

EDUCATION OF THE MASS CAPITALIST EXPLOITATION SCHOOL SYSTEM

(Special to The Daily Worker)
WASHINGTON, July 7.—The ferment of revolt against capitalist domination of society is beginning to work a little even in the conservative mass called the National Education Association, which represents some millions of teachers throughout the United States.

Miss Olive M. Jones, in her presidential report read here to the convention of the N. E. A., clearly attacked the business interests which are burdening the schools with special propaganda courses and at the same time holding up and cutting off appropriations and preventing the necessary progress of educational work.

Miss Jones criticized Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, and others who claim that the schools are becoming "lavias" and are being the agents for the spread of radical ideas. She said the blame on other social institutions of the country "whose opportunities for influence on the minds of young people outweigh the school two to one."

"Why is it taking teachers so long to see that the very people who shrink at the failure of education are identically the same people who are hampering and obstructing education appropriations, in planning to remove positions of the top ranks from technical instruction?"

Then she showed that in the teaching of history, people have a publication to sell persuade school boards and principals to throw out history texts and to employ "The Infamously untrue 'Literary Digest' is one of the most serious factors which has forced this upon the schools."

Miss Jones pertinently demanded: "What right have they, of you, and I, to shape the social, political, or religious life of children on the basis of a study of issues and currents, whose reporting is of doubtful accuracy and even more of partiality, when we ourselves change our point of view in regard to some of them with almost every issue of a newspaper?"

The president continued her report with an attack upon the "newly" which are prevalent in the applications of vocational education. She said that the aims of "vocational" and the needs of industry were "selfish and debasing" as final aims.

Industry has no right to demand that its children be trained for its exigencies, many have ignorant parents the right to push children into any career, no, also the profits system which gives them so little to live on forces that action. Miss Jones asserted that organized labor was justified in objecting to vocational education which is guided by industrial "need" and the hope of making an immediate living.

Miss Jones has administered her office largely in the interests of the classroom teachers of the organization than so much for the benefit from the top by principals, supervisors, superintendents, and school officials who too often have ruled the N. E. A.

Five Million Hilarated
The startling disclosure that there are nearly 5,000,000 illiterate, of whom over 4,000,000 are native-born Americans, in this country was made by the Illiteracy Commission of the N. E. A. More than 4,200,000 of these illiterate persons are entitled to places in the November elections for president, vice-president, and members of congress. Illiteracy of parents was asserted to be one of the main bars to school attendance of children.

The delegates were offered a resolution which would pledge the N. E. A. to determined efforts to have statutes ratify the child labor amendment passed by the last congress. A resolution calling for a national code of teaching ethics has also been submitted.

CAPITALIST PRESS PETS PATRIOTIC "PROGRESSIVES" AT CLEVELAND

By ERNEST EITLINGER.
(Special to The Daily Worker)
CLEVELAND, O., July 7.—It is interesting to note the different reception given this convention of the Conference for Progressive Political Action as compared with the Farmer-Labor Party Convention at St. Paul.

The Farmer-Labor convention met in an atmosphere of vilification and abuse by the entire capitalist press. Nolander and his wife was vile to hurl against the men who met in St. Paul to form a real class Farmer-Labor Party. But in Cleveland, the atmosphere was entirely different. The press of all shades and complexion was friendly to the convention, pointing out that no matter how mistaken these men and women might be, they were guided by sincere ideas and were patriotic, earnest American citizens, and not like those "reds" at St. Paul, who would undermine the foundation of American civilization.

Why the difference in the attitude of the capitalist press. Because St. Paul was a danger to the supremacy of capitalism in this country, while Cleveland was not at all. It was not a danger to the capitalist system.

According to the Chairman about eight hundred patriots were present. Also the Chairman announced that this was a convention of the producers of the United States, the farmers and workers were conspicuous by their absence. This convention was not a convention of the financial oligarchy, but of the official Compro's machine, presidents, secretaries, and officials of the various unions, who have no intimate contact with the rank and file, and do not understand or want to understand the struggles of the masses.

BRYAN'S 'RED MENACE' SPEECH MOST EXCITING TIME IN JACKSONS MEET

(Special to The Daily Worker)
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 7.—"Russia has a class government, England has a labor government, and the United States has a socialist government" was the keynote of the speech made by William Jennings Bryan at the annual convention of the National Education Association, which represents some millions of teachers throughout the United States.

The unexpected strength shown by the multimillionaire John W. Davis forced Bryan to take the rest of an hour of his sturdy steeled, Meadoo.

Bryan minced no words in telling the delegates that the nomination of Davis would kill the chance of playing "progressive" in the coming election. He said that progressive pretensions are the bedrock of democratic political strategy for the coming months.

Mr. Bryan raised the bugaboo of Soviet Russia, England and even France in the speech. He said that in its own interest it ought to stop up with Davis and let the country go to the devil.

Never a man has declared that the nomination of the greatest who could not be labeled a progressive would be disastrous to the country. He said that the insurance the life of a third party to upset the two-party system on which American political government structure is based.

POLICE SEEN AS SECOND CHOICE OF BROTHERHOOD CHIEFS SINCE MAC BROKE DOWN DONKEY

By JAY LOVETONE.
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, July 7.—I have just learned from unimpeachable authority that the last biennial convention of the Locomotive Engineers Brotherhood recently held in New York City for Miss LaFollette.

This decision has been kept a secret by the Stone forces, because it meant a complete repudiation of the policies of the Grand Chief who has been the mainstay of the LaFollette movement.

The adherents of Stone and LaFollette have done their level best to keep this matter a secret in order to keep the prestige of the labor leader in the eyes of the rank and file.

But no matter who is nominated, one fact is certain. The Democratic party has been seriously hurt.
