John D. Jr. Presents to the World the "Model Father" of Capitalism

By J. LOUIS ENDGAHL

TODAY, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who competes with Edsel Ford as heir to the greatest pile of riches in the world, relieves himself of another paternalistic sermon to the effect that John D. Rockefeller, Sr., is a "model father."

John D. Jr. has kept up the christian end, while John D. Sr. has kept up the killing end of the Rockefeller business. "Jr." may be good, but "Sr." was the go-getter, and still is.

John D. Jr. says, "I cannot remember hearing my father say a harsh word to any of his children." Why should he? If any were to be spoken he could no doubt hire nurses and governesses to do that.

John D. Jr. adds, "I cannot remember him ever criticizing us. But the working class has heard. Whenever it has sought to better its conditions, on the job, or in legislative halls, three Rockefeller money has been on hand to wield its anti-labor whip.

But the children of this generation, in the pulsating working class sections of the nation and the world, are discerning different values. Not in the language of the High-Church, but in the language of the Western Worker.

The Struggle in Bulgaria. The capitalist press dispatches from Bulgaria have lost their exultant tone.

Three labor members of the British house of commons, who were in Sofia at the time of the bomb explosion, have made a vigorous protest against the support of the Zankov government.

When reformists like these British members of parliament protest war on revolutionists led by Communists, it is evidence that the imperialists are overplaying their hand.

From the Balkan corridor the European revolution may come; even the capitalist press admits it and the rulers seem now to be confronted with the choice of either precipitating great mass outbreaks by continued support of Zankov or of allowing Bulgaria to set up a workers' and peasants' government that will be the nucleus of a Balkan federation hostile to European capitalism and friendly to Soviet Russia.

The Dawes Plan at Home. The dilemma of the capitalists of the allied countries which "won the war," in collecting reparations in goods from Germany by extracting the last drop of blood from German workers under the Dawes plan, without at the same time ruining their own markets and putting their own productive machinery into cold storage, is beginning to have a definite effect upon the lives of American workers.

The president of the Bethlehem Steel company, Eugene G. Grace, in the company's bulletin addresses a message to the steel workers, telling them how the inflow of goods produced by cheap labor in foreign lands makes it necessary for American business, and of course—American labor, to "use every method to keep down the cost of production."

"There is no doubt but that economy thru the elimination of waste is becoming increasingly important. We must obtain the same refinement in the use of time and materials as we have in the use of machines. To meet the inflow of lower-priced goods from overseas and the keen competition which is developing at home, American business will be obliged to use every method at its disposal to keep down the cost of production."

Mr. Grace in his message goes on to say how peculiarly fortunate it is, that in this struggle between great combines of capital, each trying to cut costs lower than the Dawes slave plan can, the Bethlehem Steel corporation can count upon the "economy and co-operation obtained as a result of the company's plan which gives the employees, thru their committee, representation in the operation of plants."

The Communists have always pointed out that such company unions are for the benefit of the company, and are conflicting to the interests of the workers. Some of the trade union officials pretend to oppose the company unions, but their devotion to class collaboration will either force them to surrender to the company union or to turn the existing unions into organizations for class collaboration undistinguishable from company unions.

Pressure from both classes is increasing swiftly with the contradictions involved in international capitalism, and the labor bureaucracy is therefore seen to be busily engaged in making company unions out of what the rank and file looks to as organs of struggle.

Communist Campaign in Minneapolis

Dan Stevens, Communist, for years one of the most active union men in the Twin Cities, at one time or another having held every responsible post within the ranks of the labor movement and now president of Painters' Union 156, is a candidate for mayor of Minneapolis.

He is running on the Communist platform after the efforts of the local party organization to form a united front with the reformists on immediate demands had been sabotaged by the reactionary labor element which, in the last year and a half, has become one of the most out and out boss-ridden groups in the American labor movement.

Minneapolis is an important industrial center and the Communist candidate will have the opportunity of putting the party program before thousands of workers.

The Communists have already won a large following in Minneapolis and St. Paul by their work in the trade unions where they and they alone have kept the reactionaries from disrupting it and turning the fragments over to the employers' association.

The issues in the Minneapolis election are clear-cut. It is a question of the workers' candidate against the capitalists and their tools in and out of the unions. The campaign will be carried on in the factories, the unions and on the streets and will result in great gains for the Communist Party in Minneapolis—the largest city between Chicago and the Pacific coast.

The Barbers' Agreement

The officialdom of the local barbers' union is trying to force an arbitration agreement on the membership. If the committee of the union and the master barbers cannot agree a third party is to be called in.

The rank and file barbers should remember the deal handed out by State's Attorney Crowe to the coal teamsters and helpers when he was the third man in an agreement of this kind last winter. The teamsters demanded a raise of $1.25 and the abolition of the provision that forced them to unload the coal and carry it wherever the purchaser wanted it, in addition to driving their wagons and trucks. Crowe gave them a sixty cent raise and told them to go to hell with the rest of their demands. His word was final.

The real issue for the barbers is a shorter work day. The proposed agreement gives a nominal raise of $4 per week, but it is no raise at all because most of the barbers are already getting the scale called for in the new agreement. Nothing is said about shorter hours.

International President Shaughnessy and Secretary-Treasurer Fischer are in Chicago, supposedly to take up the union insurance plan, but in reality to help the local officials put over the fake agreement.

The machine element has been making threats of violence against the progressives as part of the plan to prevent any opposition developing at the meeting to be held in Ashland Auditorium Sunday, where Shaughnessy and Fischer will speak.

Whatever is worth having is worth fighting for and the progressives should put their program before Sunday's meeting at all costs. They may be defeated, but they will have shown the membership the difference between a militant program and one of surrender to the bosses.

The Russian Delegation's Record

When the British capitalist press insinuated that the Russian trade union delegation was not working class in makeup the London Daily Herald made a reply that will become historic. Never has the British trade union movement entered into negotiations with a delegation whose record of working class origin, struggle, suffering and sacrifice, compares with that of the Russian delegation.

Not one of the Russian union delegates but began work at an early age, not one of them but spent many years of their lives in the prisons of the czar, for revolutionary activity, not one of them but has been in the labor and revolutionary movement all their lives.

None of them has ever accepted a $150,000 bribe from a biscuit manufacturer, none of them has ever convined at the bombing of Hindu peasants and workers, none of them has ever attended a royal function or been dined by the nobility, but all of them bear the scars of the battles of their class in which they have taken a leading part.

It was because they were workers and not fakery that the British capitalist press attacked them. British labor has answered and more than one British labor faker with middle-class leanings has been forced to blush.

The Los Angeles Elections

The Communists in Los Angeles, a city of a million population, the largest on the Pacific coast and the stronghold of California reaction, like their comrades in Minneapolis, have entered the municipal campaign in earnest.

The news from there is of big meetings, organization, and demands by the unemployed on the city government, an intensive campaign in the unions, agitation against the open shop.

Our party also has a candidate in the school elections and has issued a splendid statement on education.

These activities indicate a steady and healthy party growth and grasp of the issues on which the masses can be reached.

The Los Angeles Times, prize labor-hating sheet, will now have something more to worry about.

Communists Active in Los Angeles Election

RANK AND FILE MUST SUPPORT PARTY OF LABOR

Communist Statement to Trade Unionists Says

(Special to The Daily Worker.) LOS ANGELES, April 24.—The election statement of the Workers (Communist) Party of Los Angeles to the members of organized labor.

Once again the members of the trade union movement are called upon by the labor leaders of this city to support candidates for political office.

It is well known that the political policy of "rewarding your so-called friends and enemies no matter what" is a policy of attaching the labor movement to the kite of capitalist politicians who are primarily the representatives of the employing class.

Horn and Croyer in Deal. The Central Labor Council dominated by the Horn-Bussell campaign, Horn being secretary and Bussell president of the Central Labor Council, have arranged for a merger or re-election. It must be remembered that Croyer appointed Horn to the Civil Service Commission, Horn owes Croyer a political favor.

John Horn and his satellites made an alliance with the police who raided a business meeting of the Trade Union Educational League, an organization whose purpose is to strengthen and unite the labor movement. They arrested and confiscated all papers, letters and documents, copies of which were turned over to Horn.

The rank and file have nothing to gain by supporting Mayor Croyer or any other representatives of the employing class. The rank and file should support Leighton Injunction Judge.

Not all of the officials are supporting Croyer. Some officials and particularly E. E. Lampton, secretary of the District Council of Carpenters have endorsed Judge Bledsoe who is a confirmed reactionary. Open-shop-injunction Judge Bledsoe is well known to the workers as an avowed enemy of labor. Any official that will support Bledsoe has more gall than good judgment.

The present trade union political leaders are consistent in one thing and that is their treachery to the rank and file. They betray the workers on the economic field during strikes in exchange of progressive members from the trade unions and by fighting the amalgamation of craft unions into industrial unions.

On the political field they go likewise by supporting the fifty-seven varieties of capitalist politicians.

Voted For Capital Party. It is a well known fact that in the last municipal election, held two years ago, the rank and file of organized labor voted to establish a labor party. The result of the election was held in the Labor Temple. In spite of the fact that the trade union officials, at a joint executive board meeting, which was called to support the agreed to abide by the decision of the convention, they knifed the labor party right after it was formed.

The present trade union candidates who were supported by the Los Angeles Times.

Only Party of Labor. It is the duty of the rank and file of organized labor to support the only party of labor, the Workers (Communist) Party and the candidates running in the present municipal election who are endorsed by the Workers (Communist) Party.

The following candidates are endorsed by the Workers (Communist) Party: For board of education, Edmond W. Ford; for city council, 15th district, member Harris, (San Pedro Harbor), member of Machinist Lodge No. 311.

Education for service, not for profit! Let the teachers run the schools! Program of Emanuel Levin, working class candidate for member of board of education in the May municipal elections, 1925, endorsed by the Workers (Communist) Party.

Since the existing school system is one of the institutions used to perpetuate the capitalist system, it is the working class demand that: Our school system be changed to train and fit child into an occupation as a citizen in a society based upon production for use and not for profit; in a society in which the means of production and distribution and natural resources are in the hands of the workers and farmers.

The working class has no voice or influence in school improvements or policies of our school system. The existing educational system antagonizes the school children against our interests and against the workers and farmers.

Communists Fight for the Schools

(Continued from page 1.) unions of teachers be permitted, that students and teacher committees be given control of the schools, that military training be abolished, and race segregation wiped out.

Open air meetings are being held, and thousands of leaflets have been distributed. The Communist program, endorsed by Levin, follows:

Education for service—Not for profit! Let the teachers run the schools! Program of Emanuel Levin, working class candidate for member of board of education in the May municipal elections, 1925, endorsed by the Workers (Communist) Party.

Since the existing school system is one of the institutions used to perpetuate the capitalist system, it is the working class demand that: Our school system be changed to train and fit child into an occupation as a citizen in a society based upon production for use and not for profit; in a society in which the means of production and distribution and natural resources are in the hands of the workers and farmers.

The working class has no voice or influence in school improvements or policies of our school system. The existing educational system antagonizes the school children against our interests and against the workers and farmers.

The text books used, the military training and so called "Patriotic Services" are no more than means for the indoctrination of youth for the interest of the capitalists as against the interests of the working class. This was seen in the world war and during the present war.

The teachers are deprived of their rights to express their views on social and political problems out of fear of losing their positions. The working class districts are the last in which school improvements are made or new school buildings erected, while the wealthy residential sections are given first consideration.

The purchase of school equipment for building construction are controlled by those who are financially interested in the contracts either directly or indirectly.

65,000 Jobs in Los Angeles

(Continued from page 1.) which the bankers pay to the city 2 per cent interest on the money loaned, other hand, reloan this tremendous sum to private individuals at 7 per cent interest in this manner deriving a tremendous profit on city funds for their private gains.

Brother Murphy suggested that this immense sum be withdrawn from the banks and used for public improvements, thus relieving the unemployment situation. To this suggestion Mr. Muesel, chairman of the finance committee of the city council, replied that this money cannot be used, as that fund was secured thru city bonds, that the city council has no funds for the relief of the unemployed.

Sidney Bush, another member of the committee, representing the workers Party told the gentlemen the representatives of capitalism of Los Angeles, that the problem of unemployment must not be considered a temporary condition. Unemployment is the result of capitalist exploitation of the working class, the wages system. As long as we will remain in the hands of the capitalist employment. This fact the committee representing the city council must realize. The unemployed are those very workers who have helped to produce and create all wealth. And because they produced much and received little for their labor is the cause why these workers are now in distress. Therefore, the unemployed demand that the city provide them with work at union scale of wages, under union conditions. The workers want no charity, they are able bodied men and women and want work.

Mr. Muesel, the spokesman for the endorsed by the Workers (Communist) Party: For board of education, Edmond W. Ford; for city council, 15th district, member Harris, (San Pedro Harbor), member of Machinist Lodge No. 311.

Education for service, not for profit! Let the teachers run the schools! Program of Emanuel Levin, working class candidate for member of board of education in the May municipal elections, 1925, endorsed by the Workers (Communist) Party.

COMMUNISTS WANT TO OPEN SHOP IN LOS ANGELES

Non-Union Wages Paid in San Pedro Harbor

(Special to The Daily Worker.) LOS ANGELES, April 24.—The open shop must go! This is the opening slogan on the program of Comrade Ed. Harris, the Workers (Communist) Party candidate for mayor in the election campaign in progress at San Pedro.

The Harbor district of Los Angeles—San Pedro—is beginning once again to open shop. When the petty bourgeois elements of the harbor themselves that at least these petty Com-munists have been stamped out. In an open shop, up they come, fresher than ever.

Open Shop Holds Sway. We are hard at work, holding open air meetings, distributing literature, and taking every possible advantage of the present situation to our advantage, to reach the workers of this city with the message of Communism.

Since the strike on the waterfront two years ago, the longshore organizations have been losing ground. The I. W. O. has dwindled in membership and is but a skeleton of its former self.

The I. W. O. is non-existent as an organized force and the open shop holds sway. The petty bourgeois elements of the harbor have a semblance of union conditions, particularly in the building trades and among the culinary workers, but amongst the longshore workers, the state of disorganization at the vital point, on the waterfront.

The scale of wages paid to mechanics and other employees is lower than the union rate, yet this is tolerated we suppose under the argument of not putting too heavy a burden on the taxpayers. The oil companies and the shippers are in the same category, less wages and non-recognition of the unions.

It is significant that the Debony of Teapot Dome renown is having his palatial steam yacht "The Castana" overhauled by the Los Angeles Ship-repairing yards. This is one of the cheapest, lowest paying, labor-hating outfits on the Pacific Coast.

These few facts go to show that we feel that the present situation in Los Angeles is in good condition for getting in our hooks before we are many moons older, hence our slogan "The open shop must go."

Negro Workers Are Drawn Into Campaign of the Communists

(Special to The Daily Worker.) LOS ANGELES, April 24.—The Workers Party in Los Angeles is swinging into action in the municipal election campaign for May 15, by every available means is being used to get the message of the Communist program over to the workers and to bring about a big political movement in this city. Street meetings are being held Tuesday and Saturday nights at Brooklyn and 50th to get behind the Communist program and program of the Workers Party for the betterment of education, in the person of Emmanuel Levin, city organizer of the party.

Last Saturday night an enthusiastic group of about 200 Negro workers met at this corner, where Comrade Levin told the assembled crowd of the fight that the Communists are waging to organize the exploited workers against the capitalist rule.

The Young Workers' League is actively supporting the campaign with speakers of their own and with Communist workers. A big political campaign is being conducted in the working class confronting the working class.

Tuesday night, April 21, another street meeting was held at First and Commercial streets. The speakers were Gorman and Bush, and this meeting was marked by the presence of a delegated body from a Negro workers' organization. In a big meeting on this corner, where Comrade Levin told the assembled crowd of the fight that the Communists are waging to organize the exploited workers against the capitalist rule.

The party is holding open air meetings at Fourth and Beacon streets, at 4th and 5th, April 23 and 24. These meetings are held in San Pedro, where the Workers Party candidate for District 15 is running. This is a vital political meeting to combat the influence of the Ku Kluxers there, the party is making every effort to reach the workers of San Pedro Harbor.

Saturday night, the Young Workers' League held a street meeting at Fourth and Beacon, San Pedro Harbor, with their own speakers covering a vital political campaign to combat the influence of the Ku Kluxers there, the party is making every effort to reach the workers of San Pedro Harbor.
