

CARPENTERS LOCALS SCORE EXPULSIONS

Demand Justice for the Ousted Militants

Two Chicago locals of the International Brotherhood of Carpenters, this week, went unanimously on record for a square deal for the five members expelled from Local No. 181, in defiance of the union laws and constitution.

During the week the expelled members stated their case to the local unions and were everywhere received in a most friendly manner.

It is quite evident that the rank and file are overwhelmingly in opposition to the retrograde policy of Hutchison and Jensen.

Those who took the floor at the local unions where the expelled members appeared, were vigorous in condemning the antipathy of the two officials.

Establishing Precedent. One of the officials, Fred E. L., made a plea for the defendants saying that if such illegal action against them can be upheld, similar action can be meted out to any other member of the organization who happens to disagree with those in power.

Local Nos. 1 and 13 voted unanimously to send a communication to the general president asking for an immediate decision on the ruling of the president of Local 181, and the other five members expelled without complying with the terms of the constitution.

The expelled members are deprived of their means of livelihood thru the autocratic action of Hutchison and his satellites.

Morris Rosen, Communist candidate for president of the local, was on the left wing ticket, was given credit for 3,014 votes by the Hutchison tellers.

PAIS OF BURNS AND DAUGHTERY

FOR NO GUILTY Chief Gratters and Red Baiters Escape

(Special to The Daily Worker) NEW YORK CITY, Jan. 30.—Gaston B. Means, trusted agent of William J. Burns, when Burns was head of the bureau of investigation of the U. S. department of justice, was today found guilty of conspiracy to bribe government officials.

Col. Thomas Fisher, lawyer for Means, said many years ago personal associate partner of Harry Daugherty, formerly attorney general for the United States, was also found guilty. The so-called verdict, returned in the United States district court today, was pronounced "without technicality" for Daugherty's friend.

The testimony at the trial revealed that in 1922, Means, according to the testimony, was especially intimate with George B. Christian, then President Harding's secretary.

Means and Fisher were convicted of accepting a $40,000 bribe from stock speculator Harry Daugherty, who was used to "fix" Daugherty, Burns and United States Senator Charles McNary Hayward and others, so that they would not bring in indictments against McNary.

Burns in Crooked Deals. Daugherty and Burns both took the stand in behalf of Means and Fisher, but they were both convicted. Fisher was characterized by Senator Wheeler as "the New York Times' chief editor" and was charged with both sides of nearly every crooked deal that came to light in Washington.

Judge Lindley sentenced Means to the penitentiary, but let Fisher, Daugherty, McNary and Burns go free on a $100,000 bond. Means was fined ten thousand dollars in addition to the prison sentence.

Only one witness charged in the trial that Fisher, Means and McNary were involved in the scheme was Harry M. Daugherty, once Federal law partner, United States District Attorney, and later United States Senator. He was fined ten thousand dollars in addition to the prison sentence.

Means has had a notorious career in the government. He was convicted of graft in 1914, and later convicted of graft in 1917. He was also convicted of graft in 1922.

IRISH LABOR LECTURE THEME SUNDAY NIGHT O'Flaherty Speaks at Open Forum

For many years the question of Irish freedom has agitated the entire world. The Irish in America have made it a question of great political importance, and upon all such questions the Communists have a program.

What should be the attitude of revolutionary workers and their organizations toward the question of "Irish Freedom" which does not seem to have been settled at all by the establishment of the Irish "Free State"?

There is a labor movement in Ireland, and the Communists within it and the Communists within the Irish population in America consider the question of the political position of the Irish capital of an great an important one.

Mr. O'Flaherty is an able speaker and thoroughly acquainted with the nature and importance of the question of Ireland and its relation to the world movement. Wheat, Flour and Bread Go Up in Price as the Thieves Take Winnings

By J. LOUIS ENDGAHL

TODAY, the wheat market is going thru its annual price-technics. Not only grain prices are going up; the price of flour and the cost of bread follow. It is the holiday of the food speculators. The board of trade says the stock exchange. The gamblers in the necessities of life are in their glory.

The mounting prices do not benefit the poor farmer. His wheat was taken from him long ago to satisfy some mortgage, to pay the interest on his numerous debts, or to meet the rent if he happened to be a tenant. Most of the wheat crop went off the land last year at prices at least 65 cents below present quotations. It went into the hands of the bankers, the landlords and the great grain companies that make the biggest money in the speculation.

The millions of toil worn farmers who sweated in agony to produce the golden harvest of grain, that they were compelled to sell at prices that hardly covered their expenses, now see the board of trade, at ease in their swivel chairs in sumptuous offices reap another golden harvest, the harvest of millions upon millions of dollars.

American wheat is "protected." A high tariff keeps out foreign wheat. This means that today American wheat is selling in Antwerp at lower prices than in Chicago. American wheat can be bought in Antwerp and shipped back to New York at a profit. It is the board of trade, through the Chicago board of trade and sent on to the metropolis. In Antwerp the American wheat is in the hands of the big speculators must still compete with the grain from Russia, Poland and the Argentine. The difference in prices in Chicago and Antwerp is hardly explained by the "world shortage."

The Chicago price is one that works both ways. It gives the speculator his big profit over the low price at which he purchases the wheat from the farmer. It gives the flour miller and the bread maker an excuse for increasing the price on the products they sell. This in spite of the fact that their grain companies, mills and bakeries are often controlled by the same individuals, making new profits for themselves at every transaction. The city worker commiserates with the ploughed farmer and then finds that he is also being robbed. Cheap wheat prices for the farmer and high bread prices for the city worker go hand in hand under the clever workings of the capitalist system, that spells "get richer quick" for the few, and "get poorer quick" for the many.

Most of the speculation is being done in May wheat. May will be the last big chance to get rid of the old crop. The figures for July and September wheat, when the new crop comes on the market, tell a different story. July wheat is even now selling 31 7/8 cents under in May wheat, and September wheat is 47 cents under the figures for May. In other words, when the grain grower, the farmer, must sell his crops to meet new debts, to cover the interest due on his mortgages pending, or to farm implements purchased on credit, then the prices will be down to rock bottom again.

That is the vicious cycle in wheat prices one year after another. Be it crop in large or small quantities, the prices are high when the grain grower wants to cash in on his earnings. It is the way of capitalism. It will continue just as long as the city worker and poor farmers stand fast. That shouldn't be very much longer.

BURLINGTON R. R. U. S. GOLD MOVES MAKES 20 PCT. ON CAPITAL STOCK REAP BIG PROFIT

Men Force Better Pay Than Rail Road Competitive Power in World Trade Feared

CHICAGO.—The ability of Chicago Burlington & Quincy Railway to pay the wage increase won by eight-agers and firemen in recent negotiations is indicated in the preliminary statement of the carrier showing 1924 profits of $22,000,000 after taxes and interest on its bonds and notes. This is a net profit of 20 per cent on every share of the $10,000,000 capital stock. The 1924 profits really mean a return of nearly 20 per cent on the capital stock as it existed before the 1923 fire. The road is having regular cash dividends of 10 per cent which means 10 per cent on the original stock.

The Burlington now joins the list of water carriers on which the engine service labor unions through the national strength have obtained a better settlement than that awarded by the railroad labor board.

(Special to The Daily Worker) WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—Emile Daeschner, the new French ambassador, presented his credentials today to President Coolidge.

This routine bit of formality attracted unusual interest in Washington. Daeschner, an understanding prevailing in administration circles that Daeschner will speedily follow it up by undertaking some serious negotiations with this government for the funding of the $4,000,000,000 French war debt.

LEGAL BUREAUS TO HELP UNIONS FORMED IN WEST

Seattle Idea Spreads to Other Cities

By Harold R. Johnson. (Federated Press Staff Correspondent) TACOMA, Wash.—More cases are being won for workers in Tacoma since the legal bureau was established last June. It is operated by the Central Labor Council. The bureau is at the disposal of all affiliated unions, whose individual members may secure for a small fee a card which entitles them to service.

System Reduced For Minor advice is given free. Matters requiring more attention and court action are handled for unions and members at cost. The bureau renders its service to unions not only in adjusting industrial matters, but when ever legal aid is needed. The bureau with its selected staff has proved a great economy to the unions. Uniform systems are used to deal with injunctions and workmen's compensation disputes.

Lawyer Tuft Nicked. Corporations naturally oppose this new labor instrument. Private lawyers also dislike the plan since their fees and practice are injured. The original office in Seattle, which is doing a tremendous business was established in 1923, by George F. Vanderveer, labor lawyer.

Bureaus in Everett, Bellingham, Bremerton, Spokane and Aberdeen are now to follow. It is expected that in a few years the Pacific coast will see labor's legal arm well developed. Vanderveer, at one time county prosecutor, still heads the Seattle office. The Tacoma bureau is conducted by Leslie B. Sullivan, a former Montana prosecuting attorney.

AUSTRALIAN MARINE WORKERS WIN SWEEPING VICTORY OVER SHIPOWNERS, NOT ONE SCAB

By W. FRANCIS AHERN (Federated Press Staff Correspondent)

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 30.—After a fight lasting several weeks over the union shop on the waterfront at Australian ports, the Waterside Workers Federation has forced the shipowners to throw the non-unionists out of their union labor supplied by the federation. It was a magnificent victory for the waterside workers, due entirely to wonderful solidarity. Of the 49 branches of the Waterside Workers Federation, all obeyed the strike call. Not one unionist scabbed. In some cases the ports were completely closed and shipowners ceased calling during the strike.

Solidarity Stood Bosses. Coast shipping was not affected, as these vessels always employ union labor. The fight was against the overseas shipping companies who set up an agency for engaging non-union labor to break the federation. Ships were held at every port. When it was seen that the union could not be beaten, the prime minister, Bruce, called a conference of the union and the shipowners. After two days' bargaining the shipowners admitted defeat and signed as requested.

Capitalist Press Raves. The capitalist press shrieked its head off about direct action, and bitterly commented on the fact that direct actionists were strong enough to break the power of the shipowners. Meanwhile the strikebreakers have been kicked off the waterfront and the agency has been abolished. The capitalist press is now at being treated as a scab by the shipowners. They complain that the shipowners solemnly undertook to stand by them through thick and thin and have now thrown them aside.

COOLIDGE HANDS OUT PATRONAGE TO LABOR'S FOES

It's Fine Collection of Gifted Thieves

(By the Federated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—All power to the corporations. That's the Coolidge slogan and program, unfolded in an amazingly logical series of appointments to high office since the president's latest attack upon the morale of the organized civil service. What he is doing today is consistent with what he tried to do a year ago, but the voters and congress have forgotten his purpose in the excitement of the campaign to elect him for another term.

Stone, a former Morgan lawyer, is moved from attorney general to the supreme court. Warren, sugar trust lawyer and manipulator, with a finer touch than the late Gurneys, is named as attorney general. Thomas M. Woodcock, former editor of the Wall Street Journal, is appointed for the interstate commerce commission, where Wall Street pity for the poor railroad companies may become more fully effective than even now is the case.

Big Capital Favored. Willis O. Humphrey, the most reactionary politician in the state of Washington, is dug up from his political tomb of obscurity and is to throw the majority in the federal trade commission safely to the side of non-unionism. Humphrey was one of the boldest and bitterest foes of the federal trade commission when it was organized. He has been a Chicago meat packer's monopoly. Lately he has represented shipping corporations in their dealings with the government.

Coolidge has beaten the postal workers demand for a living wage and has followed this with a warning to all department and bureau chiefs that they are to be held responsible for their workers. None but a fool will fail to guess that reductions will affect the work of the bureau that inquire into what monopoly capitalism is doing to the workers. Civil servants will see their mouths shut and hold onto their jobs.

A Real Christian. Last winter Coolidge nominated George C. Wallace for living wage. President Harding, to the federal trade vacancy. Chairman Huston, however, testified that Christian who secretary had tried to talk with him about a pending case, apparently a friend of the accused corporation. The senate forced Coolidge to drop Christian, as the committee on interstate commerce requested him and a man chosen to wreck the work of that body.

The same committee will consider the nomination of Humphrey for federal trade and Woodcock for the I. C. and there is a fair chance that it will recommend against them both. However, Coolidge can give them re-appointment, making it their coming sense to be more reaction ary.

Means Lower Railroad Wages. Woodcock is needed to control the railroad valuations. Warren is needed for official opinions approving the good work of Stone is needed on the supreme court, where the railroad valuation act will finally come for judgment. Stone is needed on a fixed railway of twenty-five billion instead of twelve billions; railroad workers will draw lower wages; stockholders and bankers will get richer, in the coming years.

BUILDERS AT WORK Every day under this heading you will learn not only what BUILDERS throughout the country are doing to build a greater new world, but also practical hints for the home owner. For G.U.R. paper. Tell us what YOU are doing—and we will "tell the world."

Do You Do It? LOCAL Chicago has an efficient literature distribution system that could well be copied the country over. Even the Chicago system is only beginning to reach perfection. But the North Side English branch in It is already "nitting on all six." Under the leadership of Branch DAILY WORKER Agent Gertrude Welsh, a large committee, composed of girls, has been given regular meeting nights to "cover." This committee has appropriated two nights a week to couples, where they go regularly, and where the union members get accustomed to buy from them. Naturally, the literature sales of this branch are mounting regularly, and the profits have provided a valuable addition to the branch treasury for the promotion of further branch activities. The propaganda work among trade unions, where it is particularly valuable, brings splendid benefit to the party and it was in one instance where a union member who was a steady buyer of literature from the girls, also secured for them a list of signatures on a petition for a candidate of the party in the local election.

The organizational value is soon very evident. New members are secured this way and from every angle the literature sales on union meetings, come in a steady stream and are bound to bring results. The committee of this branch is always ready to help on special occasions as well, and City DAILY WORKER Agent Thurber Lewin, has been given regular meetings to "cover" at large and special meetings. Other branches are being taught the system and hundreds of unions are already being "covered" monthly. Do you do it?

Workers Take 5 Weeks' Vacation For Study Class By OUNI SALMI, (Specialist in the Daily Worker) WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 30.—The courses of lectures which have been carried under the auspices of the Worcester branch for three weeks now, and which will continue five more weeks are becoming more and more interesting as we progress. We start at nine in the morning and continue until five in the afternoon. The subjects so far discussed are the following: Ancient society, the progress of humanity from savagery thru barbarism to civilization, development of private property and with it the birth and development of the state, the rise of Greece and Rome and their decay, p. m. The student body is drawn from a wide circle—Ohio, New York, and all parts of New England, and represented by the 25 students attending the courses. Most of them are party members by their local or district committees, but many are on their own book. A spirit of comradeship prevails among the students and teachers and everyone does his or her best to get the most out of every study. The hours spent on education and as well as the most interesting of these studies questions are brought before the students by the students themselves and are discussed by all at all angles. In this way new light is thrown on subjects which is of great help to the students in every way.

Stir Connecticut Workers Against Child Slavery (Special to the Daily Worker) NEW HAVEN, Jan. 30.—Local New Haven, Workers Party, has called conference for the abolition of child labor for Tuesday, Feb. 10, at 8 p. m. at the Trades Council Hall, 215 Meadow St. Invitations have gone out to all local labor unions and many other working class organizations. The child labor amendment has been sent to the state legislature by Governor Trumbull and referred to a committee. Connecticut is republican ruled, and the amendment will probably be defeated. Governor Bingham, who took the oath of office one day and immediately resigned to become United States senator, declared against the amendment at the republican convention which nominated him Labor Struck. The aim of this conference is to get the rank and file of the local unions into a new line of action. At present, everything is left to the legislative action of the state branch of the Federation of Labor and the tariff pursued at to get liberal elements to exert personal influence on members of the legislature. This conference will however mobilize the working class elements for the fight, since they are the only dependable ones. Furthermore, the issue will be injected of support of the amendment with the proposal that the rich incomes be taxed for this purpose.

Social-Democratic Crafters

Having sold out the German working class during and since the 1919 vendetta, the German social democrats decided to get theirs at both ends.

Still at the Same Task

Nothing more amusing to the political observer has appeared in the daily press for quite some time, than an editorial in a recent issue of the Milwaukee Leader on the problem of peace in Europe.

Mahoney—Agent of Minnesota Bankers

By EARL BROWDER. WHEN "progressive" leaders in the labor movement lose their heads and begin to think longingly of the quiet and remunerative life of those who conform to the ruling society...

Not only are the trade unions split from representation in the convention, but those trade unions who happen to be elected from the county mass conventions are expected by Mahoney to hold kind of caucus in connection with the convention.

Disappointed!

Smiling, jovial, back slapping, handshaking, Alfed Smith, governor of the state of New York, has disappointed the labor folk of his own state and even the optimistic and trusting editor of Labor, official organ of the sixteen standard railway unions, because "Al" has trimmed on the child labor amendment.

The Barinat brothers are now in jail, but some of the social democrats are defending them in the columns of the Vorwärts. Holzman, for instance, a prominent socialist politician said that he was a member of their board of directors.

Let me mention the fact that Larkin's use of the word "invasion" was not only a misnomer but a gross insult to the workers of the world.

Workers and working farmers can only attend conventions if they have the means to get there and pay their expenses. This convention call which admits such representation forces the farmers to elect local bankers, or merchant, or petty local officials, as their delegates to the convention; because these are the only ones who quite generally can afford the means and expense of such gatherings.

ANDREW CUTS MORE TEACHERS FROM PAYROLL

25 Classes Disbanded to "Cut Expense"

Twenty-five school teachers were fired by Superintendent of Schools Andrew yesterday at the opening of the second semester of the school year. The pupils in twenty-five classes taught by these teachers were distributed among other class rooms...

McAndrew fired the teachers as part of his policy of putting the schools of the city on a business basis, regardless of the damage to the efficiency of the teachers and the effect on the school children.

Theater Is Hit By $2,000 Judgment for Denying Negro Rights

Judgment for $2,000 against the Lyric Theater company of Chicago has been won by a colored man, Leo W. Headen, in a case fought to prevent exclusion from the theater in the ground of color. Headen and his companion, Miss Lillian E. Proctor, sit in another part of the house than that to which their tickets entitled them.

This case against the Lyric theater, he believed, will serve notice upon a number of theaters in Chicago that they cannot discriminate against colored people with impunity.

By WILLIAM SIMONS. (Special to The Daily Worker)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 3.—Shopmen called together by a press notice yesterday were informed at a meeting in a Hotel Hall that their representatives had called off the dogs. About a hundred were present.

A check to the men. This order came rather suddenly many strikers, when asked by the DAILY WORKER reporter before the meeting about the continuation of the strike, were strongly for it.

They wanted to see that there was no vote taken by the men, that they were not consulted. Many were there who had not been in the strike at all.

Landlords, Courts and Tenants

Former patriots who could see no connection between landlords and agencies of the capitalist state power like the courts, for instance, are having their eyes opened in New York.

A federation of rent-payers' associations who have been battling the landlords for some time have been advised, thru the conviction and sentencing of one of its officers to a year in the penitentiary, that courts and judges are institutions and individuals functioning for the protection of landlords and agencies of whose profession is legalized.

Captain Harry Allen Ely, president of a tenants' association called a certain judge a "numskull" in an article in the official organ of the association and the association of landlords took care to see that the article was brought to the attention of this ornament of the New York bench with the result above set forth. The courts, of course, are not immune to criticism we are told, but we notice that most of those who indulge in scorching criticism of the judiciary land in the hoosegow as did the captain whose long record of service in war, famed like he naively recorded would save him, failed to keep him out of the Tombs—the first stop on the way to Sing Sing.

It is to be hoped that this experience will have the effect of convincing the members of the tenants' association, in spite of their middle-class character and leadership, that any fight against landlordism and kindred evils is useless unless it recognizes that all the legal appendages of capitalism, legislators, courts, judges, police and military, are lack of the landlords and the private property interests they personify.

The frenzied fear that even the mildest form of protest against landlordism and its kept courtiers arouses in the parasitic element is shown by the severe sentence handed out to the worthy captain who in all probability looks upon American capitalist government as the supreme achievement of his race.

When the captain gets out of jail he should take a walk to the New York headquarters of the Workers (Communist) Party and find out the real reason why he was incarcerated.

The Austrian Debacle

Austria, the little country that has been used as a laboratory by the league of nations and whose working class has been forced into the role of guinea pigs by the imperialist experimenters, has collapsed.

Even the injections of gold serum and the cowardly submission of the social-democrats to Zimmerman, the receiver appointed by the league, has failed to do the impossible—repair the damages of war, rebuild industry and feed the population in a country stripped of its resources and partitioned among the allied nations.

The working class of Austria has gone thru hell while the experiment was in progress and today stands as a living—barely living—example of the hopelessness of a working class that allows itself to have faith in capitalism.

The Austrian breakdown creates another serious problem for the imperialists and this problem cries for solution at a time when political crises hold the stage in almost every important European nation. Three avenues of escape, all of them of a temporary nature, are open to the allied powers. First, Austria can become part of a Danube federation that will strengthen the little nations and in all probability upset French plans in that sector.

Second, Austria can become again a part of the German nation with a resultant strengthening of the working class forces which neither the German or allied capitalists view with anything but fear.

Third, Austria can become an Italian protectorate and thus arouse an implacable enmity in the Balkan states that might mean a new war.

The Communists alone can look at the new situation created by the Austrian debacle with equanimity, confident that it is additional proof that capitalism cannot solve its post-war problems and that with the growing strength of the Communist parties in all European nations, that continent steps closer and closer to the path blazed by the revolutionary workers and peasants of Soviet Russia.

More Trouble for Fascist Spain

Raisuli, the Spanish government's only consistent friend in Morocco, has surrendered to Spain's most redoubtable enemy, Abdel-Krim, who has inflicted defeat after defeat on the Spanish forces. His latest conquest renders the position of Spain in Morocco untenable.

The chieftain Raisuli was purchased by Spain last October for a large sum of money. He took to the hills with his treasure and remained there ever since, feigning illness. Krim, however, was more than a match for the forces of Dictator Primo de Rivera.

The Spanish dictator allocated 1,000,000 pesetas for the purpose of "demoralizing and corrupting the enemy." This means bribing the native chieftains. Thru his victory over Raisuli, Abdel-Krim has access to whatever part of this million is still untouched by the recipient. Spain's treasure turned out to be a gift to her foes.

The prospects for Spain retaining her precarious hold much longer on Morocco is not bright. But as soon as Spain quits the other and more powerful capitalist nations will step in. The continued robbery and exploitation of the people of Morocco and other undeveloped parts of the earth can only be prevented by the working class.

Workers Party and T. U. E. L. Anthracite Meet

By JOSEPH MANLEY

THE return to work of the 15,000 anthracite strikers employed by the Pennsylvania coal company, made the rank and file of the miners union against the strike.

This two month old strike was a spontaneous one. It was not the policy of the regular union machinery to score redress for the many grievances of the miners. The bulk of the leaders of the strike were men whose idea of the struggle between labor and capital is very similar to that held by Lewis himself. The strike could have no other end but the promise of the Lewis strike commission.

Abolish Pacts Conciliation
Under the same conciliation board developed out of the commission appointed by Roosevelt to settle the strike.

This conciliation board, consisting of three representatives of the operators and two of the miners, has little power to settle anything. Its chief function has been to create the illusion among some of the miners that they could get redress for their grievances. But after the long convention amongst the rank and file that the conciliation board is but a puppet of the mine operators.

Had a militant leadership been at the head of this strike, the miners' union would have understood the power, both economic and political, of the strike. The strike would have gained real concessions in less than half the time consumed by the "Penny" strike.

By its lack of militancy and its tacit acceptance of the mine operators' policies, the leadership of the recent strike doomed the strike to its present inevitable ending.

WHY CO-OPERATION IS NOT ENOUGH

By EARL R. BROWDER

THE reason that "co-operation" (in the sense of the consumers' cooperative movement) cannot solve the problems of the working class is that we are living under a system of capitalism which is based on the exploitation of the working class by the bourgeoisie.

Co-operation can help in class struggle.

The cooperative movement can be used to the advantage of the workers in their struggle, provided it is organized and led on the basis of the fundamental class struggle.
