

"Those fellows going to work—are they scabs?"
"No, they're union maintenance men. They have to take care of the boss' property while we strike."

In the Anthracite
—By Robert Minor

The DAILY WORKER
Jan. 23, 1926