CANUCK POSTAL WORKERS BEATEN IN STRIKE TEST

Division of Forces is Held Responsible

(By The Federated Press) OTTAWA, Can., July 4.—The Canadian postal strikers in Toronto and Windsor, the two cities where the strike was most complete, have gone back to work defeated but there are still some 600 out in Montreal. In Montreal, where all the employees stand together, all go back to their old places. In Toronto they have to run the chance of some of the strike-breakers being given seniority over them, and the same will be true in Montreal.

The chief lesson of the postal strike has been the need of careful organization and of publicity. The workers did not have their plans laid out as a unit. This split their forces and weakened the effect of the strike fatally. They failed to let the public know in advance of the strike. Very few knew that the postal strikers were fighting for a decent standard of living or that they were being paid less than $1200 a year.

Mobilize Party For Aggressive Action

Foster and Ruthenberg Present Program of Action to Party

A SERIES of membership meetings in all the large centers of the country are to be addressed by William Z. Foster, Secretary of the Workers Party and C. E. Ruthenberg, Executive Secretary, in order to mobilize and familiarize the whole Party membership with the program of work laid out by the Central Executive Committee for the coming month.

This program of work will include the Labor Party Campaign, the Industrial Work of the Party, Shop Nuclei organization, membership and DAILY WORKER subscription campaign, unemployment campaign and educational work of the Party.

A program of work on all these questions is being drafted by the Central Executive Committee and will be published before the membership meetings. The work of Comrades Foster and Ruthenberg will be to fully explain this program to the Party membership.

The meetings which the two speakers will address will be the following: Tuesday, July 8—Chicago, Ill., Imperial Hall, 2409 N. Halsted St. Friday, July 11—Minneapolis, Minn. Thursday, July 11—Detroit, Mich., at 8 P. M., House of the Masses, 2101 Grand Ave. Friday, July 13—Buffalo, N. Y. Saturday, July 13—Boston, Mass. Tuesday, July 23—New Haven, Conn. Wednesday, July 24—New York City Thursday, July 24—Philadelphia, Penna. Friday, July 25—Pittsburgh, Penna. Saturday, July 26—Cleveland, Ohio

The program to be adopted by the Central Executive Committee will outline construction work for building up the Party and increasing its influence among the masses of workers of this country, which will give every member of the Party work to do in the interests of the Communist movement. The program will include the whole field of Party activities, outlining the tasks in each particular field. Every member of the Party in the cities mentioned above and those living in nearby towns are urged to attend these membership meetings. The Party is striving itself for a great effort. Every Party member should know what the work is that the Party has undertaken so that he can carry it out with enthusiasm.

USELESS STUDIES SHOULD GO, SAYS BOSTON EDUCATOR

N. E. A. Told to Use "Social Utility" Rule

(Special to THE DAILY WORKER) WASHINGTON, D. C., July 4.—The criterion of social utility for studies was urged by Guy M. Wilson of the Boston Board of School Education at the second session of the National Education Association's convention here.

Mr. Wilson was reporting on revision of the arithmetic curriculum and asked that "processes definitely proven to be useless" be eliminated from school courses. The principle of a "social utility criterion" was not enlarged upon and of course, did not suggest that such a standard under capitalism might be used to excuse the spread of vocational education and the teaching of crafts to youngsters who will then enter blind paths of industry.

The matter of visual education is being elaborated before the delegates principals, superintendents and other school officials in an effort to encourage the use of slides and moving pictures in educational work. The big motion picture producers have not entered the educational field because the present state of catering to the slushy sentimentality of the American public has been too profitable to make them interested in any more intelligent work. What little work has been done to provide schools with films has been done by organizations interested in putting over big business or war propaganda.

The school officials will spend a patriotic fourth of July of course with an address by the little man of the big white house in the morning, and a last to Monticello to visit the home of Thomas Jefferson later in the day. This convention of the education is particularly a flag-waving one because of its presence in Washington, where the world of films of the world films on the "Teapot Dome" of the capital.

The school officials will be succeeded by a man, according to the policy of alternating men and women presidents.

Books for Meetings

By Upton Sinclair THE campaign is coming, and you will want books to sell at meetings. We have an overstock of our two best propaganda books, "The Brass Check," "A Study of American Journalism;" and "100%," a story which exposes the spy system of Big Business. "The Brass Check" contains 448 pages, and we offer eight copies of our brown paper edition for $1.00. "100%" contains 329 pages, and we offer twelve copies of the brown paper edition for $1.00. Also we have "100%" in cloth binding on the best white paper, six copies for $1.00. You will never have another bargain like this offered to you; the price is less than half the actual cost of manufacture of the books. The retail price has been $1.20 cloth, 60 cents paper. You can make money by selling the books at 50 cents cloth and 25 cents paper.

Protest Against Fascism

Hundreds of meetings being held all over the United States in protest against the murder of Matteotti by the party of Mussolini in Italy, and giving the workers of all racial origins an opportunity to express their opinion of international capitalism's despair. The workers in every instance have shown their utter abhorrence of Fascism and all its work.

The meeting in Carnegie Hall, New York, is an outstanding case in point. Arranged by the Italian Chamber of Labor and allied organizations, it was designed to be of a very respectable demonstration against "all dictatorship" and a humble call upon the president of the U. S. to send the Fascist ambassador home.

The vast hall rang with a half-hour demonstration of the masses of workers gathered there. The respectable ones did not speak the thoughts and desires of the masses. Only the Communist message struck home and turned the meeting into a flaming protest.

Oil and Russian Recognition

It was evident to all that when the British Labor Party was allowed to form the Government, that this was because the capitalists of Great Britain had decided the time was come to recognize Russia.

Now comes the news of what Britain expected to get from Russia. Fortunately for the workers and peasants of Sovietland, they have a government of their own, that promptly turned down the British offer.

What Did the St. Paul Convention Achieve? By C. E. Ruthenberg

NO labor convention in the United States has had to withstand such a barrage of lying attacks as that of the St. Paul Convention of the Industrial Workers of the World.

Beginning three days before the Convention and continuing the day after the Convention, the newspapers of the two cities engaged in a campaign of discord, distrust and destruction in the Convention. They lied about everything they could.

Unquestionably the reason for this campaign was the fact that the St. Paul Convention was the first of the kind in the history of the labor movement.

While the capitalist press outside themselves in endeavoring to destroy the unity of the labor movement, they would fight their class battles, they would not fight their class battles.

Two Kinds of Political Prisoners
