ARABS DEMAND FULL CONTROL OF PALESTINE

60,000 Arabs Strike Against Balfour Today... (Special to The Daily Worker)...

JERUSALEM, Palestine, April 1.—The six hundred thousand Arabs in Palestine, in answer to the speech of Lord Balfour today at the opening of the Hebrew University here, demand complete control of the country.

England has several times tried to throw a sop to the Arabs, but they have persisted in demanding all or nothing. The latest attempt of English imperialism to bring the Arab population into subjection has been to cause racial antagonisms thru control of the Zionist movement.

SOVIET FOES IN FAR EAST DISINTEGRATE AS LEADER MAKES PEACE

SHANGHAI, China, April 1.—Complete collapse of the pro-Soviet Russian in the Far East, has been brot about by the return of Semenov to Vladivostok under an arrangement with the Soviet government. The recent Russo-Japanese treaty ended the intrigues of the Japanese for control of Vladivostok, and Semenov, who was fighting Soviet Russia with the aid of Japanese imperialism, found himself without a teacher, and made peace with the Soviet government. It is reported.

The Soviet government will hold Semenov's wife and children as hostages, while Semenov is permitted to re-enter Vladivostok, it is said. The counter-revolutionary Russians in the Far East are the remnants of those expelled from Vladivostok, along with the Japanese troops, by the Soviet government.

TEXTILE WORKERS MUST HAVE A UNITED FRONT AND CLASS SOLIDARITY OF ALL WORKERS

Assistant National Secretary, Trade Union Educational League. The strike of the textile workers in Willimantic, Conn., again shows the willingness of the textile workers to resist the wage cuts being imposed upon them. It also emphasizes the great need for united action of the workers against the powerful trusts.

For a United Front Conference with most of the industry unorganized, and the small percentage that do belong to organized labor split into numerous weak, impotent unions, the one thing left for the workers to do is to call a united front conference of all textile unions and textile workers to work out a common program of action against the united front of the textile millionaires.

More Polish Capitalist Brutality

The Polish government by shooting on their way to Soviet Russia two Communist prisoners who were to be exchanged has set the world a new precedent in studied brutality and disregard of all international agreements.

The theory of the Polish government seems to be that with the backing of France and America it can bathe in the blood of the workers to its heart's content. This theory may have some basis in fact as it is certainly true that Soviet Russia will not make war on Poland even to save the lives of devoted revolutionists.

But there are other matters that the Polish government would do well to consider, such as the former rather friendly attitude of the masses outside of Poland to her desire for national freedom, the interest with which her attempts to restore national unity were watched, the toleration with which the bloody excesses of her government were at first received.

Poland is caught between Germany and Russia. Her natural resources and factories are being plundered by French adventurers who plan on the existence of Poland for ten years only. The masses are poverty-stricken, but the landlords and capitalists have greatly enriched themselves.

Politically she will go down beneath the feet of her working class when she has no more.

When that day comes the Polish ruling class will pay for every broken strike, for every torture, for every murdered worker and for such bloody brutalities as that of shooting working class prisoners on their way to be exchanged.

Social-Democracy and the Vatican

The news from Germany following the indecisive election returns indicates clearly the hopeless bankruptcy of the social-democracy. The socialist press echoes the liberal press and announces its willingness to support a candidate of the catholic center party to defeat the nationalists and monarchists.

The Communist Party candidate, Comrade Thaelmann, will be in the final and if the social-democracy makes the proposed coalition, great numbers of those who would have supported Braun, will support the Communist Party.

The situation in Germany, the manner in which the social-democrats run around seeking a way out like rats whose burrows have been closed, is a great lesson to the workers who still have faith in parliamentarism and capitalist democracy.

There is no freedom for the masses in Germany and there has been a progressive decline in the number of their privileges ever since the overthrow of the monarchy that was to have been the first step towards liberation. Germany is still in the Kerensky period and the social-democrats seek to preserve merely the outward forms of democratic procedure.

That the vatican audits followers in Germany will exact important concessions in return for entry into a coalition with the social-democrats goes without saying. Bavaria is a catholic state and the vatican has long dreamed of a new catholic empire, to replace Austria, with Bavaria as its center.

Catholicism is a survival of feudalism, its outlook is that of the middle ages. The German social-democracy, it seems, has not yet reached the full depth of betrayal. It is willing to aid and accept the aid of the most reactionary force in Europe to maintain its bureaucratic office.

AMERICAN TRADE IN CHINA GOES STEADILY DOWN

Russia and Japan Cut Out U. S.

SHANGHAI, April 1.—Although the United States shipping interests are gradually gaining control of the commerce sent out from here, the largest port in China, American business firms are losing their hold on manufacture and trade within China.

The figures show that in 1922 American ships handled 60 per cent of the shipping out of Shanghai to the United States, and this figure was increased to 50 per cent two years ago and 44 per cent last year.

On the other hand, the participation of American merchants in Chinese trade to the United States fell off from 35 per cent in 1922 to less than 30 per cent last year.

Japan and Russia have closer contact with China than ever before and the United States capitalists are growing despic.

MUSIC.

BY ALFRED V. FRANKENSTEIN. EDWARD COLLINS, one of the best of the local pianists, was soloist at the Chicago symphony orchestra at Orchestra Hall. He gave the first performance of his own piano concerto.

There were other soloists on the program as well. Alfred Quessel and Fritz Jikra, first flute and principal bass, respectively of the orchestra, did some excellent teamwork in the Bach suite for strings and piano which preceded the Collins' concerto.

Another soloist whose forte later in the performance of the Brahms fourth symphony, Robert Lindebaum, the first clarinet of the orchestra, had the extended solo in the second movement of that monumental work.

This symphony of Brahms, his last and greatest, illustrates the composer at his best and his worst. He had inspiration and material for three wonderful and un surpassed movements, but, being unable to do more than that, he writes a symphony in less than four movements, he tacks on thirty-two variations on a tiny theme that was not worth writing in the first place, much less varying it.

The Civic orchestra wound up its season at Orchestra Hall with the customary program of light, popular stuff. The program opened with the time honored overture "The Demos-Citizen" in honor of whom name I love to write, Daniel Francois Esprit Auber. A theme in this overture is almost invariably used in the first movement of a riding episode of the western movie.

In memory of Morris Moskowitz, who died some weeks ago, the orchestra had a memorial concert from one of his finest works, the suite, "From Foreign Parts" (not an exactly accurate translation of "Ass Al-bergo") in honor of the German and Hungarian movements were played.

Raymond Koch, the soloist gave a most interesting performance from "Paggiacci" and "Dio Possente" with the aria "Die Possente" from Faust.

CLARITY IN THE KAROLYI FRAUD

By JOHN LASSSEN (Editor, UJ Elter) It should be of interest to the American workers to find out some of the details about the role played by Count Michael Karolyi during his presidency in Hungary.

The first Hungarian republican government differed in no way from the Ebert-Scheidemann-Noske government. It contained social-democrats, liberals of the old middle class school, and even some of the old bourgeois democratic government was playing, and the masses streamed to the Communists. No one believed any longer that either Karolyi or the social democrats represented the working masses and the peasantry.

It became clear that this was out of the question, that this government was being utilized by the capitalists, and that the working class could depend only on itself. The employing class used the Karolyi government to suppress the labor masses, while the workers, suppression of newspapers, the shedding of innocent blood of workers, Karolyi and "Karolyism" that either Karolyi or the social democrats represented the working class to capitalism.

A spontaneous movement of discontented miners arose in Salgotarjan. This movement which was led by the miners, led to the arrest of the coal mine bosses there, was quenched in the blood of the miners by Peyer, on the order of the Karolyi government. Peyer came with machine guns into the city, and fired at the innocent miners.

The Karolyi government—like all capitalist governments—wanted to get rid of the Communist Party in order to get information on the activities of the Communist Party. The Karolyi government wanted to get rid of the Communist Party in order to get information on the activities of the Communist Party.

Under the Karolyi government the single Communist newspaper, Vörös Ujvilág, could appear only illegally, even though the government had tried with the greatest craftiness to make it impossible.

But the Karolyi reaction reached its peak when the newspaper took by storm the editorial office of the treacherous Hungarian Social Democratic newspaper, Népszava. The demonstrators were met by the police on both sides, and as the battle lasted into the night the civilian guards and police shot at each other in the park, and some of them fell in that way.

The next day the leaders of the Communists were arrested. Bela Kun was beaten and tortured by the other Communists were brutally mistreated. The whole

It is no exaggeration to say that there has never appeared in this country such an important journal of information and theory—when you find articles by Gregor Zinovief, Wm. Z. Foster, I. Stalin, Earl R. Browder, Wm. F. Dunne, Alexander Bittelmann and other well known writers in THE WORKERS MONTHLY which has just come off the press.

Support the Work of International Red Aid!

Editor's Note.—One of the resolutions adopted by the recent tremendous Paris Commune demonstration in New York City urged support of the International Red Aid. It can be made the basis of similar declarations to be adopted elsewhere. It follows:

The imperialists of the world during the past seven years have carried on a campaign of the most vicious terror against the working class. The capitalist governments acting either as open dictators or so-called "democratic" states, have all alike resorted to the foulest measures against the working class. In the fascist-ridden states of Mussolini, Horthy and de Rivera, in the imperialist vassal states of Roumania, Finland, and Greece, in the United States, hundreds of thousands of workers and peasants have been the victims of the murderous white terror. In Germany at this time, 150,000 workers are languishing in prison. In India, 25,000 revolutionaries are imprisoned. In China, Korea and other suppressed colonial countries, the workers are being persecuted and have been thrown in the foulest of dungeons. And obtaining its climax, 1,000 workers of Estonia and the Baltic states have been subjected to torture, the like of which can be found only in the annals of the Inquisition. The so-called democratic countries of England, France

SICK CHILDREN 14 AND 15, WORK FOR LIFE

(Special to The Daily Worker) NEW YORK, April 1.—A study made by the health of working children issued by the New York State Industrial Commission points out that nearly half of the working children between the ages of 14 and 15 were found to have physical defects which were aggravated by the work they were doing.

The study included 412 working boys and girls under 16 years of age in New York City, and was conducted at the city's continuation schools. The children's own testimony, however, cause money was needed at home, says the statement.

"The desire which many of these children had to work is emphasized by the fact that in addition to working every day almost one-fourth of the children attended night school between the ages of 14 and 15, and only 3 per cent of the children received less than $10. Half of the children worked forty-four hours, two-thirds worked more than forty hours, and more than forty-eight hours. Boys had the active, girls the sedentary job. One-third of the boys were on their feet the entire working day, one-fourth of the girls at the whole of their working day. One-fourth of the children were provided with wholly inadequate clothing, and one-third of the children had dental defects, one-eighth had enlarged tonsils, 5 per cent of the girls had thyroid enlargement, and 4 per cent had enlarged hearts and lungs. Tuberculosis was found in 1 per cent, with lung abnormality in 3 per cent.

Half of the children with a 3-foot condition had to be on their feet the greater part of their working day; one-quarter of the children with 6-foot conditions had to be on their feet more than one-half of the working day; one-half of the children with heart affections worked under an excessive nerve strain."

O. K. Van Swearingen Marguerite Richmond, Va., April 1.—The mayor of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway into the New York Fair. The plan promoted by the Van Swearingen brothers at Cleveland, apparently has been approved. It was announced here today after an all-night coast of the city council.

Formal announcement of a resolution being held up because of uncertainty as to whether a two-thirds of the vote was necessary to carry the measure. The outstanding three are necessary to approve the merger.

English Talks Dead ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 1.—The money of tyranny, imperialism, Special corruption and graft against the Federal Judge, George W. English, has been exposed. Judge English testified in his own behalf, and declared he disbarred Charles A. Karch, court lawyer, because Karch "sat in stony silence" during a hearing on a hearing evidence on which he based a plea for impeachment of English, who is still busy conducting a bankruptcy ring.

Wheeler Charged Boston, Mass., April 1.—How was used by government agents in Washington to debauch witnesses called before the grand jury which indicted him. Senator Wheeler charged. He will go on trial April 16 on an indictment alleging that he represented a client before a federal bureau after he was elected senator.

Towards World Trade Union Unity

The question of unity of the working class organizations against the powerful attacks of European and American capitalism has become of pressing importance. It is more than important: it is fateful for the future of our movement and the movement of the organized workers of the world.

In the last few months the prospect of securing that unity has definitely come nearer. But unity will not be achieved unless the representatives of the trade unions (head offices, districts and branches) and the mass of the workers themselves are fully aware of the urgency of the question and the need of giving it our strongest backing. In this country one of our great difficulties in the past... has been... lack of the necessary news of what was going on in each separate country... The so-called social press in continental countries cannot be relied upon at the present time (as I know from my personal experience all the time we were in Russia and also in Amsterdam) to give an unbiased presentation of facts.

The above are extracts from the preface written by A. A. Purcell, president of the International Federation of Trade Unions, to the first issue of the special supplement, devoted to international trade union unity, to the Monthly Circular of the labor research department of the British Trades Union Congress.

The publication of this bulletin has been made necessary by the sabotage of the unity drive by the right wing of Amsterdam and by the Second International.

Purcell sets forth in some detail the betrayal of unity by the Amsterdamians and considering the habitually restrained expressions of our British brothers, his statements are doubly damning. He says:

"... the conduct of official representatives of the other trade union movements (with certain, laudable exceptions) has been one of extreme hostility to proposals emanating from the General Council of our Trade Union Congress and that this hostility has led them into acts of trickery—it is best to speak plainly—towards our own trade union movement cannot be doubted. To see this it is only necessary to read some of the statements they made succeeding our I. F. T. U. meeting at Amsterdam this month. Both Oudegeest and Jouxhaux (not to speak of Vorwarts) have made it plain that they regard the so-called 'compromise' motion carried there as a smart piece of work that defeats our nine months' endeavor to attain international unity through the medium of an 'immediate unconditional conference.'"

Last week we said that the report of the British trade union delegates to Soviet Russia marked the beginning of the sweep of the influence of the Russian revolution into the Anglo-Saxon countries—countries where for certain reasons its effect has been less marked than on the European continent and the Far East. The drive for unity of the world trade union movement started by the Red International of Labor Unions has been greatly strengthened by the official report of the British delegation. It has blown away the fog of lies and half-truths with which the social-democracy and the capitalists had concealed the great events taking place in Russia. The publication of the report is coincident with the launching of an intensive campaign for unity by the British trade unions marked by the establishment of a press devoted solely to the end of exposing the Amsterdam and socialist traitors.

In addition to the special supplement to the Monthly Circular of the labor research department the British labor movement is now publishing Trade Union Unity—whose name declares its purpose—and an editorial board composed of A. A. Purcell, Edo Fimmen and George Hicks.

Things are moving in the labor movement of the world. The agents of world capitalism are on the defensive.

The task of the Workers (Communist) Party and Trade Union Educational League is to bring the best elements of the American labor movement into step with the world swing to unity. We begin tomorrow the publication in serial form of the special supplement No. 10 International Trade Union Unity from which we have quoted. Now on we shall devote much space to extracts from all publications favorable to world trade union unity. In addition we will publish quotations from the report of the British trade union delegation and endeavor to give the American workers a clear impression of the immense importance of the relations established between the All-Russian and British trade unions—the most important international event since the signing of the Russian-Chinese treaty.
