CLASS PARTY ORGANIZED AT PEORIA MEET

Duncan McDonald Is Named For Governor

By KARL REEVE,
(Special to The Daily Worker)

PEORIA, Ill., May 19.—Ninety-seven delegates mostly representing trade unions, formed the Illinois Labor Party here, adopted a platform, named a state ticket to run at the coming election, and elected Duncan McDonald as delegate to the June 17th Conference of Farmer-Labor Parties at St. Paul.

The convention, which was marked by history of opinion for independent political action of the working class, after adopting the platform and passing resolutions unanimously passed a motion to instruct delegate McDonald to work for the formation of a class labor party at St. Paul, and if one is formed, the Illinois Labor Party unanimously voted to become a part of it.

The state executive committee of the Illinois Labor Party was also instructed to try to secure the cooperation of other

PULLMAN WORKERS TO MEET TONIGHT FOR REVIEW OF STRIKE

A review of the recent Pullman strike is promised for tonight in Stank's Hall, 205 East 19th street, Pullman, at 8 o'clock.

A mass meeting of workers has been called by the Workers Party and able speakers will go over the strike events with the workers, showing how the weakness of inadequate organization prevented the strikers from gaining full benefits of their demands.

Louis English, editor of the DAILY WORKER, Jack McCarthy, circulation manager of the paper, and Ed Gomez, active on the Labor Defense Council, will discuss the strike with the workers.

All of the men who went out in a spontaneous strike against the Pullman Company and all other workers of the plant or town will be particularly interested in this review of the strike and the difficulties of the strike will be intelligently taken up and the need for greater organization pointed out in a specific reference. The Workers Party position for a mass class labor party will be clearly set forth with a demonstration to the workers of the necessity for uniting in independent political action to fight the boss with his own resources. Speakers in Polish and South Slavic will also address the mass meeting tonight at Stank's Hall, Pullman.

I. L. G. W. LEFT FIGHT TO CONTINUE

Staff Writer Tells How Sigman Won In Boston

By REBECCA GRECHT
(Special to The Daily Worker)

BOSTON.—(By Mail).—The expulsion policy of the Sigman dictatorship triumphed for the time being when the convention of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union rejected resolutions demanding the unconditional reinstatement of all expelled or expelled and the cessation of persecution of the militants. The vote was taken after the official stenographer cut short the proceedings and the delegates, refusing delegates the right to explain the principles of the Trade Union Educational League which is under fire. Nevertheless the fight for more revolutionary conduct of the class struggle which the I. L. G. W. is organizing will go on.

The approval of Sigman's expulsion policy came at the close of the report of the Committee on Officers' Reports on the so-called "left hysteria in our union." This report charged the progressives with deliberate disorganization, the breaking up of mass campaigns, carrying on against the officials, and with belonging to a dual union, the Trade Union Educational League, which was viciously attacked as an outside agency seeking to disrupt the international.

Resolutions from various local unions were read and none of them certain terms that expelled members be reinstated, and that freedom of membership be restored in the organization. The committee recommended that these resolutions be not considered in, and that the report be accepted.

Saroff Defends Expelled.

Delicate Saroff was then given the floor in defense of the militants. Attacking the policies of the international officials as responsible for the present chaos in the industry, he declared that the union could respect the rights of the expelled and drive out of the union all such elements who had a truly constructive attitude toward the union and strengthening the organization.

Saroff denied that the issue was one of expulsion, but rather a question of the functions of a union. He explained the principle of amalgamation for which the militants were battling, claiming that this had aroused the bitter opposition of the officials only because it threatened their wealth and power. The international, he emphasized, did not object to politics in the union if it permitted Ed Caham, an outsider representing the socialist party, to dictate its policies. The real objection was against those who propagated principles in any way opposed to those sanctioned by the international.

When he demanded whether agitation for independent political action should be regarded as disrupting the union, sneering comments were heard from the house who had been loud in applauding the administration's policy, and first in calling previous actions of the house who had been loud in applauding the administration's policy.

Floor Taken to Others.

Delicate Saroff was the only one permitted to speak. No sooner had he finished than the speaker stood.

WORKERS HEAR HOW TO GIVE CLARION CALL

Staff Writer Tells How Urges Farmer-Labor Party On Convention

By KARL REEVE,
(Special to The Daily Worker)

PEORIA, Ill., May 19.—Declaring that the time had come for the workers to assert themselves in a "real live Farmer-Labor Party," Alex Howat, expelled Kansas mine workers' president, won the enthusiastic support of the miners' convention.

Howat spoke for several hours, sharply criticizing the government of the two old parties and the use of the injunction in strike-breaking, condemning the international officials' had sold out.

The expelled mine president urged the miners to elect men to represent the rank and file, in the legislative halls of this country," he said. "We'll always be in the same shape as long as we go along with the old parties."

"Let us refuse to be hoodwinked any longer by these men who are received by a few screaming politicians. We are only judges by the past, and we have learned by the past that there is no hope for the workers in the hands of these men who are in the old parties."

For F. L. Despite Walker.

"I am for a Farmer-Labor Party," he declared, "and I have been so since I was a boy. I have been so since I was a boy, and I haven't changed my position in the last 25 years."

"There must be a start sometime and the time has not yet come for us to make that start on a party of their own."

The former mine union president then continued that if the capitalists want laws to be respected they should first respect the rights of the workers. He declared that the time had come when the people could respect the rights of the workers and their rights.

Told of Allen's Party.

He told how Governor Allen of Kansas had the idea he could ride into the presidential seat at the White House on the backs of the workers by putting an end to strikes with his Industrial Court Law.

Howat related how Governor Allen had found bones of passing industrial courts. He said that he was in interest in the fight.

"We must be aggressive in going on with the fight," Howat called to the convention. "Let there be no surrender to the employers of labor. Some move must be made by the international organization to see that the unorganized miners of this country be brought into the fold of the miners' union."

Victim of Farrington Deal.

"The deal is broken," he declared, "but the morning session when the resolution demanding the reinstatement of the expelled miners was adopted, the famous craft charges, were made by the delegates."

"There is no hope for the workers in the hands of these men who are in the old parties," he said. "Let us refuse to be hoodwinked any longer by these men who are received by a few screaming politicians. We are only judges by the past, and we have learned by the past that there is no hope for the workers in the hands of these men who are in the old parties."

Think This Over

Here is something for Chicago workers to think about. John Bajur, a friendless laboring man was shot dead as he was coming out of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad yards with his hands full of a few rotten potatoes which he had taken to keep his family from starving.

Bajur was shot Sunday by a railroad gunman named Dewey Norman. The killing was peculiarly atrocious. Witnesses say no warning was given; the starving man before the gat barked.

Yesterday an inquest into the cause of Bajur's death was halted—at the request of a certain Lawrence Packman who said the American Legion wanted to testify.

Can a corporation gunman shoot a starving worker without warning and then escape investigation thru the aid of the American Legion?

Is membership in the American Legion a license to commit murder with impunity—so long as the victim is a friendless worker? What about it, workers of Chicago?

REQUEST OVER FINK'S VICTIM IS POSTPONED

Murdered Man Stole Handful of Potatoes

The American Legion is holding up the inquest over the body of John Bajur 64, who was shot and killed Saturday by Detective Dewey Norman, of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, for the first of a handful of rotten potatoes.

The inquest, which was to be held yesterday morning, was postponed until Friday on receipt of a letter from Lawrence Packman, 6226 Stony Island Avenue, asking that the inquest be permitted to appear in defense of Norman.

The letter attempts no justification for its action, and no reason for its stand can be found excepting that Norman is a member of the Legion.

Evidence of eyewitnesses indicates that the shooting of Bajur was a cold-blooded murder. Maria Natas, 419 My Street, was present when the shoes were fired.

"I was carrying a few potatoes in my hands," Natas told a DAILY WORKER reporter, "when I noticed a man who had come out of the yard, and I saw him passing the door-way of the yards' office, a detective close behind. Without a word he fired three shots at the man with the potatoes. I am sure that he gave legal and no command."

Stole Potatoes to Live.

Bajur, who is Polish by birth, had been employed irregularly as sawyer at the Chicago Mill and Lumber Co. His average arduous amount to more than $24 a week, and his family, consisting of a wife and two children, lived on the edge of starvation on these three pennies at 526 N. Racine avenue, without taking in a number of weeks. For some time Bajur has been working only a few hours a day; he has been unable to protect himself from union action, since he has a wife and two children.

Chicago Mill and Lumber Co. makes it a point of honor to give "aged" piece men affiliated with a labor organization.

A son of 18, Adam, has been out of work for many weeks. Bajur's other child is a girl of 15, of stunted build, who has been in the hospital for a long time. She told of years of hunger and cold. That said that night of her mother's death. She said that she was in the yard when the potatoes were taken, and she had picked up a handful of them.

She is being held at the De-plaun street police station, pending the inquest.

DORiot, FRENCH Y. C. L. LEADER, FREED AFTER ELECTION AS DEPUTY

PARIS, May 19.—Jacques Doriot, recently elected a Communist deputy from a Paris suburb, was granted amnesty today by the President of France. The President was forced to free Doriot after his election; it was not any sudden rush of generosity to the President's head that freed Doriot.

Doriot was sentenced to prison for two years because of anti-militaristic activities in the Ruhr. He will take his seat in the Chamber of Deputies June 1. Doriot's activities in the Ruhr district were in connection with work of the Young Communist League of France.

Doriot, who has been in prison for two years, was freed after his election as deputy to the Chamber of Deputies.

WORKERS PARTY NATIONAL OFFICE IN NEW BUILDING

Ruthenberg Saws Bars Off Windows

The DAILY WORKER has no neighbors. The National Office of the Workers' Party and the Laborer has moved to the new 1113 W. Washington building, which was built by the National Office and the various language federations of forces had all their furniture, books and papers sent, over from 1009 N. State street Saturday afternoon and yesterday morning they came into the new quarters ready to straighten out their stuff and proceed to work.

When C. E. Ruthenberg, national secretary, arrived at the new address the first thing that struck his eye were the iron bars on the rear windows of his new office. Calling the attention of the police to this, he immediately contacted revolutionary committees for a few days. Nick Dozenberg, head of the literature department, produced the saw and the two men began the removal of the obnoxious bars.

Bob Minor, editor of the Laborer, returning from his trip in the east arrived in time to see the widowers of the national office being the same in his ways attacking the bars on his windows. "Here, here, that will never do," snapped Bob. "If the revolution is to be won we must have a free press. It will be only thru their own efforts, if bars are to be sawed I will saw them down. I am sure the police are saying Bob got to work."

The new telephone number of the national office will be the same as that of the DAILY WORKER—Monday 4-3 and 4-752. The address you know—1113 W. Washington street.

Threat Of Methodist Church To Follow Christ, Raising Hell

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., May 19.—Interests in impending action by the Methodist Episcopal general conference on a resolution "outraging" war as well as the church is concerned, to elect overshadowed that manifested in the election of four new members.

Election of bishops for various Episcopal sees at Buffalo, Omaha, Chattanooga and Singapore was first on the day's order of business, however.

The conference appeared divided over the resolution against war. The committee on the state of church affairs adopted by a considerable majority a resolution calling for the church to take a decisive stand in opposition to war while leaving an individual to his own conscience whether he participates.

Telegrams opposing adoption of the "anti-war" resolution have poured in during the past few days.

DISCOVERY OF BURNS FRAME-UP PLOT CAUSE OF NOTORIOUS FINK'S SUDDEN EXIT FROM DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The reason for William J. Burns' sudden decision to disconnect himself from the payroll of the Department of Justice was revealed when the Brookhart committee investigating Harry M. Laughlin and the D. J. while under his direction injected proof that the Mexican revolution of 1921 in Lower California, was financed by the oil trust industry, with Albert B. Fall as disburser-in-charge.

William J. Burns tried to frame the D. J. agent who furnished the department with one of its fortuitous exposures received.

It was this telegram, the Brookhart committee has learned, that was the cause of Burns' exit from the Department of Justice. Burns was taken from the job, and the war path proceeded to frame him. He wrote a letter to E. C. Wheeler, his agent in Los Angeles, suggesting that arrangements be made to get Gerhart. He was taken away, and Burns was taken free. It looks as if Burns' career is over.

CAPITALISTS DISCOVER NEW WAY OF SEPARATING FARMER FROM HIS LAND, SAYS WISCONSIN PROFESSOR

By LELAND OLDS (Federated Press, Industrial Editor)

Confession of the capitalist is revealed as a probability of the near future by the University of Wisconsin, in an address before the Tri-State Developing-Band tributary to the University of Wisconsin.

Figures gathered by the U. S. Bureau of agricultural economics, he said, show that if tax tendencies continue the time will come when the farmer will be separated from his land by the return of America's farm lands will be absorbed in farm payments.

"Statistical charts were used to show that in Ohio and Kansas the upswing line representing tax increases is going so rapidly on the line representing the increase in land values that it will not take long for the lines to cross. When they cross the government by taking the entire income of the land will have taken the value of the land.

Ely pointed out that this tendency had been accelerated during the last three years because farm lands had been falling sharply while taxes continued to increase. If the same land values are absorbed by the state the farmers of Ohio and Kansas will become state tenants.

Government figures refute recent statements by bankers that the cost of living is not high and that the present contribution to taxes is important contributing cause of the plight of the farmer. In spite of the fact that the cost of living had risen since 1921 they stand today only 53 per cent above the prewar level. And the cost of the farmer's deficiency is not to be found in the meager wages he is getting for his labor. In the form of rent, mortgage interest, and taxes and taxes to support capitalistic industry, he is losing at least 18 per cent of his income.

PERSHING TALK BLOOD ON SEPT. TWELVE

Trying To Pep Robots For Next War

(Special to The Daily Worker)

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19.—Restatement of the American robot for the purpose of the development of American imperialism is the purpose of the special session of the committee on the part of the military aristocracy of the United States, headed by General Pershing. The state was selected as being the anniversary of the management of St. Mihiel; it is hoped that this money, will certainly have a most beneficial effect on national sentiment, through which we hope to see the military system of capitalism and the schools.

That military strategists of the army are doing their utmost for the new national defense system since the moment the last war ended is admitted by General Pershing. The influence of imperialism hopes was revealed by the black-jacked when he said: "The general staff will certainly have a most beneficial effect on national sentiment, through which we hope to see the military system of capitalism and the schools.

Hughes' Pershing admits his education is not so high as that of the farmer. "Nobody said on the lid longer than I did during the war," he says. "Only those near me could really appreciate it."
