogs Beg Congress For A Bigger Bone

NEW YORK, April 23.—Union Immigration inspectors in New York and other parts of the country have petitioned congress to pay increased and better working conditions than the employment of more men. In 10 years inspectors who have been raised only $108, from an average of $1329 to $1547 a year. During the same period the personnel had been increased by only 414 workers. Now a reduction of employees from 1,240 to 1,187, and of expenditures from $2,200,000 to $2,221,000 has been recommended to congress by the U. S. bureau of the budget.

TOBACCO TRUST CRIMES HIDDEN BY DAUGHTERY

Harry, Allowed Trust To Rob Farmers

(By The Federated Press) WASHINGTON, April 23.—With a brief glimpse of the tobacco trust case by the United States of thousands of farmers by the manufacturers "concerned" in the "market." Chairman Huston (Thompson) of the Federal Trade Commission has begun this disclosure of former Attorney General Daugherty's failure to prosecute criminal cases turned over to his department by the commission in the past three years.

This testimony is the most important, from the viewpoint of industrial economy of this country, which the Brook Wheeler committee has had to consider. Daugherty had the evidence. Thompson said that in the tobacco and other important cases, where criminal cases were referred to the commission, no replies were made by Daugherty for long periods of time. He instanced the tobacco trust affair. The commission investigated this at the request of the House in 1920, referring to Daugherty in August, 1921, the need for immediate criminal action in the Department of Justice. Then Daugherty asked for a further investigation, and the Commission asked for a report, and in April, 1922, Ten months elapsed, finally a report was made, offering an impeachment resolution, including the charge that Daugherty had failed to prosecute.

Daugherty Passed Buck. In that letter to the Commission Daugherty asked the Commission to take the whole responsibility of prosecuting the case, which was to be done by the department of justice. He held his office with the Federal Trade Commission to discuss the issue. The same L. S. Peterson, assistant to the general, located in New York. He has been having a share in the wholesale permit card of $10 per case, which is a fine one.

INVESTIGATORS BARED FROM STEEL TRUST'S DEATH MINE; MANY BODIES UNRECOVERED

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent) CROSBY, Minn., April 23.—A little brass chest with the number 101 on it is what identified the workers whose decomposed body was taken out of the death-trip Millford mine six weeks after the terrible February disaster. Forty-one miners of the Millford mine were drowned when the bottom fell out of a pond that had been permitted to remain undrained over the mine workings.

The company had refused to heed the warnings of the fatal break and the safety precautions that escape was impossible for the men caught in the flood of slime and water. Bodies Still in Mine Graw. Cole's body was found under a mass of fallen timber near the mouth of the 135-foot level. Soon after, the body of another miner named Greaves was found and identified by his son. Other bodies remain to be found. Thirty-nine widows and nearly 100 fatherless children are the net result of the steel trust's saving on safety.

The management had been asking whether the braces were holding properly but in spite of the plain evidence of disaster they continued to order the miners into the pit. They came the roar of the torrent as the pond suddenly disappeared from the face of the earth and the miners were overwhelmed and drowned like rats below. The relentless greed of the steel trust has contributed to the strength of the miners' movement in this part of Minnesota.

BORAH SEEKS BOTTOM OF FRAME-UP PLOT AGAINST WHEELER

(Special to The Daily Worker) WASHINGTON, Apr. 23.—Arrived by a confidential reporter sending to bear out Senator Wheeler's charge that the indictment was secured by "frame-up" chairman Borah of the Senate investigating committee today determined to go to the bottom of the alleged plot. The new charges were contained in a letter from F. C. Ford, former attorney general of Montana, to former representative Tom Stout of Montana. The letter, outlining the alleged and naming the persons involved, was placed in Borah's hands by Wheeler's friends. Borah immediately dispatched a new batch of subpoenas. Among those summoned are Dr. O. M. Lanston, republican national committee man from Montana and Charles Reinhardt, managing editor of the Montana Standard.

At least three members of the grand jury which returned the indictment will be called, it is understood. Phillips Price Tells How Socialist Party Betrayed Germany. Right in line with what Alexander B. Ross has been saying to workers' audiences through this country is the material offered by M. Phillips Price in his recent book, "Germany in Transition." The book shows that the betrayal by the Socialist Party of Germany to the German Capitalists the workers of Germany have been ground all along more than ever since the revolution of November, 1918. As far as the worker is concerned, the present situation in Germany is a sad one. Imperialist capitalism is no better than the monarchical regime. According to Price, there is no hope except the workers to take over the government after the debacle of the revolution. The Social Democrats compromising with the capitalists.

As for the role of the industrialists in Germany, Price shows how the industrialists were vainly making business deals with the French and English and other capitalists, and did not hesitate to speculate with the lives of German workers thus deluding the workers by their actions. Price's book leads to only one conclusion: that if the workers of the world do not come to the aid of the German workers, their struggle will be crushed between the upper and nether millstones.

BRITISH PRESS SAYS 'AMEN' TO COOLIDGE TALK

(Special to The Daily Worker) LONDON, April 23.—The British press joins in a chorus of approval of the views expressed by President Coolidge in his New York speech. The British press is especially delighted over Coolidge's intimation of the Morgan-Dawes reparations plan, which means the granting of a huge American loan to Germany to help her meet her financial obligations to France. It is generally claimed among the organs of British big business that the Macdonald labor government can not help but accept the proposition advanced by Coolidge, especially the long urged so-called limitation of armaments.

In view of the labor party's platform, urging limitation of armaments, land and labor forces, and Prime Minister Macdonald's declaration that such limitation is vital to the preservation of world peace, it is considered a foregone conclusion that Great Britain, as in the case of the Washington conference, will be the first nation to express official approval of Mr. Coolidge's suggestion. Expect Macdonald's Approval. It is confidently expected Macdonald will take the earliest opportunity to make an official declaration of British approval of the Coolidge suggestion. The following members are on a special committee to arrange these floats: Joe Platt, Charles Ross, I. Bernstein, H. Rosenblum, Freda Schenker, Ross Miller, Morris Levin, Thomas Volpe. The personnel of the committee is an assurance by itself that these floats will be a success. Joseph Schlosberg, general secretary-treasurer of the national organization of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, will be the principal speaker. It is possible that these floats will be delivered in the actual demonstration.

THOUSANDS WILL PARADE IN BIG MAY DAY DEMONSTRATION BY ROCHESTER AMALGAMATED

(Special to The Daily Worker) ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 23.—Convention Hall, the largest auditorium in the city of Rochester was chosen as the ending point of a monster parade which will be held Thursday, the First of May, under the auspices of the Rochester Joint Board of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America and in conjunction with other progressive economic and political organizations in the city. Five bands of music, descriptive floats, nationally known speakers and a concert and dance for the evening are also planned for the parade.

The parade will start at 10 o'clock at the Amalgamated headquarters at 475 North Clinton Avenue. National Organizer Aid Carl presided. From the very start it was evident that all the active members who took part in the meeting meant business. Edith Christensen reported the arrangements up to the time of the meeting, which included the securing of Convention Hall and invitations extended to several economic and political organizations in the city. American Dollar Diplomacy in Action

By JAY LOVESTONE

ARTICLE III. American Colonialism.

In more ways than one does the American imperial and colonial empire resemble the Roman empire of old. But the most outstanding resemblance of the policy of the Roman republic of the latter part of the 19th century to the policy of the American republic today, lies in the imperialistic character of the latter and its interference with domestic affairs in the various spheres of influence. The American military governor generals of the exact possessions are, in fact, exact prototypes of the procurators and pro-consuls governing the provinces of the old Roman empire. In Rome men were given the office of procurator or procurator in order to administer their personal fortunes or their political friends and masters. So exactly the same principle are our colonial military governor generals chosen today. General Leonard Wood was sent into the Philippines to force upon the Filipinos an economic policy which would enable him to repay in valuable concessions the powerful bankers and manufacturers who financed his primary campaign in 1902 to the cost of $2,000,000.

Major Joseph H. Crowder, formerly chief of the American military staff, serving as American procurator in an American commission is now in Bolivia watching the collection of taxes in the interest of the United States. In Nicaragua, the only solvent country in Central America, the United States administrator is exacting taxes and customs of the country in the interest of the American bankers and investors. The desire to secure an election in Honduras is the result of an American warship lying off the coast. The United States does not pass laws regulating its own industries without the assistance of American packing interests. South America is often in danger of war and strife because of the machinations of American war contractors fostering rivalry among the southern republics. The Bethlehem Steel Company has become the official contractor for the Argentine navy. The Secretary of State Hughes has become the official spokesman for the American bankers in all their deals as shown by the recent $5,000,000 loan to Salvador in which the State Department is concerned in the selection of the collector of customs, who, according to the loan contract, is to be appointed in case of default.

American capitalists have been quick to extend their domination wherever catastrophe has aided them. The collapse of the sugar market in Cuba during the latter part of 1920 is a typical case in which the industries of the weaker country were invited in order to enable the American interests to secure over 50 per cent control. How serious the United States Government, in its imperialistic actions is clearly seen from the present situation in Brazil. An American naval mission of about 30 officers with the approval of the United States Navy Department, has for several months taken over control of the Brazilian naval schools, shipyards, and factories that were built by the Brazilian government. This has resulted in upsetting the naval balance of power in the South American continent. Brazil has proven a source of serious trouble to the whole continent.

American imperialism and influence are characterized by the same brutality and outrageous conduct coloring the actions of American imperialists. Since General Wood has arrived in the Philippines he has pursued a policy of handing over valuable concessions to American capitalists. In this attempt the natives to nationalize their industries, the target of his attacks, are being crushed. The obvious purpose of the attempts at government ownership in these lesser developed countries is to place the industries under the hands of foreign exploiters. The purpose of the agent of American imperialism is to remove all hindrance and obstacles to the domination of the United States in American capital.

The Filipinos strongly resent this policy of General Wood. Their Senate and Legislature have gone on strike against this hands-off policy of the American capitalists. The Filipinos are being gobbled by their country. There is talk of independence. The American auditor Wright has cut off the independence of Porto Rico. So serious a turn have recent events taken in the Philippines that the conservative of other countries are afraid that the contagion of national independence will spread from the entire Far East. Thus the other of the "Far East," one of the leading Japanese imperialist journals in Tokyo, recently declared that the Filipino crisis was "adding fresh fuel to the anti-British bias in India, China, to the anti-British bias in India, and to the general unrest against imperialism. The Chinese have large sections of Africa." This remark is especially significant since normally Japan would like to see the United States get out of the Philippines in double quick time. It is interesting to note how the capitalist imperialists of all countries line up and forget their differences when their fundamental interests are at stake.

When the Cuban Minister Colonel Tanara proposed his bill to consolidate the railways so as to eliminate 47 private ports in Cuba and "treat the country as a single unit" at the behest of the American Sugar Refining Co., the American Metal Co., and other firms, the Cuban government representing over half billion dollars, warned the Cuban government to drop control of the railways to the American imperialist agents, even resorted to the tactics they employed in the Canal Zone as a bribe to the Cuban government. The Cuban government has been stirred up by the fact that the high handed attempt of the American capitalist to throttle their native government.

The Cuban government has been stirred up by the fact that the high handed attempt of the American capitalist to throttle their native government.

Porto Rico has repeatedly demanded its independence from American imperialism. What American exploitation of Porto Rico means is seen from the following report of Senator Hughes: "There are 778,000 acres of the island controlled and under the control of 447 American, Spanish and French corporations. We have all the evils of absentee ownership and family systems of education, industry, credit and sanitation.

Even Mexico does not afford unbounded peace and comfort to American imperialism. The Obregon has completely surrendered to Morgan and Rockefeller interests, and is quickly dropping all pretense at friendship even with the most conservative elements, there are disturbing factors on the political horizon in Mexico. In spite of our capitalists being sure that Calles, the most likely successor of Obregon, will do their bidding, they are taking steps to make sure that no losses are suffered by them if Obregon is elected. In fact, American interests played a most important part in the recent rebellion of Calles against Obregon.

Our marines hold Haiti, San Domingo and other territories in the Caribbean sea under our financial thumb. American financial muscle is instrumental in the administration of the Bolivian policy is dictated by American bankers. Peru is virtually in American hands. The United States is under our financial thumb.

The diplomacy and philosophy of American imperialism policy towards the southern republics is clearly fully stated by Secretary of State Hughes before the American Bar Association in a few moments ago. Hughes as the Monroe Doctrine "does not interfere with the independence and sovereignty of other American states and does not stand in the way of free trade and cooperation." We will find that American imperialism in no way differs from the other capitalist nations. "We are interested in the protection of national security, all Latin American nations are interested in the protection of national security, all Latin American nations are interested in the protection of national security."

MONEY TALKED IN FEDERAL PRISON UNDER DAUGHERTY-VOTAW REGIME REVEALED BY BROOKHART PROBE

(Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Moneyed bootleggers in Atlanta federal prison are still millionaires. The power of their money may occasionally fail to save them from a penitentiary sentence, but it follows them within the stone walls and adds to the bitterness of the lot. Prisoners who have been in the Daugherty-Votaw control of Atlanta prison, special privileges have as surely gone with cash balances as the prisoner were in some big hotel.

This was the substance of testimony given to the Brookhart investigating committee of the Senate by J. F. Wilkins, for the past eight years in charge of the school in the prison. Wilkins was suspended a few days ago, when it was discovered that he had proposed to resign and write magazine articles exposing the inside of the Daugherty-Votaw system has made in the convict community.

His Testimony.

He told the committee that three millionaires—Remus of Ohio, Sweetwood of New York, and Kessler of New York—constituted the upper privileged class in Atlanta prison. Remus had all possible privileges from the moment of his arrival. He dined in the officers' mess instead of in the main dining hall with the rest of the prisoners. He had a private room above the isolation ward. It was said that there was a private bath attached. He did not work, he loafed at will within the prison enclosure. When at last there came some newspaper publicity to the strange conditions of this Ohio bootlegger's imprisonment, he went to work in the parole office and was given his meals at the hospital, where the food was better.

Senator Wheeler asked Wilkins whether the other prisoners commented on the case of these millionaires.

"Yes," replied the schoolmaster. "It was very embarrassing, and very destructive to prison morale. These special privileges clearly went to men who had money. The talk among the prisoners was that the three men paid money to prison officials in order to get this special consideration. I tried

JURY DEBATING THAW'S SANITY IN NIGHT SESSION

Millionaire Has Laughing Fit In Court

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—The Thaw case went to the jury at 11:17 p. m. At 9 p. m. it took a recess until 10:15 p. m. at which time the jury returned to the courtroom at 10:15 p. m.

The millionaire was highly unusual at one time laughing aloud, so that the clerk had to rap for order. Yet he was mainly composed.

In his charge, the judge recalled many points of evidence in Thaw's favor, particularly the testimony of Thaw's relatives.

Evelyn Nesbit won't settle. As the last minutes, it was understood, an offer of settlement was made to Evelyn Nesbit, which would have caused her virtual withdrawal. But the offer was refused.

"I am here to represent Thaw," Thaw's boy—his own-born, October 25, 1910, and in the name of his boy I oppose Thaw's release," William A. Gray, counsel for Evelyn Nesbit, declared at the climax of the millionaire's sanity trial today.

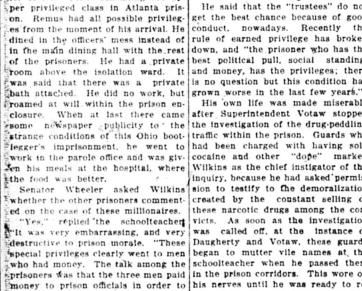

Thaw's actions when taken to a rooming house under the name of Judge Monahan's boy.

He was opposed to any drug investigation, he could not complain to that official. He had decided to charge when he was suspended.

Dr. Stille told.

Wilkins testified that the use of force inside the prison is common now as at any time in the past, and that he believed that if former Warden Dyche had been permitted to remain and carry on the campaign he began against the traffic could have been broken up. A prison doctor was arrested and sentenced to Leavenworth prison for having sold drugs in Atlanta, but Warden Dyche was removed by Votaw and Daugherty and the drug traffic remained entrenched.

2,000 U. S. Veterans Driven To Suicide During Last Year

(By The Federated Press)

NEW YORK, April 23.—Poverty is one of the chief causes of suicide, as shown by investigations of the Salvation League, New York. From 15,000 to 16,000 persons committed suicide in the United States last year, the league estimates, on the basis of the 12,948 admitted suicides. "Nothing is more pathetic than the many disabled soldiers who themselves ended life's battle, only having gone out in this regrettable way," says the league report.

Many of these ex-soldiers were left in sickness and poverty because of the wholesale graft in the veterans' bureau and the Harding-Coolidge administration.

G. O. P. KEYNOTE IGNORES LABOR AND FARM ISSUES

Whiskered Hughes Talk Is Very Old Stuff

By LUDEWIG DENNY, Federated Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 23.—Old stuff. This is the most frequent comment one hears on the Republican keynote speech by Charles E. Hughes of the Fall-Daugherty-Denby normalcy cabinet, delivered before the New York state convention of his party. Hughes managed to string words together for an hour and a half without a protest against the old scandalous Hughes Daugherty and his clan have threatened to scuttle the G. O. P. ship if there is a repetition of the wearisome 70-percent pure confession by "Sugar" in the morning.

Hughes had no word to say to American farmers, so mention was made of the light of American farmers, except a passing reference to the fact that the farmer is the backbone of the nation.

A Dark and Wet Message.

Meanwhile Albany the Democrats were holding their state convention and endorsing Governor Smith as many candidates for President. Smith will run as a quasi-dark horse. His candidacy will be maintained in other states. But the three Democratic bosses—Murphy of New York, Cullinan of Illinois, and C. C. Johnson—are known to favor Smith if he can be won, but not over without dampening the Democratic ardor of the dry set. So Smith in accepting the pledges of support by the convention at Albany did not mention prohibition, nor was the subject referred to by the delegates, practically all of whom were wet.

Since the Western "sin endorsement" Smith's backers are hoping that the Catholic religion will not exclude him as a successful candidate.

The Democratic platform, as foreshadowed by the keynote speech of Judge Herrick, will be a repetition of the Cox platform inspired by Hughes with the real campaign centering around the Republican administration scandals.

CARIBOO INDIANS PERISHING BEFORE RUTHLESS WHITES

Game Gone, Jobs Gone, Health Gone.

By SYDNEY WARREN - Staff Correspondent.

WILLIAMS LAKE, B. C., April 23. The coming of the white men into the Cariboo country has brought into the exploitations of the Cariboo Indians. The best of the fashion, by all civilized business men.

The American Indians in this section of British Columbia are the other parts of the continent, had their lands stolen from them. To save the conscience of their white robbers they were allowed to live on small reservations for agriculture. The lands given were often the poorest.

"On the sugar cane rancher it is difficult to secure sufficient water for irrigation, and to make matters worse, farming implements are beyond the price that the Canadian natives could afford. Add to this the fact that the Cariboo Indians have no access to the fishing, by the advent of the white man destitution follows.

Livelihood Taken Away.

At first the Indians made an attempt to meet the new conditions forced upon them, their disappearance of their hunting, trapping and fishing grounds, but the coming of the white man's motor trucks and railway transportation took this means of livelihood away.

Today destitution and disease are stalking among the Indians of the Cariboo country. The aerial immunity from contagious diseases enjoyed by the Indians of this section has been shattered. At present in the Big-Bar country a virulent type of small-pox spreading among the natives and through the Lillooet region mumps have been raging.

A large tribe of Lillooet Toonah-Paste is only 25 cents at your drug-gist—Lambert's Pharmacy Co., 1012 Fulton St., Phone West 2549.
