

RESERVE BANKING SYSTEM TO BID EUROPE IN CREDIT CHAINS

By LAURENCE TODD.
(Staff Correspondent of The Federated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Has a world reserve bank system been launched, by means of the Dawes' scheme for German reparations payments? Is a money and credit monopoly, which will develop all parts of the world, been set in operation by the Morgan and allied banking groups, under the leadership of Lord Kylsaga's running mate?

There is passing from hand to hand in Washington a document drafted by one of the financial and political experts whose views are widely purchased by bankers. In this document the statement is made that "epochal decisions" have been made as to the rehabilitation of European industry and commerce through the use of American credit facilities. American gold is to be the basis of vast credits which are to be extended to Europe, but this gold will stay at home.

AMALGAMATION VITAL TO WIN UNION POWER

Electric Workers Must Unite

By KARL REEVE.

The militant trade unionists belonging to the metal trades industries demand the amalgamation of all the craft unions into one union to prevent the electrical industry from being annihilated by the electrical workers' union.

The large electrical factories are only the manufacturing departments of the telephone, telegraph, radio and power companies," states the International Committee for Amalgamation in their "Amalgamation Bulletin."

"To organize these factories it is necessary that both branches of the electrical industry be organized, namely, the operating and manufacturing departments."

Rank and File vs. Leadership. This statement is the voice of the militants of the electrical workers' union of the past. The rank and file membership against the electrical workers brought about the reactionary disruptive tactics employed by the metal trades department at the time of the present amalgamation drive. This was the result of the metal trades department at the time of the present amalgamation drive.

Clothing Bosses in New York Weaken; Strikers Stand Solid

The Amalgamated issued a statement to the public before the strike was called. It follows: "In both Chicago and Rochester clothing manufacturers, the union has recently renewed its agreements with the manufacturers of these cities without either a strike or a threat to strike. The largest clothing manufacturers in the United States are maintaining satisfactory relationships with the Amalgamated and through civilized industrial relationships with the Amalgamated and the union, the industry in these markets enjoys peace and efficiency."

N. Y. BILLS BLOCK CONVENTION ALL YELLING FOR AL

Morgan Lets Puppets Play; Pulls Wires

NEW YORK CITY, June 26.—"Al Smith is a jolly good fellow," "Al Smith is a jolly good fellow," the slogan of the pro-Al Smith campaign in a peerless manner. Therefore he should be the next president of the United States. He has no ideas that would cause anyone to quarrel with him. He gets along famously with his legislators, and the legislators with him. This is, in substance if not in form, the nomination of Al Smith in the democratic convention today. It was delivered by Franklin D. Roosevelt who was a member of the Wilson administration.

Will Nolis Win Votes?

The Tammany forces had a notable victory in the election for Al Smith for their favor, as a result they were packed with low-voiced individuals with all sorts of noise-making machinery. The problems of putting over a candidate in this convention seem to have been converted as one of drowning the gathering in a sea of demagoguery. But it is all rather dull, mechanical, and machine made, just like the issues and candidates.

WORKER WRITES ELECTRIC TRUST EXPERIENCES IN 1919 STRIKE TO HELP OTHER WORKERS ORGANIZE

In response to the DAILY WORKER's request for letters from Western Electric workers or exploited employees of the other branches of the electric trust, the following letter was received on June 24, 1919 telegraph strike came and we are glad to print it as a lesson from workers:

To the DAILY WORKER: Most of the readers of the DAILY WORKER already know that the Western Electric and the Western Telephone and Telegraph are, at the least, on very friendly terms with each other, with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. as a sort of "fraternal" head.

STOCKTON, Calif., June 26.—An authorized interview in the stockton "Independent" of H. W. Wagoner, director of the California State Department of Agriculture said that the I. W. W. was not responsible for the spread of the hoof and mouth disease in the West. Merced County is the stockton's low azoetes was charged by District Attorney Fink. He said the jump was caused by the shipment of infected cattle. This puts the possibility squarely up to the federal authorities who should have prevented the shipment of the infected cattle.

Amortg Trading Corp. Established

NEW YORK, June 26.—Trade between America and Soviet Russia is to gain new impetus as a result of the creation of Amortg Trading Corporation with offices at 136 Liberty St., New York City. Amortg Trading Corporation, which has been incorporated in the state of New York for paid-up capital of $1,000,000, is a merger of the Amortg-American, Inc., and the Products Exchange Corporation, both of which had previously carried on extensive trade with Russia and established solid business connections with that country.

Of these, the Products Exchange Corporation, being an American corporation, had also been incorporated in Russia and held Soviet government licenses for carrying on trade in the Soviet republics. These licenses, as well as all business connections established by the merger firms, are transferred to the Amortg Trading Corporation, which will also have the exclusive right to act as the sole representative in America of the Russian "Gostorg" (state export and import department) as well as of the Gostorgs of the Ukraine and the Caucasian federation. At the same time the Amortg Trading Corporation receives the sole representation of the American of the Arctic Laid of London, which is the selling and buying agent for the Soviet government in the United Kingdom.

The direct connections of the Amortg Trading Corporation in Russia extend also to most of the greatest Soviet industrial concerns, such as the coal trust, the Electric Caucasus Oil Trust, the Electric Trust, Agricultural Machinery Syndicate and similar organizations. These connections, in addition to the experience gained by the merged organizations, will furnish the opportunity for the American producers to get in closer relations with the Russian market and eliminate the intermediary functions of German and British interests which have controlled most of the trade between America and Russia, owing largely to their superior knowledge of the conditions of the Russian market and their willingness to meet the credit requirements of the Russian consumers.

The directors of the Amortg Trading Corporation are: Isidore J. Hoober, chairman, (Russian); John G. Obool, (American); Isaac J. Sherman, (American); Paul J. Ziv, (Russian). Officers: Paul J. Ziv, president; Isaac J. Sherman, first vice-president; John G. Obool, vice-president; J. B. M. Volynsky, secretary.

Investment Says

By JAY LOVETONE. (Special to the Daily Worker).

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, Convention Hall, June 26.—In sharp contrast to the Cleveland fair the show here is willing to give the effect of anything but a cut and dried affair. Now and then various stage debaters punctuated the business of the day with a few remarks which it carries not how large the scale or big the investment, what it is most of all a very successful show. The delegation met with ringing applause.

Joseph Daniels was particularly dotted with the word, "corruption." Here and there the band would jump up a bit by hitting up a national or sidewalk air. Even on the platform small caucuses could be detected. Joseph Daniels was particularly in evidence strutting about. Every possible step in the art of stage-setting and scenic effect was taken by the democratic leaders to make the affair look real and living and to give the impression to the world that the convention delegation itself will decide the nominations and weighly problems.

A Hard-Boiled Gathering. Mingling with the delegates and listening over carefully conference notes that they are a mass of twenty-minute egg-hard-boiled. Henschel went over carefully conference government officials, well-to-do merchant, bankers, manufacturers and statesmen are to be found in the audience.

It was interesting to note that the Amortg Trading Corporation, New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Ohio, and Indiana are all represented. It was noted closely so as to enable them to work with machine-like precision and in the time of the insurrection from the sea.

Well-organized clique was in evidence

Pat lost no time in laying a social basis for his keynote speech and for his party's program. He declared that "The Democratic party is the friend of business, big and small." It carries not how large the scale or big the investment, what it is most of all a very successful show. The delegation met with ringing applause.

The Mistspeller speaker was rather harsh on the administration in his first few paragraphs, which were heavily dotted with the word, "corruption." Here and there the band would jump up a bit by hitting up a national or sidewalk air. Even on the platform small caucuses could be detected.

Full and Daugherty were handled roughly. Pat made a special effort to impress the galleries that they came to see a real show. He declared: "This convention, composed of the very representatives of the democracy of the nation is no cold storage affair."

It is related to be noted highly seasoned and well-prepared. Judging by the weak applause which greeted his remarks, he took the Mistspeller with a grain of salt. Best Soap for Progressives. Harrington went to boast of his victory achieved by the democrats in putting over the Simmons-Gerner tax program. He took the Mistspeller with a grain of salt. Best Soap for Progressives.

At this point he paid his respects and thanked up his Republican friends for their complete surrender to his party during the tax fight. He then proceeded to give his party a flowery oratory that Harrison made in commemoration of the fight of the insurgents from the sea.

Jack Johnston, Comrade Johnston, leader of the League, said that the League had the fight for a labor party in its referendum on the subject sent out of every local union in the country, was brought out, together with the fact that the Workers Party had taken the burden of forming a class party of labor away from the capitalist party politics and the creation of a real class party of workers and poor farmers. But such a party had been formed in Wisconsin, despite the "Tin Jans" from Wisconsin. Duncan McDonald, an industrial worker and a class party worker, said that he had been unanimously elected a candidate of the National Farmer-Labor Party, and another step in the series of steps necessary to make a real class party of labor, in labor, organized and unorganized, workers must support this party.

Partial Employment

Reports from all over the country continue to emphasize the growing industrial depression. It is doubtful if production will for long continue above the crisis level of 1921. Each week the amount of wages paid to the working class in volume daily.

The full force of the depression has not yet been felt by the workers. One of the reasons is that instead of immediate wholesale layoffs of workers, a system of part-time employment is being tentatively applied. This one of the reasons why tensely applied. This one of the reasons why tensely applied.

While the blow of unemployment has thus been softened by padding the hammer, it still has fallen just the same upon the head of the working class. And if the capitalists class has gained a point in avoiding the demonstrations of protest, and the dramatization of unemployment that has usually gone with a depression as severe as that now developing, it has lost a point and the workers have gained insofar as the blow has been spread over a greater mass of workers, the discontent resulting is not so intense as it would otherwise be, but it is far more fundamental and far-reaching. More millions of workers are learning that capitalism is an enemy that brutally starves, slowly but surely, those workers who have created all its wealth, whenever the incentive of immediate profit points in that direction.

Farmer-Labor Campaign Opens

Duncan McDonald, workers' candidate for president of the United States, will open the election campaign in Chicago on July 2, at Wicker Park, 2040 North Ave. Nominated by the union, McDonald will have a long and hard fight. He is a farmer and a worker, and his campaign is a fight for the farmer and the worker.

The struggle against capitalism began long ago, and it continues every day whether elections occur or not, and it will end only with the downfall of the capitalist system. In this struggle the ballot box is not the decisive factor. It is the struggle of the workers and the farmer against the capitalist class. It is the struggle of the workers and the farmer against the capitalist class.

Every leader of the Daily Worker should get into the harness with the same enthusiasm and the same promptness and energy, which Duncan McDonald launches the campaign which he has been selected to lead. Just as the worker must be ready to go down to business, without ceremony or hesitation, so the leader must be ready to go down to business, without ceremony or hesitation.

Amalgamated Into Battle

The Amalgamated Clothing Workers swung into battle in the New York market Tuesday, fifty thousand strong, to smash the wage-cutting campaign of the bosses in the men's clothing industry. They responded to war measures of the employer's by making war; but the workers, who are exerting the full power of their organization in the midst of an industrial situation otherwise rather unfavorable. The solidarity of the A. C. W. membership will overcome all handicaps and maintain the standards in New York, the largest market in the industry. The whole labor movement should cheer on the fighters.

It is unfortunate that workers in other sections of the clothing industry, which are facing equally hostile employers, have not equally militant organizations to fight for their interests. The ladies' garment trades face a more intense crisis, but instead of action they find their "leaders" frittering away the strength and enthusiasm of the membership in futile talk tests, in commissions, in legalistic juggling.

By throwing their massed strength into battle, solidly and with enthusiasm, the workers in the men's clothing industry in New York have taken the first step that could possibly stop the "open shop" drive. Nothing will bring the bosses to terms but power; they have no respect for the justice of the workers' claims, but they have respect for fighting determination. Fight on, comrades of the A. C. W., until victory is assured! You are fighting not alone your own battle, but also that of the whole working class!

Trade union officials have much to lose besides their "chains," and they have juicy political plums to gain. That is why they are against the Farmer-Labor party.

The workers and farmers cannot all get public jobs; the old parties buy their leaders that way, but they cannot buy the rank and file. Only by means of a party of their own can the working masses fight against capitalism.

The Socialists Standing at the Crossroad

By J. LOUIS ENDAHL.
Two alternatives now face the Socialist Party:
First:—To split either under the stand of the Farmer-Labor convention or to remain in the Socialist Party.
Second:—Withdrawing into isolationism will face gradual extermination, fading away.

Supports St. Paul in Principle.
This is the only conclusion that can be drawn from the last week-end state convention of the socialists in Wisconsin. The Wisconsin socialist convention voted in principle to support the St. Paul program—not to be privileged in the LaFollette camp if the Wisconsin senator should choose to run an "independent." It rejected LaFollette as a candidate on any but a Labor ticket.

But the Wisconsin socialists did not go the whole route. Victor L. Berger, the practical leader of American Socialism, who fought his comrades in an effort to secure recognition of LaFollette's hopes as an independent candidate, confessed that the logical result of the Wisconsin vote was to support St. Paul. But they have not yet gone for it. The Wisconsin socialists do not recognize that the labor party must be formed! But rather than accept it, these workers who have created all its wealth, whenever the incentive of immediate profit points in that direction.

Not So Courageous.
The Wisconsin socialists, in spite of Berger, had the courage to declare for the independent candidate. They didn't keep up their courage to the point of demanding admission with the only other party in the country—the organization that came out of the St. Paul party in the ranks of the socialist party in Wisconsin. There is some reason for this hesitancy. In demanding that the socialist party be allowed to merge with LaFollette and his "independent" ticket, Berger no doubt held to the principle of the Socialist Party. It was good to be close to LaFollette and his "independent" ticket. It was good to be close to LaFollette and his "independent" ticket.

The Order of the Double-Cross

Warren S. Stone, head of the Engineers' union, is supposed to be an outstanding supporter of LaFollette. It will therefore be a surprise to the innocent ones who are not familiar with the underground politics of the "Order of the Double-Cross" to learn that Stone has sent an agent to the democratic convention, fully authorized to speak for him, with instructions to work for the nomination of McAdoo to whom support is pledged.

What a conglomeration of corruption and treachery will gather at Cleveland on July 4th at the C. P. A. meeting! Every man-jack of that aggregation who has enough power to swing, or claim to swing, a little block of votes, is busy peddling them to the highest bidder. Not only that, they offer them indiscriminately to all and sundry, and sell them over and over again to opposing camps. Stone, boosting LaFollette and supporting McAdoo under cover, is but a sample of the whole rotten crew.

One and all, these bureaucrats are enemies of the Farmer-Labor party; they were united in the efforts to crush the St. Paul convention on June 17th; they are all against independent action by labor in the politics of the nation; they are opposed to a workers' and farmers' government. The reason is obvious—their business is to sell the labor movement indiscriminately to either or both parties of capitalism. They belong to the "Order of the Double-Cross."

A Political Move

The anti-trust suit, which Attorney General Stone of the Coolidge administration has filed against numerous Standard Oil subsidiaries, may impress the man on the street but it doesn't alarm the fellows directly affected. Hear what John J. Mitchell, director of the Texas Oil company, and president of the Illinois Merchants' bank, says:

"There is nothing for the market to worry about. Prices climbed today in the face of the suit. The whole thing looks to me like a political move."
Colonel R. W. Stewart, chairman of the board of directors of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, has this to say:

"We are glad to submit this issue to the courts and await the decision in this case with full conviction that just as the gasoline monopoly will be held proper and just in every respect."
Colonel Stewart does not fear the courts. He remembers the reversal of the $29,000,000 fine against the Standard Oil company years ago. He knows that judges' benches are filled with corporation lawyers to protect corporation interests.

Cal Coolidge's little feather duster anti-trust suit is just a "political move" calculated to counteract Teapot Dome revelations. But it does not fool the oil interests. Nor does it fool the workers and farmers organized under the banner of the class party formed at St. Paul.

Trot Out the Old Stuff

The Sherman Anti-Trust Law has furnished much campaign material in the past. It serves alike for conservatives, progressives, ins and outs. If an election draws near, file a suit to bust up the Standard Oil corporation; that is always popular, it draws the votes, and it doesn't hurt Standard Oil any.

Cal Coolidge and his advisers have evidently decided to fall back upon this old reliable method of campaigning. So Attorney General Stone, successor to the late Daugherty of odorous memory, has filed suit against fifty oil companies, headed by Standard Oil, charging combination to control the market. This is a wise move from every angle. Standard will doubtless make extra contributions to the Coolidge fund in return for the free advertising, while the boobery will cheer the great trustbuster.

The Poor Plan Staff. I may be a poor fish, but I want it distinctly understood that I have no connections with the Russian delegation. I am not a member of the national democratic convention in Madison Square Garden, New York. I am not that kind of a sucker.
