

AS WE SEE IT
By T. J. O'FLAHEARTY

THE Chicago police are still hunting for the gunman who shot at Johnny Torrio, evidently with intent to kill. Torrio is reported to be the General Fox of Chicago's bootlegging and vice bars, owning several city blocks almost entirely devoted to the business of prostitution. And yet his picture looks like that of a church steward or a highly respectable business man. You never can tell. Evolution has materially affected the external of our illicit business men.

THOSE who say the mores do not casually and who do not do not cannot fall to note that the screen cannot so rarely ever plays the role of villain, is well treated, least shaved and has a little fringe of gray around the head, is treated with respect. When the banker wears upon the scene, your villain wears upon his heels. He cannot stand before aggressive virtue. A hero is tall, manly and well up to the neck in the world of the underworld. He is not a natural than our John Bull. For the money, he is a banker, a banker, a banker, contribute to charity like bankers and rob like a banker.

THIS reminds us that the murderers of the O'Hanlon family are still at large. If the newspapers offered a reward to their readers for the solution of the O'Hanlon mystery, they would not be driving them crazy with cross-word puzzles because the police would stop promising to hunt the murderers within twenty-four hours. It should be noted that O'Hanlon was a friend of State Attorney Crowe. This does not suggest that because of that Crowe would take out a shotgun and deposit a contingent of troops in Torrio's arsenal on suspicion that Torrio directed the shooting of O'Hanlon. Crowe is a law-abiding citizen.

O'HANLON insisted votes for Crowe on election day. He was murdered a few days afterwards. The assassins were never apprehended. It is not likely they ever will be. As the DAILY WORKER so often declares, it is not for long that the illegal sale of booze and in organized prostitution and because of that, protector class are thrown into prison on the most trivial pretext. They are practically immune from punishment if they manage to get behind the bars, it is not for long that an alliance between the underworld that does business illegally and the capitalist who need the gunmen to shoot and beat up strikers.

THE man, Torrio, is treated like a potentate, as he is in a hospital. He has a suite of rooms, with several attendants and a body of henchmen as he needs to protect him. His life is precious. He is scheduled to serve nine months in jail for violating the prohibition law. He is given two days to set his business affairs in order. His business is prostitution and booze, according to the papers. While this jail is granted extraordinary privileges under capitalism, the nation's jail are filled with radicals and union organizers; men of good character whose only crime is to have attempted to improve the conditions of the workers or in having advocated a change of society. This is the unforgivable sin under capitalism.

THE MORNING POST, the most stupid paper published in England or perhaps in any country, recently carried a story to the effect that Bernard Shaw's famous play "Saint Joan" was banned in Russia because of the Slavish sentiments on the Communist International. As a matter of fact (Continued on page 2)

Actors Fear the Stage
NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—The actors of New York, thru their union, the Actors Equity association, have today made the drive to organize the entire theatrical industry to resist the effort and to cooperate with the workers. There was a time when actors did not consider themselves of the working class but now they are clearly a healthy step forward for them. Their drive creates a new solidarity. They demand the repeal of the tax on tickets, the regulation of children's acting and the creation of a professional department for the spoken play.

FRENCH TOLD TO SHUT UP AND PAY UP

Uncle Sam, Imperialist, Cracks the Whip

(Special to The Daily Worker)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—A definite move by the French government toward serious negotiations for the funding of four billion dollar war debt is confidently expected in Washington within the next six weeks. Whether it will be made thru France or thru ambassador, Knute Danneberg, sent here for that purpose, is not clear, but administration officials appeared confident the move will be made. A member of the American debt funding commission said: "France is laying down a barrage of propaganda aimed at intimidating the discharge of her debt. It is the French system."

The "barage" referred to was the almost daily statements that have been coming out of Paris from chairman of the Commission of Finance, deputy minister in the chamber of deputies and bankers and other prominent officials—all aimed at intimidating the attention of the world and of America in particular in France's war debt. Her weekly financial sacrifices, her weekly financial structure, and her claims on "American generosity."

Financial Staff Ahead
"All this," it was said by the debt commissioner, "is merely to prepare the ground for the next move, the next financial move will come later. The financial staff is not presented its credentials, but is expected to during the week. Some move by France will be necessary in the next six weeks to further criticism and action by the United States senate is to be expected. The senate will adjourn on March 4 and if by that time nothing has been done, there is a strong likelihood that sharply than Senator Borah. American senators are getting anxious to bossing European nations."

The favorite plan continues to be introduced. The senator stated that it is "the sense of the senate" that France should begin immediate financial negotiations. In the present temper of the senate such a resolution probably would pass, and its effect on the private credit throughout the world would be incalculable. France credit already has been to some extent swamped in the private money markets by the discussion in the French chamber and in congress here. This has taken the form of holding up and delaying industrial loans and advances.

ISLAND SWALLOWED UP BY PICKING UP NEWS SHIPS AT LONDON, Jan. 27.—The Portuguese government had received confirmation of the engulfing of the island of Port Alexander by the sea, according to a news dispatch received by the Evening News today. Fearing ships brought first news that the island had been swallowed, receiving their accounts from sailors who gibbered with fright as they related their escape from the waves.

Fight This New Attack in Michigan; Build Party!

Young Was About to Murder Miner

(Special to The Daily Worker)
HERRIN, Ill., Jan. 27.—Orlando Thomas, deputy sheriff killed by a mob of Klansmen, met his death when he tried to save the life of Elias Green, a miner whom Glenn Young was about to murder in the Blount cigar store, witnesses in the coroner's inquest testified today.

Thomas was talking over the telephone with his wife from the Blount mine when he was shot by a mob of Klansmen. Thomas pushed his way through the crowd of Klansmen and found Young with a revolver pointed in Green's stomach, threatening to shoot. Thomas said: "Well, Young, his man to man at last."

But Young was afraid to fight. He fled at the inquest. He whined that he was not a Klansman. Young and Thomas, so that Young was indicted by Green's body. Young then tried at the coroner's inquest to stab the truth to the throat to safety, with a bullet-riddled lip.

Another Klansman, Thomas, a member of the Klan in Young's town, told the jury that he saw Young and Thomas in the Blount mine, charged with trying to kill John McElroy, editor of the Carbondale Free Press, who was printing criticism of Young in his paper.

THE BRONX, N. Y., REJECTS SPEECH BY ABRAMOVICH
(Special to The Daily Worker)
NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 27.—The meeting arranged for the agent of the Second (Socialist) Party, Abramovich, in Hunt Point Park, the Bronx, again proved to be a huge demonstration for Soviet Russia.

Drunken gangsters brought in by the "socialists" beat up women and children. The hired gangsters were socialist party badges. Abramovich could not be heard above the shouts for Soviet Russia, which filled the hall, and the fighting between the audience and the hired gunmen brought in by the socialists. Abe Caban, editor of the Forward, tried to speak, but was greeted with shouts of "traitor."

The New Attack
The affirmation of the conviction in my case by the supreme court of the state of Michigan has given new impetus to the anti-Communist drive. The prosecution believes that with this affirmation the trial and conviction will mean immediate imprisonment of the defendants brought to trial at the Michigan state court. The state's attorney, however, must be appealed to before the constitutional question can be raised in the state supreme court. This danger to the comrades who are threatened with immediate trial will cause every one of the candidates a new effort to halt the second attack against our movement as we were successful in halting the first attack.

Jack Johnston, assistant secretary of the United Mine Workers of America, in an interview with THE DAILY WORKER with reference to the election of the regular trade union journals. He called upon the machinists to stand for solidarity with other workers by unflinching and fighting the employers who are our enemies.

GLENWOOD SHOP MACHINISTS WHO WORK UNDER B. & O. PLAN REPUDIATE IT AND JOHNSTON

CRITICISM OF CAL'S SOVIET POLICY GROWS

(Special to The Daily Worker)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Jan. 27.—For the first time since the operation of the "B. & O. Plan" those working under it had a chance for expression and an opportunity to repudiate those that had arbitrarily put it into effect. At the Glenwood shops Johnston and his "B. & O. Plan" were snuffed under by an avalanche of votes.

In the month of January the machinists lodges are nominating candidates for international meeting of Lodge 491. In Glenwood refused to nominate Johnston and his slate.

It must be remembered that this local at one time was considered conservative and it was at this point that the "B. & O. Plan" was first put into operation. The news of its operation shocked all over the world as a success of "co-operation" between employer and employee.

After the nomination, again Johnston, to save the situation and asked for a resolution was offered by any of the members. This was the "B. & O. Plan" was directly repudiated. No vote was given to the "B. & O. Plan" and the "B. & O. Plan" was repudiated.

Letting Wing Fights for T. U. E. L.
J. S. Ois, one of the left wing candidates, answered all of these fakery. He explained the program of the left wing, also giving the reason why it was necessary to publish a bulletin outside of the regular trade union journals. He called upon the machinists to stand for solidarity with other workers by unflinching and fighting the employers who are our enemies.

Even "Nice Old Man" Failed.
The members of this local are determined to win the "B. & O. Plan" as was shown by their action in refusing even to nominate Colgan, a Johnston henchman, while he was sitting with them in the lodge-room, and Colgan has been known as "the nice old man" with the railroad machine.

CONON then made his last plea for the resolution in favor of the Johnston plan, and falling in the attempt, he walked out of the meeting. Those who work under the "B. & O. Plan" unanimously repudiate it.

TEXILE BARONS OF THREE STATES MAKE WAR ON WAGES
(Special to The Daily Worker)
LAWRENCE, Mass., Jan. 27.—The Pacific Mills, a $20,000,000 corporation, has joined the wage cutting gang by a ten per cent cut for the 1,200 workers in the cotton department. The 2,000 workers in the corduroy department and the 4,000 workers in the mill will not be immediately affected. The American Federation of Textile Workers have some members in the plant and lack control.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Jan. 27.—A ten per cent wage cut goes into effect at the Enoch Pratt Co., blanket manufacturers, with 1,000 employees, the management announces.

GENERAL T. U. E. L. MEETING, TONIGHT, 8 P. M. NORTHWEST AVE., NORTH ANGLE WESTERN AVES. SPEAKER: J. W. JOHNSTON

UNITED MINERS LEVY SPECIAL ASSESSMENT

Officials Say Treasury Needs Money

(Special to the Daily Worker)
 INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 27.—The executive board of the United Mine Workers of America, at its last meeting here, decided to assess every member of the organization $1.00 additional dues for the months of February and March.

The money is needed according to a circular letter sent out to the membership, from the international office, to meet the expenses of the organization. The letter is signed by John L. Lewis, president; Philip Murray, vice-president; and Thomas Kennedy, secretary-treasurer.

Members Surprised.
 SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 25.—Members of the United Mine Workers here are surprised to learn from the circular letter from international headquarters, that the international treasury needs replenishing to view of the hoard made by William Green at the last convention of District 12, on the strength of the treasury of the district that the treasury was very strong. What happened to the funds since then? Were they used for the purchase of fake ballots and employing thugs to insure that Lewis and company were properly counted in?

Money to Fight, Yes.
 Militant miners are willing to pay the dollar assessment and to assure the international officers that the entire membership of the union will also pay it willingly if they know that the money will be used to fight the operators and not to strengthen the Lewis machine by placing another batch of satellites on the payroll. If the money is to be used to fight the operators who have violated the Indianapolis agreement, and to put an organizing drive in the open shop territories there is no doubt that the members will be more than anxious to pay the assessment.

Walter Nesbit, secretary-treasurer of District 12, has notified the local that the old age pension plan, submitted to the membership in the recent elections, was not put on an organizing basis. He has notified the local that the necessary two-thirds vote in order to make it legally adopted according to the provisions of the international constitution. Some resolutions of the Parliament machine, in the question of the legality of levying the assessment and the international executive board decided that it could not be legally put into effect.

Make the Dues Pay.
 The Parliament machine decided to renege the matter to the miners who know quite well that they cannot get the necessary two-thirds vote as the members are more interested in a fighting program that will bring them better wages than a scheme for which they must pay out of their own pockets. The militants believe that the old bosses who have grown wealthy at the expense of the sweat of the miners should be made to pay for old age pensions and not the workers themselves.

Farrington wants to get out of the old age pension plan so he got one of his henchmen to appeal to Lewis. It is a pastmaster of such tricks.

"The Bronx" Rejects Abramovich

 called Judge August Classens, socialist, down and James O'Neal, socialist, to the floor.

Abramovich spoke for only a few minutes and had to stop abruptly. He told the members of the Workers Party, asked for the floor and the audience refused to listen to him. He was beaten and thrown out with the few socialist henchmen.

The traitors to the working class with their renegade, Abramovich had not only come here with the purpose of spreading falsehood about Soviet Russia and the Communist movement, but they also tried to speak. The hall was stormed with shouts for Soviet Russia and the audience refused to listen to Abramovich's lies.

Also hundreds of people were attacked and many severely wounded by the detectives and police, the workers fought for their lives and shouted "Down with the traitors!" Many corners of the hall there were pools of blood when gangsters had beaten up members of the audience, including women and children.

The Forward clique had prepared themselves for real bloodshed. They had many bottles and drunken handling wearing badges of socialist committees. They were ready to start a riot. The underworld gangsters were drinking and shouting that they would start a riot. They were ready to start a riot. They were ready to start a riot.

It could also be noticed that the gangsters were ready to start a riot as the orchestra started to play.

Traders Welcomed with Hisses.
 When the chairman, J. Boskin, general secretary of the Workmen's Circle, started speaking, at the same time, Abe Cahan, editor of the Forward, Abramovich and a few more yellow socialists came up on the platform.

BLDG. TRADES COUNCIL CALLS SCHOOL STRIKE

Open Shop Architect to Blame

The Carl Schulz high and the Grant elementary school construction jobs are up to a strike order of the Building Trades Council over the open shop supervisory architect of the building of education, Edgar W. Martin. All crafts are called out.

Expectations are that the strike will spread to the other school schools now under construction. Mr. Martin, who is cordially hated by all real union men, is by his favoring of the building contractors of the "Lansis award," going to be the one responsible for the continued over-expansion of the schools by blocking the new construction work.

The building struck are supposed to be ready by September and to furnish a part of the seating room for the then expected excess of 120,000 children, of whom 100,000 are now taken care of.

It is known that someone of the knights of Kluge was forced an entrance to the morgue and stripped the skin from the fingers of the dead priest in an attempt to prevent identification. CARPENTERS FOR SQUARE DEAL TO THEIR MEMBERS

Local 181 in Demand for Reinstatement

The members of Local No. 181 of the Carpenters' Union are determined that their brothers who were railroaded without trial by the local officials on the instructions of Harry Jenson and "Craz" Hutcheson are going to have a square deal.

This was demonstrated at a meeting of the local last Tuesday night when a resolution signed by a majority of the members present protested against the expulsion of members without trial and in violation of the constitution.

The resolution demands that the expelled members be reinstated with full membership and given a working card, and that President Hutcheson be removed from office and the officers of the local to be tried to the constitution.

The "expelled" members came to the local meeting last Monday and took their seats as usual. When the president, Harry Jenson, made an announcement that everything was in order to open the meeting, the expelled members stood up and declared that the session could not open until they were reinstated.

One of the defendants asked if the decision of the international president on the matter was final. He was told that the international president had decided that the expelled members should have a trial. The chairman, obeying Jenson's orders, meekly declared the meeting adjourned, but as he had not declared the meeting adjourned, the expelled members proceeded with a trial of the five members, who were never tried legally and never convicted. There was no reason why the five members should leave the meeting, he declared. They were expelled without trial and were perfectly willing to leave if the members so decided.

Another expelled member stated that the only thing in order was to proceed with a trial of the five members, who were never tried legally and never convicted. There was no reason why the five members should leave the meeting, he declared. They were expelled without trial and were perfectly willing to leave if the members so decided.

About this time Harry Jenson came running up to the front and shouted "The meeting is adjourned." He then ordered the chairman to either open the meeting or close it. The chairman, obeying Jenson's orders, meekly declared the meeting adjourned, but as he had not declared the meeting adjourned, the expelled members proceeded with a trial of the five members, who were never tried legally and never convicted. There was no reason why the five members should leave the meeting, he declared. They were expelled without trial and were perfectly willing to leave if the members so decided.

European News Shows Socialists Active Wing of Capitalist Reaction

By J. LOUIS ENGDALH

TODAY, as always, murderers do not like to be confronted with their bloody deeds. That is one reason why the "socialists" howl so furiously when faced with the criminal deeds of Rafael Abramovich, whom they have brought into their midst. Abramovich, coming to the United States as the ally of American "socialists" clearly reveals the alliance of Hilquit and Cahan with the would-be hangers-on of the successful bolshevik revolution of the Russian workers and peasants. Abramovich becomes the connecting link, if one is necessary, between the American "socialist" counter-revolution of words, and the European counter-revolution of deeds against the first workers' republic.

Abramovich is in the United States as the spokesman of the Second (socialist) International; the international of war ministers and capitalist jingoes poisoning the working class by their presence in its ranks.

The blood on the hands of these "socialists" was not only drawn from the veins of the working class to redder the battlefields of the world war; but it is also the blood of the Russian workers and peasants slain after the war in defense of their revolution against world imperialism. It is the blood of the hundreds of thousands of martyrs in almost every land, of the world social revolution, victims of the international reaction.

Two items in the day's news unmask the "socialist" breed that has sent Abramovich to these shores, and that has received him and is sponsoring his meetings in the United States.

Readers of the DAILY WORKER are already familiar with the barbarous terror that was recently invoked against the Communists of Estonia, one of the Baltic states bordering Soviet Russia. "Socialists" are members of the Estonian and other fascist organizations, many of whom were elected by the workers and peasants; that ordered a state of siege in order the better to carry out its bloody tyranny and that later sent to the gallows some of the most prominent and able of the workers and peasants; that protested of the Communist International and the Russian Soviet government.

This Second (socialist) International of Vanderveide, Noske, Ebert, MacDonald, Thomas and Scheidemann thru the gesture of asking the Estonian "socialists" to accept their murderous alliance with Estonian capitalism, the agent of British-French imperialism. Here is the outspoken reply of the Estonian "socialists":

WE DECLARE ALL THE ACTS OF THE GOVERNMENT TO BE UNJUSTIFIED, AND ALL MEASURES OF THE GOVERNMENT TO BE NECESSARY AND DICTATED FROM REASONS OF THE SAFETY OF THE REALM. FOR THE SAME REASONS WE VOTED FOR THE HANDING OVER OF POWER TO THE MILITARY AND ENTERED THE GOVERNMENT FOR THE PURPOSE OF HELPING IT IN ITS STRUGGLE AGAINST COMMUNISM.

Thus the Estonian "socialists," spawn of the Second (socialist) International, confess the eager ally of the military fascist dictatorship that rules in Estonia, only because of the support it receives from West European capitalism.

Similarly in Hungary under the fist of the Horthy terror. Even those socialists driven from their homes by the Horthy dictatorship, that has imprisoned and murdered thousands of workers, are now raising their voices against the latest treason of the Hungarian "socialists." These exiles in Vienna, Austria, complained to their Second (socialist) International of the treason of the Hungarian "socialists" to the Horthy regime, who are freely working with Horthy's premier, Bethlen, and co-operating with the Horthy government.

It can be depended on that the Second (socialist) International, the United States; that condemns the "socialists" with the fascist in Estonia for the war on Communism, will also find a way of excusing the part between the Hungarian "socialists" and Horthy, the hanger-man of the Hungarian working class.

RUTENBERG IS WELCOMED BACK FROM MICH. PEN.

Served Three Weeks; Out on Bail

C. E. Rutenberg, national executive secretary of the Workers (Communist) Party, was back in Detroit after serving three weeks of a three to twelve year sentence in Jackson, Michigan penitentiary.

Rutenberg was released from Jackson prison at twelve o'clock Monday, after the writ of habeas corpus issued by Justice Louis Brandeis of the United States Supreme Court. He was taken to the home of his wife in Jackson, Michigan penitentiary.

Rutenberg worked for nine days as a clerk in the aluminum shop for his nine days work. Comrade Rutenberg was given $2.49 as pay, which he had to pay for the Labor Defense Council for the defense of the other Communists arrested in the raid on $2,000 bail pending an appeal to the United States supreme court.

 As a clerk in the aluminum shop I earned the sum of $2.49 for my nine days work." Comrade Rutenberg told his wife that he had to pay for the state of Michigan has caused the Communist considerable expense it is but $2,000 bail pending an appeal to the defense of the Communists. Therefore I am turning this sum over to the Labor Defense Council to go toward the expense of defending the other Communists arrested under the Michigan law.

During the first week of imprisonment Comrade Rutenberg was in his cell for 24 hours a day undergoing what is known as "quarantine." He was given $2.49 as pay for the DAILY WORKER. "During this period I was registered, given a number, fingerprinted, and photographed, and associated for typhus," Comrade Rutenberg said.

Comrades working under the Michigan state prison industries make sometimes as low as fifteen cents per hour. Comrade Rutenberg declares the piece workers, by working at breakfast speed, sometimes make as high as two dollars per day.

THE CLASS IN ECONOMICS TO BEGIN TONIGHT

The class in elementary economics, which has been one of the most important classes started in Chicago, is temporarily postponed several weeks ago until such time as the work could be resumed. The class will take place this Wednesday evening, at the Hirsch Lecture Room, 2613 Hirsch Blvd.

Due to the pressure of work, Comrade Browder, who conducted the class very successfully thus far will be unable to continue it, but Comrade Lerner, who has had many years experience in this work in various cities, will take his place until the course is completed. Nothing will be allowed to interrupt the class from now on.

The class, under the new direction, will be conducted in the spirit in which it was started. The work will be continued in the spirit in which it was started. The work will be continued in the spirit in which it was started.

Questions and answers in connection with future sessions of the class will be published as in the past, there being a great demand for this class. Do not, only on the part of those who have been attending the class, but also on the part of those who have been reading the DAILY WORKER and have become interested in the future and progress of the class.

Forbes Prosecution Fears for Integrity of Capitalist Rule
 The trial of Charles R. Forbes for conspiracy and corruption while head of the United States veterans' bureau revealed a swam of dirty intrigues and seldom depicted before a jury." Ralph F. Potter, one of the government lawyers told the press yesterday.

"It is an ugly picture of what went on in Washington in 1922," he said. "Thomas Forbes Mortimer! Corruption, bribery, Lansley bores! I tell you this case strikes at the foundations of the integrity of the nation."

The damage was inconsequential.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER WINS IN SOVIET GEORGIA

Lenin's Program Being Gradually Worked Out

By GERTRUDE HAESELER. (Special to Press Staff Columnist.) TIFLIS, Georgia (By Mail).—In less than a year the city of Tiflis, the capital of Georgia, which one always remembers in connection with lazy eastern bazaars and slow-plooding donkeys and camels, will have an up-to-date government power station.

Not only will Tiflis as well as the villages for miles around be lighted by this plant, but its industries will be completely electrified.

The conditions under which the men are working on the plant 12 miles from the city are as near model as temporary construction camps can be. The men work 8 hours a day in three shifts, about 1,000 workers are employed. Hospital gives free medical and surgical care. The general laundry arrangements are adequate and convenient. In fact, bathing and general hygiene are a striking feature of the camp.

Wages compare favorably with any part of Russia. Contractors are paid the union furnish food cheaply. At their union clubs the men organize entertainments of various kinds. They attend classes and have opportunities for lectures on economic and political conditions.

The new machinery for the power house is set up and everything is awaiting completion of the line dam which will convert 26,000 horsepower from the river. The possibilities for technical progress in modernization which will be opened by the completion of the power plant are almost inconceivable. Where narrow wagon trails serve as the only roads, there will be highways for automobiles and truck transport. The conservation of timber alone, which is being used exclusively now for fuel for factories, light and tramway power, and haulage to the city from the mountains on ox carts, will be enormous. The industries will expand, transformation facilities perfected, the railway electrified, and the rich supplies of raw materials made more accessible.

The wealthy areas are easily accessible only around their fringes from the Black Sea on the west and the railway on the north and south. The actual riches must be carried down to the civilized centers by water, but this is being done by the larger and richer mines nearby on horseback.

BALTIMORE NOTES

BALTIMORE, Jan. 27.—The Liebknecht meeting arranged by the Young Workers' League as a part of nationwide campaign to commemorate the deaths of Rosa Luxemburg and Karl Liebknecht was a great success. Comrade R. Baker, city secretary of local Philadelphia branch, was the speaker for the evening. Several comrades of the Young Workers' League lectured and spoke. Collections were made for the Ruthenberg Defense and the DAILY WORKER. A resolution supporting the Ruthenberg Defense was passed. This resolution is a symbol of the solidarity of the workers of Baltimore. It is evidence that the workers of Baltimore are awakening to the fact that the well known leaders of the labor movement must be defended from capitalist "plottings." It is evidence that the workers of Baltimore are aware of the importance of the Labor Defense Council. It is also evidence that the local comrades are on the job in attempting to organize the Labor Defense Council.

Karl Liebknecht said that he was the South has the army. This is very true. The Young Workers' League of Baltimore, realizing this fact, has started the organization of the Junior Young Workers' League. The prospects of having a good line in the near future are bright. We want these young comrades to become our active "army."

The English branch of the Workers' Party has been reorganized on a good working basis. A new secretary has been elected and the branch has started to function. The members of the English branch are to take place every Saturday at 7:30 P. M. at the Progressive Labor Lyceum, Avenue 1 and Lexington streets.

NEW YORK WORKERS MUST RALLY TO LABOR DEFENSE BAZAAR TO MAKE IT A ROUSING FINANCIAL SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—In spite of all endeavors of the Labor Defense Council to procure the release of Emanuel Vitkus, editor of the Obrata, the Czech-Slovakian remained in jail. Well-Known Revisionist.

Emanuel Vitkus is a well-known revisionist. He was very active in the revolutionary movement of Czech-Slovakia and came to this country in December, 1922. As a matter of course he immediately joined the revisionist movement in this country, soon becoming the editor of the Obrata.

Vitkus is an excellent speaker, and spoke at many meetings. He was one of the speakers of the revisionist movement in Chicago. He defended the Soviet regime, and explained to the workers present the nature of the struggle that led to the overthrow of the czaristic regime and the Kerevsky government. He showed the analogy between the struggle in Russia and that in other countries. That was his "crime." On the basis of the evidence given by a spy, he was arrested and held in Ellis Island for deportation.

The Labor Defense Council is conducting his case in New York. It charges the case of John Lassen, editor of the Elora, the Hungarian labor paper. Lassen was arrested in November, 1924, for publishing a poem which was written by Lassen, too, a well-known revisionist. Lassen was arrested to free from Hungary because of his activity. The Horty government, which is a part of the revisionist and the American — government would like to lay hands on Lassen. The American government, it would appear, intends to do the Horty fascist government that favor.

Horty's government is one of the fascist governments in existence. During his regime, Horty arrested all the labor organizations in the country. Workers' clubs, newspapers and other labor organizations were closed. A campaign of terror was carried on against the labor movement, for Horty is a public scandal over the identification appointments the senate this afternoon rejected the nomination of Harlan P. Stone, an associate justice of the supreme court, to the judiciary committee for further investigation.

Put Over Motion in Secrecy. This action was taken in secret session of the senate, an attempt was made over charges that Stone is presently serving a term in the penitentiary of Montana, by attempting to indict him in the District of Columbia, while another indictment awaits him in the Montana federal court.

Warren Falls on Stone Promotion. The nomination of Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, as attorney general was "aborted" today by the senate judiciary committee to await the outcome of a fight against confirmation of the promotion of Attorney General Harlan P. Stone to the supreme court of the United States.

The committee "indefinitely postponed" consideration of Warren's nomination after subcommittee report by Senator Borah, republican of Idaho, reported it could not approve the act. The Borah committee investigated Warren's record for a week and its report was filed "without recommendations."

U. S. Falls in Line. One of the glowing examples of "free assemblies" in the United States is embodied in the case of the U. S. assembly in the United States. It is embodied in the case of the U. S. assembly in the United States. It is embodied in the case of the U. S. assembly in the United States.

Ruthenberg by the Michigan state supreme court. After the discussion a resolution for adoption was introduced by the following members of the local: Hans Johnson, A. A. Sandtke and Harry Grant. The resolution was adopted with only one vote registered in dissent.

To Study Metal Industry and Buy Machinery

NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 27.—Representatives of the Soviet Union for mining and metal industries recently arrived in this country will spend here three months studying methods of production with a view toward placing orders for equipment. They have established their headquarters in the offices of the Amtorg Trading Corporation at 116 Liberty street, third floor.

Will Inspect Works Here. The primary purpose of the arranged representative visit of Soviet engineers is to inspect some of the factories in the platinum and uranium districts and other mining equipment constructed which might be imported into the Soviet Union. In addition considerable orders are completed for the needs of the members of the Soviet Union. The representative of the state or industry, three months studying methods of production with a view toward placing orders for equipment. They have established their headquarters in the offices of the Amtorg Trading Corporation at 116 Liberty street, third floor.

Most active were the youngest "volunteers," members of the Junior Young Workers League. These boys and girls waited their turn to don the striped prisoners' jackets with which our collectors were furnished, and there were few present who were overlooked by these youngsters' tireless activity. When they came to some legal comrade who had already given and bought beyond his powers they invited participation in the collection.

At the Bazaar run by the Lithian branch for the benefit of the DAILY WORKER, a special defense collection was taken amounting to $10.00. Striped suits of the "Volunteers" centered attention on the new recruits made by our capitalist enemies on the Communists, as the vanguard of the militant workers. Some oldsters told stories, later, of the "red volunteers" in Latvia and Russia, who volunteered even to take the place of active revolutionary leaders who were sent to prison.

Work is Lots of Fun. Our "Red Star Volunteers" are not called upon for such heroic service—yet. Their work is easy, and enjoyable. It consists of attending social and other affairs arranged by working class organizations, and there collecting funds and raising sentiment on behalf of our party's and other class work. The army behind the labor party member or sympathizer, who offer even one night a week, or even a few hours during the day, for service in this fight to beat back the capitalist jokers, should communicate with the local Labor Defense, 15 S. La Salle street, Chicago. Many more volunteers are needed, literally hundreds of them. Last Saturday at least a fifty dollar collection was lost by lack of sufficient force to cover, simultaneously, all running affairs. The army behind the Labor Defense—needs YOU! help.

Correction to the Correction. In the January 23 issue there appeared the following under the caption of Correction: "The vote of the New York membership meeting for N. E. C. majority 70, as follows: N. E. C. majority 72, statement of the district executive committee 83, the statement of Comrade Kaplan was not printed and the vote of 83 was in support of statement drawn up by group of the New York district executive committee." Third paragraph under the leadership of Comrade Glass II. The latter votes were in favor of the N. E. C. statement dealing with organization."

I want to make the following corrections to the correction. The vote was N. E. C. majority 72, and the statement of the D. E. C. was 84.

The statement of the D. E. C. was an endorsement of the theses submitted by Comrades Ruthenberg, Bed and co-workers for the minority of the C. C. and by Comrade Kaplan for the minority of the N. E. C.

The statement of the New York district executive committee was not drawn up by a group of the D. E. C. but was accepted by all but two votes of D. E. C. at one of its regular meetings—Herbert Zam, secretary at the membership meeting.

THE JUNIOR "RED" STARS OUTSHINE ALL VOLUNTEERS

Stick on the Job Four Days at Bazaar

The first activity of the new work unit of our Labor Defense forces, "The Red Star Volunteers," proved that these active spirits are an inspiring and essential help to our cause. Recruited largely at the Lenin Memorial meeting, they got on the job the very next day at the Bazaar of the Young Workers Relief Committee, and for four days kept the Ruthenberg appeal before the thousands of workers who attended, as well as collected substantial sums to help finance the Michigan cause.

GARY WORKERS HOLD MEMORIAL LENIN MEETING

Interesting Speaker Gets Two Encores

GARY, Ind., Jan. 27.—The Lenin Memorial held at the hall which didn't have many people in attendance a half hundred or so, but it was a real meeting. Comrade Thurner Lewis, a Chicago was the speaker. He gave a short biographical sketch of Lenin, a review of Lenin's contributions to the revolution and a resume of the work of Lenin's contributions to the working-class thought. When he finished the crowd didn't show any inclination to go away. Liked His Stuff.

The embarrassing condition of infestation that pervaded the hall while the crowd sat there and the meeting was presumably over was broken by a comrade who arose and suggested that Lewis make another speech dwelling more at length with the movement in this country. Comrade Lewis rose and made speech number two. At the conclusion of the second speech much the same direction to leave gripped the audience.

Another comrade arose and asked that the Trotsky controversy be discussed. This was given a few moments explanation by the speaker. Comrade Lewis began speech number three. He gave a few moments explanation of the policies of the Russian Communist Party of which Trotsky is the leader. Comrade Lewis' conclusion of the third address the crowd finally consented to leave.

"The Beauty and the Bolshevik" is coming to Anshand Auditorium Feb. 5.

FAKERS GET AN INJUNCTION TO STOP REYNOLDS

Forbid Union Member Attending Meetings

(Special to the Daily Worker) DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 27.—Local Union 2140 gave a ringing answer to Hutcheson and his payroll gang as to their attitude toward the expulsion of William Reynolds, president of their local. After General Organizer Bottorff had spent over a half hour trying to allay the action, the local voted that he keep his seat for the evening.

After an hour's discussion including a statement from a member in Los Angeles regarding the railroad there and re-organization of the expulsion proceedings by Reynolds, the local voted unanimously to sustain Reynolds in his membership and all rights and privileges until such time as he stood convicted by his local.

Union Officials Get Injunction. At 7 o'clock next afternoon, Sharrick, renegee head of the District Council located Reynolds on the phone at the home of the latter. After five minutes later "Jelly" Fish, secretary of the District Council, arrived at the house and pointed out to a deputy who served an injunction restraining Reynolds from attending any meetings of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners in the Wayne county district.

The injunction was issued by Judge Hunt of the circuit court and made returnable February 20th. After locating Reynolds for the deputy, stool pigeon Fish turned and ran down the stairs, but not before he had been spoken to by two members of Carpenters Local Union 420.

Bankrupt Authority. The report to injunctive proceedings by the agents of the G. E. B. in Detroit is the best evidence of the bankruptcy of Bottorff's case against Reynolds. During the past week, the

TRY TO FORCE TRINITY CHURCH IN N. Y. TO DISGORGE TO MILLION

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—A suit to force Trinity church to give up the $700,000 worth of property it owns and leases in downtown New York, was instituted in federal court today by Wesley J. Edwards, of Los Angeles, and Arthur J. Edwards, of Guilford county, North Carolina.

Wesley Edwards of Robert Edwards, who died in 1887, and claim to be the rightful heirs to his estate. He died without making a will. The descendants claim the Trinity church acquired the property thru an assignment of an unexpired lease which stopped being binding on the estate of Robert Edwards on May 1, 1886.

sentiment against the expulsion has crystallized to such an extent that the entire carpenter's movement is seething with revolt. Last Monday evening, Local 19, the oldest, largest, and most influential local in the district, was bitter in its opposition to the expulsion of Bottorff. Only the arbitrary ruling of a reactionary president prevented the local from repudiating the expulsion.

Every Local Opposes Expulsion. On the same evening, Local 1191 repudiated a resolution unanimously repudiating the expulsion. On Tuesday evening, President Sharrick of Local 1905, also president of the District Council, refused to open the meeting while Reynolds was present. The discussion was so prolonged that it occupied the meeting until 10:30. Wednesday evening, Local 1102 unopposedly adopted a motion demanding a fair trial for Reynolds in accordance with the constitution. Thursday evening, the fight at the District Council expressed itself in a fight against Bottorff, which culminated in a motion to oust him from the district being adopted by a more than three to one vote.

If Hutcheson needs any further proof that he has rendered a "paralyzing" blow to the carpenters in this district are determined to spread the revolt thru out the length and breadth of the Brotherhood.

CALLES PROVES HIS WORTH TO WALL STREET

Gives Away Railroad and Snubs Britain

(Special to the Daily Worker) MEXICO CITY, Jan. 27.—Plutarco Calles, labor party president of Mexico, besides his impressive measures against the workers and peasants is showing complete subservience to American capitalist imperialism in foreign affairs. This is evident in his laudatory remarks against Great Britain, given in a interview yesterday.

Relations between Mexico and England have been severed since the Oregon-Calles group, acting for and in the interests of Wall Street Imperialists, crushed the British oil and tin factoring corporation of De la Huerta. Britain took the change of using the murder of a British subject, Thomas Evans, as an excuse to withdraw its consul, A. Curran Cummins and cease all diplomatic relations.

Britain Must Act First. "The resumption of relations with Great Britain," said President Calles, "will have to be the product of a spontaneous act on the part of that government. It is not our government in any manner except conditional friendship born of the previous conflict."

To Return Railroads to Capitalists. In still another subject Calles snubbed the treasury of Mexico and sources to the bankers of New York. That is, the building back, under the terms of the Evans case, the government owned railroad to private capitalist ownership.

President Calles said that an inventory was being taken of the national railway system and that the expenses were being studied and the condition of the railway tracks was being investigated. He said that he would be in their condition when the government took over the railroads in 1914.

There are reports, too, that all this will probably lead to the return of the lines to private management at least in the distant future and that convenient for the government. The return of the railways to private management was one of the clauses in the Lamont-Lee Huerta agreement.

U. S. SUPREME COURT BACKS RIGHT TO TAKE PROPERTY OF AN ENEMY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The United States supreme court today sustained the right of belligerence in time of war its capture and disposal of enemy property as evidenced in duly endorsed stock certificates.

English and German authorities and the United States Steel corporation joined in a suit appealed to the United States supreme court for the decision. More than $100,000,000 in capital stock of the United States Steel and other American industries, seized in England during war time, was said to be involved in the decision.

RUMORS REVEAL TAIT SHIELDED BOOTLEG TRADE

Gaston Means' Trial Springs Some Leaks

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Among the bootleg crowd it is rumored that Johnny Wickham can reach Chief Justice Tait because of connections that he is supposed to have. "It was something in a letter offered in evidence here in the trial of Gaston B. Means, former government agent, and Col. Thomas H. Felder.

The letter was alleged to have been written by Wickham to Means and Felder, who were indicted with Means and Felder on a charge of conspiring to obstruct justice. The letter was said to be a witness for the prosecution, when Hiram C. Todd, special government attorney, said that the letter had been written and it was a fabrication.

The matter came up in the examination of the letter which was arranged by the defendants to use the mails for selling stock in a glass window concern. It was alleged that $45,000 had been collected to be used in preventing prosecution.

Wickham was convicted of violation of the liquor law July 1, 1916 was sentenced to two years in prison and to pay a fine of $2,000. He was held on $25,000 bail, pending appeal. He said he has been receiving $100 a month from the government, $7 for services and $1 for expenses."

Every day under this head you will learn not only what BUILDERS throughout the country are doing to build a greater newspaper, but also what our DAILY WORKER is doing—and we will "test" the world.

YOUTH MUST HAVE ITS FLING—EVEN IN HARTFORD, CONN.

To put it in other words: youth will not be denied—at least it won't when it's in the Young Workers' League. A group of these young "Johnny Reds" of Hartford, Conn. tried to elect the DAILY WORKER and from then on things began to hum.

THEY ALL FOLLOW ONE GIRL IN PHILADELPHIA

It's not a bit surprising that they do. The one girl comrade is the first elected DAILY WORKER agent, Lena Rosenberg, and the rest are willing to follow. These comrade workers have formed part of that following which is making sleepy Philadelphia wake up.

MINE STRIKE ZONE IN W. VA. AN ARMED CAMP

The Anna Mine Is Destroyed by Fire

(Special to the Daily Worker) LOWVILLE, West Va., Jan. 27.—The tipple of the Anna Mine miles of the Ryancof Coal company, near Lowville, in the Monongalia county, was destroyed by fire. The fire had made a considerable headway before it was discovered by the stable boss, M. K. Watkins. There was no chance to check the flames. The tipple had been saturated with oil before it had been fired. It was burned down in one hour. There were 135 men employed at the mine and the production was 600 tons of coal a day.

Call Coxcomb. The state police from the Lowville headquarters are in charge of the investigation. Two men were arrested but there is no way to prove that these had anything to do with this fire. The loss is said to be between $3,000 and $10,000 fully covered by insurance.

Scab Mine. A temporary tipple will be erected at the mine and will be working within a few days. It would take a month to replace the tipple that was destroyed.

This mine has been operating on an open shop basis since May 1921. It is said that besides the mine at Anna May, near Lowville, that the company has holdings in the Newport section in Clarkburg, West Virginia. Its general manager and principal stockholder of the company, Charles E. Goetze of Fairmont, West Virginia, is superintendent of the mine.

Company Guards. New England Transportation and Fuel company is operating on open shop basis. The United Mine Workers of America have built shanties to shelter the strikers that have been expelled from the company houses at Everettville, Lowville and Brady, West Virginia. Union men are situated on a hill and on the opposite hill the non-union town lives. The union shanties are guarded by the union guards and the non-union shanties are guarded by the company guards.

Felder, a lawyer, and the latter's client, Gaston B. Means. Means at one time worked in the bureau for Burns. Harry Daugherty, formerly United States attorney general, was scheduled to arrive in New York to testify.

Wall Street Stays Cautious and Cool On French Loans

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—Wall Street is not negotiating just now for loans on French industrial and municipal bonds, because of the recent French attitude towards France's debt to the U. S. The recent statement by deputy Louis Marin in France as to the desire of France to have her securities during the war, considered as well as loans made to her, has caused a new view by American bankers and by the government.

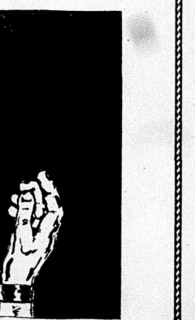

There are reports, too, that the government here has declared for withholding from the market pending French loans. Bankers who have signed contracts for new issues declared their "good business," and they say the market for French bonds has been injured and French credit impaired by the debt discrepancy.

Bankers Work Free Prose.

NEW YORK.—Bankers not only monopolize credit, boom or strangle industry but they know how to work the newspapers to give free propaganda for their purposes. The American Press, a journal that circulates among newspapers, brings of the lot of free reading matter the bankers are able to slip into the weeklies of the country.

"The American Bankers' Assn. appears to be highly successful in handing free publicity in the weekly press," the American Press writes. "Released sent include propaganda stories opposing government ownership of railroads. Approximately 2,000 weeklies in the publicity and so far as understood in not a single case has it been found necessary to approach the public through advertising."

New York's Lenin Memorial

The Lenin memorial which will be held on Sunday, February 1, in Madison Square Garden, New York, promises to be one of the most important demonstrations ever held in the United States. It will be in commemoration of the greatest leader of the revolutionary proletariat ever produced, if not indeed the most outstanding figure in human history.

Lenin was the acknowledged leader in translating into action the aims of the working class, since Marx first took the class struggle out of the clouds of Utopia and laid the theoretical basis for the world movement which is the power of the proletariat over the world and which has hallowed the Communist banner to the most over-tired and oppressed one-sixth of the earth's surface.

It is significant that, while the revolutionary workers of New York are preparing to fitfully honor the memory of the working class leader, Lenin, by filling the biggest meeting place in New York with members of the class which he lived to see through the triumph of final victory over their masters, another leader, but a traitor to his class, should be meeting with jeers and hisses whenever he attempts to address an audience of workers.

This traitor is Raia Abramovich, once a trusted leader of the workers, but now a spy of the czarist counter-revolution, and an enemy of the first workers' government in history.

The workers of New York have an excellent opportunity on next Sunday to show Abramovich and his yellow socialist backers that Lenin still lives in the hearts of the working class, that Leninism is the guiding light on the road to victory for the exploited masses and that the Workers (Communist) Party is the leader of the revolutionary forces in America under the banner of the Communist International.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, FEB. 1st
TO VIBRATE WITH SPIRIT OF LENIN,
MOST BELOVED LEADER OF WORKERS

By ISRAEL AMTER

"He would walk up and down in the Kremlin, with his hands behind his back, and he would walk quickly, then stop short in reflection."

"Once we found him on a dark, stormy night out in the rain, walking up and down, unobserved. He was deep in thought—and then suddenly stopped. He had found a solution to the problem."

This was Lenin—the man of the workers and peasants of Soviet Russia—always engaged in thought on the question that ever concerned him: what could be done for the consolidation of the power of the Soviet government; what could he propose to improve the condition of the workers and peasants.

Lenin was not a politician in the capitalist sense of the word. He did not try to win the favor of the masses in his votes. He was the serious task of building up the state—and this was a more difficult task than that: he had to deal with the international situation as well as the domestic situation. He had a clear vision of the masses' struggle against the unscrupulous counter-revolution outside the country—it had a tremendous significance for the attempted invasion by the world imperialists. Soviet Russia was and still is a primary agrarian state—a country dependent to a great degree on the industrial countries for the supply of machinery and tools. Her economic life depends in the main on industry, it is an intricate network of interlocking ways and means of maintaining workers' and peasants' control, when the mainstay of the Soviet state is the country's agriculture.

Heard consideration of the situation in the Soviet Union is inevitably linked up with the international situation—and above all with the relations between the Soviet Union and the capitalist countries.

What statesman has had to face this situation? What leader has been compelled to consider such gigantic tasks? What man has ever had such responsibilities resting upon his shoulders—the fate of 150,000,000 workers and peasants—the fate of the Russian proletariat revolution—the fate of the world proletarian revolution?

Life Dedicated to Workers.

When not at sessions of the Central Committee of the Communist Party, The Executive Committee of the All-Russian Soviet, or the Executive Committee of the Communist International; when not at a meeting of workers or peasants; when not receiving a delegation of workers or peasants who came with their grievances and doubts that he had to smooth out; when not out in the garden in the Kremlin working out his plans; when not suddenly sitting down to a despatch to write the outline of a thesis or resolution—Lenin was to be found in his study till late in the night. When all others were asleep the light shone in his room until it was the sitting at his desk—thinking, writing. The word of a worker, a peasant or a child, that he had found a solution to a problem—this ranked in his mind till he found the answer to the problem that they presented. Here was a man whose ear was close to the minds of the people. Here was a man whose heart was right in the lives and welfare of the workers and peasants.

It was Lenin who, through his leadership, the development of the Soviet state, the strengthening of the Communist Party, the growth of the world revolution.

With the wit of the revolution, Lenin was a man whose heart was right in the lives and welfare of the workers and peasants. Here was a man whose ear was close to the minds of the people. Here was a man whose heart was right in the lives and welfare of the workers and peasants.

Gary's Benevolence

Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation, announced that the employees of the trust would be allowed to subscribe to a specified number of shares of stock in the corporation during the month of February, at the rate of $125.00 per share.

The slaves of the steel trust should remember the old adage about Greeks bearing gifts. Gary's annual exhibition of generosity will be featured by the capitalist press as further evidence of the tendency on the part of American capitalists to share the profits of their businesses with their employees.

The steel trust offers one hundred thousand shares of its stock to its employees with a great flourish of benevolence. Some of the slaves may believe that they are getting something. But let us examine this gift horse in the mouth, and see what we can see.

The stock that Gary offers to his slaves for $125.00 per share could be purchased in the open market last Saturday for $104. When United States Steel was originally placed on the market it could be purchased for less than twenty dollars per share. So the generous Mr. Gary is actually swindling his slaves thru a stock transaction, not being satisfied with swindling them at the point of production.

The main object of the trust in selling the stock to its employees is not so much because of the profits made in swindling them thru an inflated price, but in order to give them the feeling that they are shareholders in the corporation. This idea would have a tendency to make them work harder and turn a deaf ear to the trade union organizer. Gary knows what he is about.

The steel workers must not allow themselves to be deceived by this spurious generosity. They have it in their power to force the steel trust to give them more of the product of their toil by proper organization and ultimately to take over the mighty industrial machine which is the product of the brain and brawn of the workers. No class collaboration! No profit sharing swindles!

The Syndicalist Laws

Owing to a recent decision of the supreme court of Idaho, the criminal syndicalist law of that state is of little value to the capitalists in its present form. It was enacted in order to give the employers a weapon to use against the radicals and the unions, but evidently the framers of the statute did not know their business and the supreme court having a will of its own, for allowing the law to be delivered a decision that freed a few members of the I. W. W. who were held under its provisions. The decision proved the law would not serve the purpose for which it was intended.

The employers decided to seek another law, with "teeth in it." Under the definition of sabotage given in this bill, a worker who makes a mistake in solving a cross word puzzle is liable to be arrested under the syndicalist law. According to the bill sabotage means "damage, injury or destruction of real or personal property, work done in an improper manner, tampering with or destruction of machinery, improper use of machinery, slowing down of production, slackening on work, scamping on work, waste of products, publishing of trade secrets if done willfully or maliciously."

The employers declare there is an emergency and the bill is expected to be rushed thru and enacted into law.

The law is not aimed at radicals only. It is primarily directed against trade unions. The fight against the criminal syndicalist law is of the most vital concern to the workers. If they think that the capitalists are only concerned with using it against the communists, they will soon learn their mistake. It is true that the employers go after the Communists first, but the proposed syndicalist law of Idaho proves conclusively that they are out to get anybody who interferes in the slightest degree with their ability to make all the profit they can out of the exploitation of the workers.

Another Look at Abramovich

More About Abramovich.

To the DAILY WORKER.

The present dictatorship in Russia is at the height of approval you have taken in regard to the riot staged upon the first anniversary of the death of Abramovich.

We, who always oppose the tactics of the American legion of the Ku Kluxers, should not approve of similar methods and means in dealing with our government enemies.

Regardless of Abramovich's past records, it is certainly one of the most creditable means of opposition should not be employed. Preparation for a debate is the only challenge to a debate (he is willing to take that) are far more effective than the shouting and the riot and blood to establish our right.

It is not a bourgeois tendency to see a man who is a leader of the workers. Calling people "morons" just because they go to listen to a speech is not a bourgeois attitude. It is only a "dog" and his opinions "vomiting" does not bring about the desired results.

I personally doubt whether such an extensive use of vulgar slang is necessary in order that the worker may properly understand his press. It merely creates an atmosphere of aversion instead of attention.

With best wishes,

Reply—it is regrettable that the struggle between the capitalists and their chief agents on one side and the workers on the other is accompanied by so much bitterness, some times going beyond even explosive words and graphic epithets. But such is the case, and what we sympathize with the wounded feelings of our over-sensitive correspondent, because of the DAILY WORKER'S attitude towards the traitor, Abramovich, we do not intend to do the sackcloth.

Communists are not interested in free speech for the capitalists or for their servants. Whatever class has political power—so long as class rule exists—will determine how much free speech will be allowed. In capitalist countries, the workers are allowed only as much free speech as they can get on their own initiative with their own security. In Russia, where the workers have political power, they are allowed to speak as freely as the Soviets are limited in their powers to overthrow the work of government and to establish a robber rule of capitalism. In fact, their ability to do harm is limited to zero.

Class rule means rule by force. The main difference between class rule in the United States and in Russia is that in Russia the only useful class is the only power, and in the United States the reverse is the truth. Furthermore, the working class dictatorship into the air—let us see how it is.

These statements of Lenin will forever live in the minds of the workers of the world: Lenin before the factories in the morning, in the afternoon, in the evening, calling them to the ranks of the revolutionary workers and peasants, leading them to the elaborating this problem and the solution of the proletarian revolution.

Proletarian Revolution Will Come.

Lenin was in the massed ranks on the Red Square, on which is inscribed his bold letters the word LENIN. He lies there—while the world proletarian revolution that he led still rages. Only in Soviet Russia have the workers and peasants seized power; the workers and poor peasants in the capitalist countries are still under the oppression of the capitalist class; the colonies are still held by the armed forces of the imperialists.

Lenin is in the tomb—but LENINISM, the embodiment of his revolutionary policies and methods lives in the Communist Parties, in the lives of the revolutionary workers and peasants of the world. Leninism, Bolshevik Revolution with a Soviet government in the United States will be along to the workers who will assemble in Madison Square Garden on Feb. 1. Lenin is alive in the hearts of the Communist workers. In the ranks of the Workers (Communist) Party of America.

Outlawing War

President Coolidge, chairman of the executive committee of American capitalism, known as the United States government, in a speech delivered before a delegation of women attending the conference on the cause and cure of war, urged the women to continue the agitation for "no more war" while the wounds of the last great conflict were still fresh in the minds of the people. Not so very long ago, the peace-loving Coolidge signed a bill appropriating $110,000,000 for the building of more warships to "make more war."

It is not impossible to outlaw war. But the only way to do the trick is to outlaw capitalism. War is inseparable from capitalism as hypoxia is from a preacher. Wars are not caused by "bad men" and peace is not maintained by "good men." The conflicting interests of capitalist groups bring about war. All modern wars are gigantic commercial enterprises. The road to peace lies over the dead body of the capitalist system.

The capitalist class of America prefer peace to war. They do not object to punitive expeditions against weak South American republics. Neither do the pacifists. It seems the latter did not seem to care when their idol, Rausay MacDonold, dropped bombs on Indian villages and slaughtered the natives of Mesopotamia, all for the profit of the British capitalists. The pacifists are against over the prospect of another world war. As the most far-seeing of the bourgeoisie point out, another world war will most likely mean the end of capitalist rule and the coming to power of the working class. That is one very good reason why the capitalists don't want war, if they can avoid it.

But when their interests clash, they can find many pretexts for calling on the workers to put on their uniforms again as they did in 1917. And the pacifist leaders who now shout "no more war" will discover that the United States is defending some pacifist principle such as "democracy." Wall Street's man, Coolidge, is following a wise policy. His pacifist camouflage is well done.

Sabotaging a Strike

Thruout the mill districts of New England, the employes of the textile barons are fighting against the wage cuts that their masters have forced upon them as part of their reward for sending Calvin Coolidge, the favorite son of Wall Street and the mill owners, to the White House for four years.

But, in waging this struggle the textile workers find themselves confronted with two foes. The first is the millionaire mill operators with all the power of city, state and national governments at their beck and call. This enemy is powerful enough to challenge the united power of a well organized working class. But when the workers are confronted with the task of having to fight crooked labor officials who set up every obstacle in the way of a militant struggle, it must be admitted that they are handicapped.

In the midst of this battle we find one of the unions involved, the Federation of Textile Operatives, digging up an outworn provision that requires a two-thirds vote of each local to involve a general strike. In the case of the Federation of Textile Operatives in this strike the conclusion is inescapable that the effect of such tactics is to aid the bosses and defeat the workers.

It is regrettable, but nevertheless necessary that the workers in order to win their strike must fight union factors who insist on creating division instead of unity in the midst of a strike.

WHY THEY GO TO AMERICA

By Boris Edmore, in Moscow (Russia).

Fascist Santa Claus Stopped at Russian Border.

It is a well known fact that the workers of the world are flocking to America in search of a better life. This is due to the fact that the workers of the world are oppressed and exploited by the capitalist class. The workers of the world are seeking a better life in America because of the oppression and exploitation of the capitalist class.
